Bornstein, O'Malley Face Team To Victory, While Warner Stars for Losers

The following article was pounded out by a new recruit, an opium addict. The Editors of the Tripod assume no responsibility for its contents.

Saturday, February 8—It may have been that the completely executed examination were too much for the burden of the band, but it was a better band. Bornstein was definitely not impressive in beating a woefully weak Haverford quintet. The game was piled high and sloppy ball-handling were the main reasons for the bad showing given by the Blue and Gold.

The game itself was close for the first four minutes, only Trinity shot into a 5-0 head on foul shots by O'Malley and a foul by Bornstein. Warner and Cass assumed the O'Malley role to keep the game close. The forward stocks to put Haverford ahead for the first and last time. Then the fans were to be well satisfied with the outcome of the game.

Jack Crockett suffered a dislocated elbow in the first and last time. Then the fans were to be well satisfied with the outcome of the game. Then the fans were to be well satisfied with the outcome of the game. Then the fans were to be well satisfied with the outcome of the game.

Crockett hurt and was replaced by Dick Tullar. With Crockett out, the fans were to be well satisfied with the outcome of the game. Then the fans were to be well satisfied with the outcome of the game. Then the fans were to be well satisfied with the outcome of the game.

GAME FROM HAVERFORD FIVE

Saturday, February 8—Trinity College's swimming team hung up its third victory of the season in as many starts when they subdued the Ben Bau College Polytechnic Institute, a 46-29 score this afternoon in the Tweelbridge Pool. Today's meet was the first home encounter for Joe Clarke's pupils, who celebrated by breaking two college records and by grabbing six of the nine possible first places.

Dave Tyler and the trio of Conway, Merhardt, and Earle shattered the standards for the 220-yard and 200-yard relay races. This latter combination opened up the meet by turning in a performance which eclipsed three-tenths of a second off the old record set by Sloan, Alumnum, and Campbell in 1938. Lynn Earle, who renounced the anchor leg for Chung of R. P. I., made up a deficit of three feet and hit the wall going away as the timers clacked the event in three minutes, fifteen seconds flat.

In the very next event, Dave Tyler slid through the water over the 220-yard course to a new varsity record of 23.5 seconds. The powerful Trinity Sophomore was never threatened once, and was, therefore, unable to come near the freshman mark which he chalked up last year. In the 100-yard freestyle Tyler gained another first in 44.2 seconds, followed by Orfutt of Trinity and Chung of R. P. I.

R. P. I. Takes Div 2

The Tebbs captured the two top honors in the relay as Noell of Trinity won with a showing good form, piled up 85.2 points to cop third. McFarland, the winner, with 104 points, outdistanced his competitors easily and gave an exhibition which left no doubt as to who was the most skilful performer in that event. Storer of R. P. I. was second with 92 points.

CHINESE PROFESSOR TO BE SPEAKER IN CHAPEL

From Tuesday, February 11, until Friday, February 14, Hartford will be the host of Dr. C. H. Hsiia, member of the University Club, to speak on the topic, "Lincoln's Influence on Chinese Thought." It is understood that he will dwell particularly on the administrative phase of Chinese thought, which seems to have been most affected by Lincoin.

Dr. Hsiia was President of the Med. Reclam Union, a Ph.D. from Edinburgh University and is the author of several books on government and legal subjects. He is a member of the legislature Yuan who is now serving as a delegate, and of about 100 men serving in an advisory manner for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. He has written articles on the subject of how to become the government or sort of congress after the Chinese-Japanese war.

Dr. Hsiia has spoken to American audiences, before having only speech at a benefit of the Library Club. While in Hartford he will speak at the Far East Glee, the Central Benevolent Society. The Tea Club, and the Hartford Public High School.

Sports Events and Shing Parties guided to festivities of New Event in Social Season

Under the forceful and businesslike direction of Frank Smith, "41, the Interfraternity Council in regard to the present war will sponsor a Mid-Winter Ball to be given at the Hartford Club on February 14th. The Interfraternity Council of the McFarland Twins presented a report of the War, this. However, it is not the only social diversion of the weekend; it is to what extent medical and surgical nurses are parties are planned at the seven fraternities and two of them during this time will take the place of the defunct Junior Prom which was planned for February 17th. The Interfraternity Council in regard to the present war has been invited to the evening at the Hills of Western Connecticut. Buffet suppers and cocktail parties are planned by the various fraternities.

