Week-End Events To Include Carol Sing Sunday In Chem Auditorium

NEVO IDEA TO NEW TRINI

President Ogilby has just secured for the College Chapel a single page of the 1531 Christmas Carols. Only two other pages have ever been printed with movable type, and from twenty to thirty copies have been sold in several of the fraternity houses.

Next weekend will be a kind of semi-formal occasion. As Bob Rainford, first book printed (circa 1455) but the best book printed. The perfection of his letter-press is the despair of modern printers.

The page obtained by President Ogilby has been beautifully reproduced with an introduction by Dr. Newton Sunday night the college will have its annual Christmas Carol Sing in the Chemistry Auditorium. Upon the suggestion and guidance of Bob Rainford, students, faculty, members, and their friends and families who will be in town will be invited to attend, with the idea of having an informal party at which everyone can get into the holiday spirit by singing the traditional Christmas Carols.

TRINITY MERRMEN OPEN CAMPAIGN AGAINST B.U.

Meet Considered a Toss-Up With Clarkson, Weaker than Last Year's Team

The Trinity College Swimming team, weakened tremendously by graduations of Janie and against Boston University this Saturday in the Trowbridge Memorial Pool, is expected to be at virtually the same strength as last year's team, whereas Trinity is considerably weaker.

On December 29, the year the Clarkmen unloaded the Boston subway and the coming engagement is not expected to be a display of the most first class swimming. In this event Trinity is not particularly fortified but there is a good chance that we will have the full column if the majority of places and show positions go in favor of the Blue and Gold.

Boston's only big loss came when Pallidino was graduated, and almost certainly the probability the most well known swimmer on the Trinity team, with a record of 1:41.6 for the 200-yard freestyle.

Ed Conway, who seems to be acquiring a smoother technique as the season goes on, will handle the 150-yard race and will be a formidable foe for Massachusetts. Conway has since moved up into the varsity team and has been captain of the medley relay.

Heavy Week Ahead for Oosting Forces; Ray Ferguson

With the scalp of Arnold College and revenge for last year's setback tucked neatly under their belts last Friday evening the opener, Cool Ray Oosting's charges resume battle this week. There are five days, the Blue and Gold baskeret talks three opponents: Encyclopedia College of Maine, Thorncroft, and Colby College of Maine, in some years. Records show that the first book ever printed with movable type. President Ogilby recently that he would be interested in buying the entire series of this famous work are, of course, rare, and are extremely valuable. A number of years ago an incomplete copy of the Gutenberg Bible was found and was divided up so that various individuals and institutions might have the privilege of ownership at least a page.

The transition between copying books from MS and typing the text on a Linotype machine has been a long time coming. Mr. Willis is a master of the art and he has been doing it since the days of the first Linotype machine.

This is largely because the student body has not been aware of its greatest efforts, and also is it, to a much smaller degree, because of a wrong attitude on the part of the editorial board of the magazine itself. The writers of Trinity College are over­shooting themselves. Pompous odes and elegies, essays long, involved and full of affectation. From a sense of Literary values all out of proportion they are aiming high at Wordsworth and Huxley, and falling flat on their faces.

If this magazine will collapse, as the others at Trinity have, unless we all get together to make The Review the live magazine that all of us want it to be. First, the stu­dent contributors must give up the idea that simply because they are in college they are all little Emersons in the making. They must stop talk­ ing themselves seriously. They must write what they feel like writing, not what they believe they ought to feel like writing. And above all they should understand that an interesting story, carefully and simply told, is vastly superior to the pseudo-literary slop they have been turning out by the bucketful. After this comes the one task, one of changing that ancient and conservative way of thinking for which most of The Review Board is responsible.

BASKETBALL PREVIEW

(Continued from page 1.) How strong are the odds that Trinity will be a factor in the 1940-41 season? The answer to this question can be readily obtained. The past two years Trinity has been one of the teams in the league, and in each of these seasons Trinity has won the conference championship. In the 1938-39 season the team took first place in the conference with a record of 15-3. In the 1939-40 season Trinity finished second, with a record of 12-6. This year Trinity has a team that is expected to be one of the strongest in the league. The team is composed of returning players, and it is expected to be able to compete with the best teams in the country.

OFFICE NEWS

On Thursday, December 7, Presi­dent Ogilvy, Dr. Jaquith, Professor Altmaier, and students of the annual meeting of the Trinity Associated Press. There was a large attendance of grad­uates. Professor Humphrey was to be the keynote speaker, but as a member of the Associated Press, she was unable to attend due to illness, Professor Altmaier took his place. The students of the Associated Press, the College, and the Mr. Wadley, chairman of the Associated Press, made the arrangements for the meeting last June and of recent football games. Erwin Rankin, ’39, general manager of the New York Association. F. T. Tannall, ’22, was elected to succeed Mr. Wadley as President for the commis­sion.

John Henry King Burgwin, ’87, died in Pittsburgh on Monday, December 4, at the age of 66. Mr. Burgwin was one of the three remaining lettermen, goes into action for some important occasion, and stands the game in the case of a serious injury. His death is a blow to the people of Trinity. He was a great athlete, and his presence will be missed in the future.

ALL-STATE HONORS

Trinity’s basketball team was each, closely pursued by New Britian of the Connecticut League. In the final game of the season, Trinity lost by a score of 22-20, but the team still finished in second place in the league. The team was led by seniors Bill Ryan and Gene Smith, who were named to the All-State team.

