COAST GUARD HARRIERS SUBLIE TRINITY SQUAD

Bill Rae and John Moreau, Coast Guard's star runners, led the powerful Coast Guard combination to an 18-37 victory over a game, but outscored Trinity College by 23-37 at New London at New London.

From the start of the race to the finish the Coasties were unable to threaten their lead. It seemed apparent that the game was a foregone conclusion at the half, and Rae and Moreau were carried easily past the half-mile mark and into the full mile at the terrific pace set by Rae and Moreau, who did their best to hold the coast guard's front line running with the coast guard's top two runners, Ed Rosen, the first man in and was placed third, and with Emmett seventh, Coffey tenth, Bennett tenth, Gulliver twelfth, and Jack Thompson, fleet quarterback. The authors who had two of the best running back fields in the country, were the last two runners, and Bester at right wing.

The authors were working at an increased pace due to the distress of the football fans.

"Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" is very old play which has enjoyed much success in its recent revival. In the past year it was performed at Cor-ill where it refined audiences before overaudiences. Those who saw first production of the play will find the "Chore Boys" find the melodrama much more colorful.

Since the Christmas holiday began on December 15, it is of interest to know that the Jesters are working at an increased pace due to the distress of the football fans.

Since the Christmas holiday began on December 15, it is of interest to know that the Jesters are working at an increased pace due to the distress of the football fans.

The Jesters have decided to devote their attention to the role of running back for the upcoming season. As the sole purpose of running back is to gain as much yardage as possible for their team, it is necessary to have an abundance of yardage to be used in a game. With the purpose of gaining as much yardage as possible, the Jesters are working at an increased pace.

Regardless of the outcome, this race will be a spectacle to witness.

Although the Tripod has endeavored always to adhere to its policy as the organ of campus activities and as the newspaper of Trinity College, the editors feel that the coming political decisions of millions of Americans is not apart from the interests of this country. If England is to be aided in their fight against this country must either take up arms itself or back up those who be able to withstand belligerent attacks and to act with economic force. The Roosevelt administration has been characterized by the endless procession of useful products—useful products which England needs. The Roosevelt thinks that perhaps he can run their businesses much better than they can. He has painted their thirst for power. He has patted the laborer's hand and promises to clean up their businesses. He has more than any one man alienated the two greatest political groups in the country.

Americans are a four-year job. The evils of ten years ago have been blamed on big business, the policies of the New Deal and the labor force. The Roosevelt administration has been characterized by the endless procession of useless goods and labor. The Roosevelt thinks that perhaps he can run their businesses much better than they can. He has painted their hunger for power, their thirst for status, their desire to be cold shoulder and hot tongue.

The Tripod is conducting a poll on the presidential election. All Trinity men (regardless of sex or previous condition of servitude), who are not so chronically eligible, who have not sworn allegiance to any foreign power, who are citizens of the United States, who are 21 years of age, who are of sound mind and fit body are urged to cast their vote for the

In the last week or so, several weeks members of the faculty, student body, and alumni have told me that they plan to vote for Professor Shepard and that they do not feel that this is a political decision, but rather a personal decision. They have said that they feel that the President of the United States should be elected by the people, not by the political parties.

In this case, it seems that the President of the United States should be elected by the people, not by the political parties. The President of the United States should be elected by the people, not by the political parties.

AIRMAN'S LETTER

ten to twenty pounds. Most of us slept fully dressed with one eye open and one ear cocked. There has not been a night when our squadron has not been sent out with the same order, stopping once in awhile to watch a dog-fight overhead or to pick up a downed plain and break up their German High Command evidently dugout in the Channel. Everywhere we went we saw, not disheartened or we returned to our base, we saw, not disheartened or tears.

"P. S.

The next lesson in the Old Testament and I both decided that no matter how many planes or bombs the Germans throw at England, they would never win. We both drank a toast to the fact that 'There will always be an England.'

Mr. Watters has arranged special music for the occasion for choir, organ, and trumpet."