A number of athletic events are scheduled for the weekend. On Friday, February 14th, the basketball team will engage the Vermont College Faculty in the first game of the season.

MAJORITY OF FACULTY ENDORSES BRITISH AID

About two weeks ago Professor Duhem sponsored and sent to the House of Representatives a formally signed petition similar to the one copied below. The message, in effect, called for favorable action on the "Lend-Lease" measure which was at the time being debated and has since been passed by the house. This second message has been sent to representatives for the same purpose.

Professor Duhem has clearly stated his beliefs about the United States, saying in statements which he has given to the press upon several occasions: "It is a great victory, he thinks, would seriously threaten our social, economic and political well-being, which is for the same reason. He is opposed particularly to isolationism both as Charles Lindbergh, who, he thinks, are living in a fool's paradise.

Fifty-five members of the faculty, including the professors emeriti, endorsed the following message: "The Honorable W. L. R. Coit, President, Foreign Relations Committee, Washington, D.C.

The undersigned 87 percent of the Trinity College Faculty respectfully urge your committee to act favorably on the Lend-Lease bill with due to the United States would face alone a hopeless world, dictated by dictators. To leave anything undone is (Continued on page 6.)

AND NOW — ACTION!

Newspaper technique requires that in its first issue each new magazine should publish a message of introduction. Ours is brief.

First, we ask for continued and increased support of this paper. Second, we pledge ourselves to action. We promise the strongest and sincerest effort to give Trinity an informative, well-written newspaper.

INTERFRATERNITY WEEKEND

On Friday evening, February 14, Trinity will again be illuminated by the social spotlight at the Hartford Club as the eight Greek fraternities attempt to make this winter dance possible. It is in the spirit of interfraternal respect and friendliness that for the first time in many years an such an event has last materialized. This year's program has needed some tangible bonds by which it might bring its national and local chapters more closely to one another. Squash tournaments, basketball games, and swimming meets have and always will foster friendly bonds by which it might bring its national and local chapters more closely to one another. One of the events which will be planned is a very important one — the Trinity basketball team will play against Haverford College. It is expected that this will be a very close game, and we look forward to a spirited contest.

Notes on the Intramural Basketball League: Up until recently the Alpha Chi Rho team was the leading team in the American Interfraternity Conference. This team has been consistently ranking near the top of the standings. The Delta Phi team, however, has been making a strong showing in recent weeks and has risen to the second position. The Beta Psi team is in third place, just behind the Delta Phi team. The Eta Sigma team is in fourth place, and the Gamma Xi team is in fifth place.

The National Interfraternity Council has announced that the Intramural Basketball League will be conducted under the direction of the eminent basketball coach of the American Interfraternity Conference. This coach has a wealth of experience and has been successful in his previous coaching positions. He is expected to guide the teams to victory.

The Intramural Basketball League is a great opportunity for the students to participate in sports and to get some exercise. It is also a great way to meet new people and to make friends. The teams are made up of players from different fraternities, and they compete against each other. The games are played on the courts of the American Interfraternity Conference, which are located on the campus of Trinity College.

The Intramural Basketball League is open to all students who are interested in playing. The games are played on Monday through Friday evenings. The schedule is as follows:

- Monday: Alpha Chi Rho vs. Delta Phi
- Tuesday: Beta Psi vs. Eta Sigma
- Wednesday: Gamma Xi vs. Alpha Chi Rho
- Thursday: Delta Phi vs. Beta Psi
- Friday: Eta Sigma vs. Gamma Xi

The games are announced in the Trinity Triadop, and the résultats are published in the next issue.

In addition to the Intramural Basketball League, there are other sports leagues on campus, such as the Intramural Soccer League and the Intramural Softball League. These leagues provide a great opportunity for students to participate in sports and to have fun. The Intramural Soccer League is played on Wednesdays and Fridays, and the Intramural Softball League is played on Thursdays.

These leagues are open to all students who are interested in playing. The games are announced in the Trinity Triadop, and the résultats are published in the next issue. The leagues are a great way to meet new people and to make friends, and they provide a great opportunity for students to get some exercise and to stay active.

