Mr. T. Anderson of Swarthmore Declares Nationalism Will Disappear After War

Monday, March 31—The basis for a durable peace was the topic of an ad­dress delivered by Mr. T. Anderson, Associate Professor of History at Swarthmore, on the Trinity Forum Program on WTTR at 10:15 p.m.

The mainstay of Mr. Anderson’s speech was anchored on the foundation of an international system. “A victory over Hitler will not go along by itself, but I believe a better world,” Mr. Anderson affirmed. Also whether it would be feasible or whether he is the visionary “historic national state system is at hand.”

The new international organization of which the speaker proposed has a quintessential element that is the builders of it. The former enrolls the idea of economizing in the system; call them a machinery sufficiently ideal in itself to be set effectively together in function. But it cannot take for granted that the old world calls forth need of the “floods of old.”

CHARLIE SPIVAK AND HIS ORCHESTRA TO PLAY
FOR SENIOR BALL AT HARTFORD IN MAY

Special to the Tripod, Sunday, March 30—Ted Foley, Chairman of the Senior Committee, announced early tonight that Charlie Spivak and his band have been signed to play for the Senior Ball on May 8.

Charlie’s trumpet forms a solid foundation on the well-knit fifteen-piece orchestra. A good friend of Glenn Miller, who persuaded him to start his own band, Charlie has played trumpet for all the top-notch orchestras. A year ago, having played with Miller, Goodman, the Dorsey’s, Crosby, Noble, and others, he organized his own band.

The group is a good band, lasted on only a few months. Charlie then went to Washington where he picked up a new bunch and was shortly signed by the Glenn Miller Navy Band. For Mike, his band, his arrangements are simple and well-composed.

Spivak is a good showman with the added attraction of having some show business music held together by an good trumpet; Bunny Shawker on the drums and Jim Middleton on the drums and Jim Middleton on the drums and Jim Middleton on the drums, and many others have been featured by Glenn Island when they were in Washington. Charlie has found themselves worthy. Charlie has been packing them in over the country.

AQUA TREMENS

A member of the Glee Club walked up to the punch bowl at the Connecticut College for Women not suspecting that the crystal-clear liquid was really water because of the size of the crowd grouped around the same. "Is this some sort of vodka punch?" he asked his companion.

"No, of course."

"Oh, I see, it's some sort of gin punch."

"No: it's water."

"Holy jeepers! Don't you know what water does to pipes?"

It put rings around bathtubs and rota wood. I might as well have eaten all of my supper."

NATURE VS. NURTURE

"Important environmental factors in the W.C." says Doctor Means. We conclude that when better men are built, the Acme Ceramic Co. Corporation will build them.
On Other Fronts

Cambridge, Mass., March 29—Not all Cambridge policemen are Harvard graduates and not all Harvard men have beards, but when, as is rumored, the Hasty Pudding show was hailed into court for indelent exposure by Sergeant Eli, the Harvard legal aid had to prove that the offenders were undergraduates. (Ed. Note: The Sergeant was near-sighted as well as a Yale man.)

Poughkeepsie, New York, March 27—It is said the Vassar Student Council has voted not to have its annual "Daisy Chain" which would do nothing to strengthen National Defense, even if held to end.

Boston, Mass., March 29— Wendell B. (for Benjamin) Berner, a sophomore at M. I. T., has invented a breed of one-way humming pigeons which will feed on Nazi grain. Shipments of all Cambridge policemen are Harvard

They are inedible so that any resemblance to the Dups is purely Nazi propaganda.