POETRY

The speaker at the Morning Chapel was Professor Holcus, who will be Professor John Holmes of the Department of English. He spoke on the theme "The New Poetics of Poetry." Dr. Holcus has chosen as his subject "Poetry."

Hartford, December 8—Averaging not quite the form that was expected by College's powerful basketball team overman Arnold College of New Haven in the time of a one-sided 31-28 victory at the Hopkins Street gym tonight.

Trinity dominated the play throughout the game, although the Blue and Gold led by a 1-3 ratio at the half. Arnold showed some fine passing in the first period, failing only in their attempts to score after the opening tap-off with a Trinity pass. Crockett sent in their reserves to fail with a 7-2 score, while Barber and Carter starred for Arnold with 8 points each.

Morse College Five Trips Frosh Quintet

In a thrilling game that was in doubt until the final whistle, the Trinity freshman quintet dropped its opening game of the season to Morse College by the heart-breaking score of 34-33. Ned O’Malley, living up to pre-season expectations in spite of a bad cut over one eye, spearheaded the cub attack with 12 points, while Bruce of Morse led his teammates to victory with 18 points.

The game opened with Morse having the upper hand as the freshmen appeared somewhat nervous in their first college start. Morse started the scoring soon after the opening whistle, and ran the score to 5-0 before Puffer rung up the first basket for Trinity. By the end of the first period, Morse was on the long end of a 7-2 score and the cub outlook was not at all promising.

The second period started off in a more auspicious manner with Conway and Flynn scoring in rapid succession. However, Morse continued to hold the upper hand due to superior passing and shooting. At this stage of the game, O’Malley suddenly found the range and the King in rapid succession, scored three baskets on beautiful tosses. The remainder of the period continued without any further spectacular plays, and the half ended with Morse still in the lead by a 14-11 count.

In the third period continued on an even basis with Coach Erickson substituting Pec, Tracey, and De Kleijn on an in the half by a 14-11 count.

Play in the third period continued on an even basis with Coach Erickson substituting Pec, Tracey, and De Kleijn in an effort to find a better balanced combination. The cub offense in this period showed noticeable signs of improvement as O’Malley, Conway, and Tracey were held in check. Despite the fact that they had two free throws in the final seconds of play, the freshmen were unable to force overtime, and the game ended with Morse still in the lead by the very narrow margins of one point, 34-33.

The water basketball season got off to a start Saturday with the Sigma Nu’s beating the ATK’s in the opening game. The Common Club won by default from the Dokes, and the Psi U seals beat the Delta Phi’s who failed to field a team. And Puffer worked the ball in to register tally. However, the period ended with the Blue and Gold cubs still trailing by a 1-2 score.

The final period opened with Puffer counting on a foul, and the next minutes were all Trinity as Tullar, Conway and O’Malley scored in rapid order. With 2-3 minutes remaining, Trin, on a spectacular shot by O’Malley, came up to within one point of their opponents. However, in spite of the fact that they had two free throws in the final seconds of play, the freshmen were unable to force overtime, and the game ended with Morse still in the lead by the very narrow margins of one point, 34-33.

WEEK-END FUN

Beginning Friday night, the Beta Beta Chapter of Psi Upsilon will hold a house party which will include a formal dance on Saturday night to which a limited number of guests will be invited. To round out the week-end the swimming team will meet Boston University at its pool at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the varsity basketball team will journey to New Haven to challenge Yale Saturday night.

Tonight, tomorrow night, and Thursday night the Jesters are planning to have rehearsals at the West Middle School. Thursday night will be a dress affair and a number of school children from the city will be invited to attend. Except for the fact that George Ross has replaced George Butterworth in the part of Jed Perkins, the town constable, the cast will take the stage as previously announced. The "Pipes", consisting of Cleveland, Knapp, Dimling, and Sheen, will add several numbers to the program, and Mr. Weidell, who has rendered some valued assistance to the players as an informal adviser, will give his now famous presentation of "The Face on the Bar Room Floor," garbed in no one knows what kind of a unique costume.

The scenery for the production has been borrowed from the Little Theater in Hartford, but because of unforeseen circumstances there may be a few changes at the last minute. One of the stage managers estimated that he has recently spent a total of three hours working on the scenery and a total of three and a half hours to find the junior of the building so that he could work on the scenery. A tremendous amount of energy has been expended in the painting of a fireplace, but as yet two more of these bricks have still to be added. The Superior Council of the Jesters, meeting in secret session with the Enjoyment Committee, recently decided that in case of an emergency they would hire a bus to carry the score or more stage managers and the several accompanying stage bands out to the West Middle School so that they would be assured of having a stage with the scenery all in place.

JENNINGS' INTERVIEW

(Continued from page 1.) situation in Europe, Mr. Jennings, who witnessed much of the last war, and who has traveled extensively throughout Europe, gave some interesting comments.

Of Italy he said that he was almost sure that this country will not join Germany. He said that recently he had witnessed a reception by the Italians of German and English representatives at which the English received much the greater ovation. Then, too, he stated, the Italians do not want the Russians in the Balkans. Of Germany, Mr. Jennings thought there was a chance that the German High Command would turn on Hitler and join the Allies in a fight against Communism. He said that the high military officials in the Reich are still whole-heartedly behind the Fuehrer. He felt that there is a possibility that the Hellenohorum Family might assist Germany.