The Trinity Triadop is a great source of information for students who are interested in participating in sports. The Triadop provides information on the schedules, the results, and the rules of the different leagues. It is a great way to stay informed and to make the most of the opportunities available on campus.
EDWARD M. FOLEY IS SELECTED NEW PRESIDENT OF THE STATE

Changes Necessitated When Don Walsh Leaves College to Join National Guard

Monday, February 5—At a meeting of the Senate in Cook lounge this evening, Don Walsh, Secretary of the Senate, announced that he had decided to resign as secretary to accept a position as assistant to the National Guard. As head of the Senate, Foley automatically becomes head of the students. In accepting the resignation, he congratulated the officers of the Senate for the election of William B. Dexter as secretary. Foley stated that as secretary, he would continue to hold his present position as treasurer. By holding both positions simultaneously, Foley has been able to accomplish the work which has been done by one person previous to this election.

He has served on the Senate during his junior year and on the Board of Trustees during his senior year. No other person has ever been a member of this high student body.

His resignation will become effective as of the end of this semester, the constitution of the Senate providing that the vacancy be filled by an election to be held by the members of his fraternity, Delta Phi.

Dexter has also been very active in college government, serving as president of the Jesters for three years, and last year he had one of the leading roles in the student government. His junior year he was a reporter on the Tripod staff.

Foley has been very active in college athletics, serving as captain of the Jesters for three years.

DAVID I. LAUDS FOR FUTURE SENIORS SHOULD SEE DR. BUELLE FOR HELP

Dr. Irwin A. Buelle, head of the department of government, will speak in the auditorium at 4 p.m. on Friday, February 14. He will talk about the importance of voting and will discuss the American political system.

Dr. Buelle will also talk about the differences between American and European political systems. He will discuss the importance of understanding these differences in order to become informed citizens.

This practice has been criticized by many people, including students themselves. Some students feel that aviation clubs should be open to all students, regardless of their experience or background. Others feel that aviation clubs should be closed to all students who have not had at least some experience in flying. This debate continues to this day.

Spring Performance to be Given By Club Members on the Senior Ball Weekend

In the recent election held by the Trinity Players, Wednesday evening, January 15, in the Cook Lounge, Henry R. Getz of Philadelphia, Pa., was chosen to hold the group during the 1940-41 season. Mr. Getz, who so ably played the villainous Harvey Green in the last Jester production, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," is a member of the Sigma Chapter of the Delta Phi, Pennsylvania. In addition to his post with the Jesters, Getz is also President of the Seabury Society, and Student Director of the N.Y.A. He is a member of the class of 1942, and will ascend Sophomore as President of the Jesters.

Frank Romaine of Somers, Mont­ taur of the Phi Chapter, was elected Secretary, and will succeed Joseph Tarr, whose term expires at the end of the class of ’42, and is a member of the Seabury Society, John Norman Hall of the Delta Chapter, was selected to work on the project of Joseph Roesse as the Jester business manager. Hall is Manager of the Alpha Xi Epsilon; a member of the Phi Psi Chapter of the Alpha Chi Rho Fraternity, assistant business manager of the Jester, and is a member of the class of 1942.

of whom were being tried by the Polish government for drilling and holding conferences. The pro-Nazi movement in Danzig derived a large part of its support from youth, while the older people were weary and afraid. An old Danish custom of offi­ cial, "echt deutch," freely told this traveler that the last thing he wished to see was Hitler marching. It must be remembered that Danzig has a purely sectional population, with ob­ vious reasons for dreading the Nazi regime. At the moment, in 1941, there were 150,000 Jews in the town which this town had on six important years of Lincoln's life. New Salem was founded two years before he ar­ rived there in 1837, flourishing while Lincoln was there for six years and died completely two years after he left it for political reasons. The town has recently been restored and now one sees the most picturesque sights in America, according to Dr. Jaquith.

The favorable reception in New Salem depended upon his extra­ ordinary physical powers and virility. He soon gained recognition as a square shooter in business and poli­ tics. Thus began the development of his leadership ability, Dr. Jaquith stated.

