As the climax of a student body rally on the night before the Wesleyan game, Delta Kappa Epsilon was presented the Fraternity Cup, symbol of the scholastic leadership of the Fraternity group of the Trinity campus.

The meeting started off with a series of talks by outstanding figures on the campus, popping the stuf...
STRENGTHENING THE BONDS

We have been watching or competing in Trinity-Wesleyan athletic contests now for four years and the conviction has been steadily growing in us that it was about time that we said something about this rivalry.

It is our feeling and we believe it is the sentiment of all Trinity athletic teams that in year after year there are not so many better opponents on our schedule than the “Men from Middletown. The history of the athletic relations bear us out in our contention.

For sixty-seven years the teams of the two colleges have been fighting it out in a total of ten different sports. Trinity-Wesleyan contests can be had for the taking by any who are brave enough to be or over-exuberant spirits on either side did not every now and then cause unfortunate incidents to take place.

Until the past two institutions have been broken off, twice, but both breaks were speedily patched up. Since 1925 relations have grown steadily better. In fact, they seemed to us to reach a peak last Saturday. No Trinity team has ever been so hard to lose and especially to Wesleyan, but if it has to lose it is easier to bow to an opponent whose qualities of sportsmanship are unquestionable.

It is easier for the spectators, too, the loveliness and sting of defeat do not seem so bad the rebounding in a game like the one last Saturday is the easiest way to get back into the game.

We have never seen two teams that have more heart than Trinity and Wesleyan.

It was, therefore, a pleasure for Trinity supporters to sit in on the game Saturday afternoon. Booming and jeering were noticeably absent and every fan was applauding the players, regardless of his school allegiance.

We would like to see more people at future games at the Trinity College field, but Trinity adheres were genuinely sorry when Holzer was forced to retire from action.

As we plodded out after the final whistle we understood how much it cost Trinity to have its most popular player, Dr. Alex Vrczisszc., leave the field.

His absence hurt the team so much that they were forced to adjust their tactics to overcome the loss.

Some of the more successful teams have been able to overcome the loss of key players, but Trinity was not one of them.

Helen Holzer and Rihl, with the latter taking the final three downs, rushed four more first downs in the first half, letting the Cardinals with down to the 10-yard line. Between Holzer and Rihl, the Trinity defense was found wanting and with two first downs, the Cardinals had registered the only score of the game. "Hutch" Bottiger, injured center, came into the game for a single play and made a perfect placement to make the score 7-0.

AmeriHer Preview

Scored two touchdowns in the Amer-er-Massachusetts State game, as right halfback. Trinity will probably miss Steve Trues, whose gridiron career for the Blue and Gold is terminated by the result of the broken ankle he suffered in the Connecticut State game. His place as fullback has been taken by Ron Garver, who is said to be healthy and ready to play in the right fullback slot.

Coach Dan Jessup expects to use the same starting lineup for the Hilltoppers as in the previous meeting with Wesleyan. This lineup consists of Bill

E. Kinsey, '15, as Junter Fellow was last year at Commencement time, the class of 1912, returning for their twenty-fifth reunion, presented, on the Friday afternoon following Commencement, "The School of Experience" to the Junter Fellows. The id experience, however, in the event to the class, returning to the college after twenty-five years, should report with the same enthusiasm about the world as they had found it. Under the leadership of T. F. Flanagan, '89, the Cardinals carried out the plan for what his class may be able to do next. Joining Flanagan in this effort was the president of an office at their present Flanagan, '12, of considerable moment as:

Mr. Greenleer representing the fac-

WES BOOTERS OVERCOME TRIN IN ANNUAL TILT

Good Wesleyan Team Give Fine Exhibition to Gain Revenge for Last Season's Defeat

The Trinity soccer team was treated to a 7-0 whitewash by its traditional rival, Wesleyan, last Friday at Middletown. The weather was ideal for soccer and the field dry enough for Wesleyan to give one of the best exhibitions of soccer playing seen in these parts for several years.

The Cardinals, seeking revenge for defeat which Trinity handed them last year, outplayed the Blue and Gold in every quarter, scoring two goals in each of the first three quarters and one in the last. The winners were able to put a team on the field which was composed almost entirely of veterans of the game. Few flaws could be found in either their offense or defense. Ferguson at fullback and Schmid at center forward played sterling ball for Trinity. The entire Wesleyan team played a good game, but Walsh at center halfback, Dowds at outside right, Reynolds playing inside right, and Hammarstrom at center stood out.

AYDELOTTE INTERVIEW

He said that he had found it "an extremely pleasant and delightful experience to meet the professors and the students here," and that, being raised in New England, "there is a satisfaction at being back." He spoke of the architecture of Jarvis, Northam Towers, and Seabury and said that it recalled parts of Potter-house, his college in Cambridge, Peterhouse is the oldest college in Cambridge, having been founded in 1284. But none of the 13th Century buildings are left. Actually one-third of the buildings at Peterhouse and a large number of the other structures at Cambridge and Oxford were built in the 19th Century, at the same time that many of our American colleges were going up. He said that he much preferred the architecture of our old buildings to the 20th Century dormitories. "The rooms are much more spacious and much more dignified. They had a conception in those days of what constituted a comfortable way of living." We trust that Professor Aydelotte will also find, here at Trinity, other qualities for which the older colleges are equally famous.