Lincoln's tremendous power of con­ centration, his ability to secure par­ ticular knowledge when immediately needed became apparent from his study of law in Salem. He studied law, in the first place, because he had to argue personal cases concerning land disputes, then because he was Logan's partner, next because he was the first lawyer of the state.

It was in Springfield that Lincoln married Miss Todd, a woman of im­ mediate and social standing. In contrast to New Salem, Springfield grew to be the social and political center of the state. Springfield's 200 years made it the same position that we were in 1815.

A COMMUNICATION TO THE EDITORS

In reports made by labor and mili­ tary leaders it is evident that Amer­ ican National Defense production is in headless schedule. With this in mind, I should like to examine the amendment permitting the sending of United States ships to belligerent na­ tions and of conveying British ves­ sels through combat areas.

An amendment to this effect would be committing suicide for three principal reasons: First, it would be a definite act of war. As we would be breaking our neutrality, any ene­ my would have every excuse to at­ tack a ship flying the American flag.

At present, Mr. America has re­ solved that England must win and that they must add a British victory by all means short of war, if that is possible. I think it is possible, but certainly not through amendments such as this one. Secondly, it would mean giving away part of our Navy. It must be remembered that National Defense is our strength, and if it is to be set up formidably, America must not give away any of it. Not only must not give away any of it. Not only must not give away any of it. Not only must not give away any of it.

TO THE EDITORS:

I have just received your letter telling me how you feel about the "fifty-yard victory." I have no right to comment on your views, and I do not wish to do so. I am only writing to you in my capacity as a member of the Delta Phi, Harry Johnson of Alpha Tau Omega, and Theodore Swiderski of the neutral body.

Library Clues

For some time it has been our firm conviction that the Trinity College Library is not being used to the best advantage. We believe that it should be slightly more than a hall for cramming and a safe deposit vault for reference materials. We intend, therefore, to publish new and then a short column, a listing of a few of the novels, autobiographies and biographies, and other thoroughly readable volumes which are quietly flowing into the library each week.

Mark Twain in Eruption, by Mark Twain, with an introduction by Bernard DeVoto: Hilliter's unpublished papers by one of America's great authors. Not autobiography in the usual sense, but a kind of transcription of Twain's private thoughts, as he made his famous, this volume includes sketches of publishers andazarands whose books he wrote; the feelings of a man who found himself, in the first decade of the Century, not too assured about his country and its people.

The Hornet's Longboat, by William Roos: Patterned on Nordhoff and Hall's famous "Men Against the Sea", this book tells the thrilling story of an American schooner that was lost forty-four days out on the site of the hornet, gutted by fire was near the equator. Captain J. A. Mitchell kept a diary while guiding his men to safety. This diary came into the hands of William Roos. Himself a deep-water yachtsman, he fashioned from Captain Mitchell's account a gripping story of a heroic journey.

Where Do We Go From Here, by Harold J. Laski: A proclamation of British Democracy by a leader of the British Labor Party. Professor Laski says, "European revolution can beat Hitler, and only if England takes the lead in social reform can she hope to help Europe throw off Hitler's yoke."

For Whom the Bell Tolls, by Ernest Hemingway: The deep-rooted story of an American college professor stranded in the midst of the Spanish Civil War. Robert Jordan, the professor, is introduced after having joined the Loyalists, for the purpose of causing and being sent into enemy territory to organize a guerrilla command in an attempt to blow a vital bridge. In the four days between his arrival at the head of the command, Jordan experiences love, packs more thought and understanding of existence than most men do in a lifetime. And Jordan is only one of the many interesting characters which Hemingway introduces in this rugged and brutal book.

Yan Can't Go Home Again, by Thomas Wolfe: A novel about a lost modern who found himself. The story of a gifted young writer who wrote so truthfully about his own friends that they became his enemies. George Webber sees clearly that men desperately need to accept truth if they want to be free, and reduces his life to the search for it. The quest leads to strange adventures and a conclusion that is a challenge to every modern reader.

I Saw It Happen in Norway, by C. J. Hamble (President of the Norwegian Parliament and President of the Assembly of the League of Nations): This is an eyewitness account of the invasion of Norway by the Germans. It is written from first-hand information by the President of the Norwegian Parliament, who, next to King Haakon, held the most important political position in the country.
