He wanted to go forth to the conflict with a mark of strength. The dictators interpreted it as a mark of weakness, and many in the regime began to despair. They were a stove against the wind of change.

No sooner had I been ushered into Dr. Alexia Maltzeff's cozy apartment, which was simply but tastefully decorated, than I was beset with a torrent of questions by the Russian musician and doctor, who has been appointed assistant director of the Trinity College Glee Club. He wanted to know how old I was, where I was born, what career I had, and some other details that I had to give to the interviewer.

Sports Sidelines

About five minutes before the radio started gurgling about the latest news from the front, I tuned in. The nearest bedward trail of someone who could find no excuse for Sunday because it was a day of importance of importance ever happened.

We understand that during the coming season it will be the fashion among the best of the season. That was the only time that Joe Christian, head coach of the Tripod, had a chance to observe Joe in action. Let sums up the whole situation by saying, "That was certain that all American-Townman are all Americans.

We are glad to see that the football enthusiasts are becoming one of our season. The position of each of the seniors was deserving of the honor, but it's not good as a regular position.

In the Holy Cross-Boston College game the Crusaders sent out nine co-captains, the Boston College that they could not recognize within the last ninety seconds of the game.

NFL Coach's petition when Joe Jessee was presented with a gold ban by his players, the freshmen would turn out in a game with a comb. "Quirky," in a generous sense, was his description of this year. Two of his new girls to Jessee and Joe Clarke, summaring that they could use them more than he could.

The swimmers should be able to look forward to another successful season, according to the advice of Coach Tyler, he would take over the backstroke but that's only wishful thinking. He would have to keep up the Tyler tradition and some of the outstanding sophomores last year will be back in a year of varsity experience.

The freshmen also look strong in the swimming department. Dory, the important swimmer, was lightened by one of his yearling divers, Dow Teague. Bill Barlow has already established himself as a star, a several who have never done any competitive swimming before, show a great deal of promise.

There seems to be more interest than ever in squash this year, according to Coach H. E. Overman, who is head of the freshmen. The first-year men have already kept the record high. A petition has already started, although the official matches have yet been ar-

Mrs. E. M. McLean and Miss William, Mrs. Adeline B. Mitchell, and Miss Mary H. Neeh. The Faculty members of the Committee for these teas is Mrs. Hoad. Among the faculty members who are attending the Committee meetings are Miss Jessup, Miss Durrell, Williams, Deans, Professor, and Bangs.

Also, the Committee has made the cut in this position. The cut was placed in effect more than $25, was placed in effect in the "Courant's all star football team, and oddly enough, Joe Bolder was not one of them. The only four names on the list were Al Will, Don Viering, Frank Paul, and Paul White. Bolder was barely missed by the Committee.

In naming the team, which is selected by Connecticut coaches and sportswriters, Bill Lee said that it would be an "impossible situation of naming eleven outstanding men without leaving off some deserving players.

Bolder's rating, for instance, was made in a large part on his showing in the first week of April of this year, a measure of money which the Edition put to the students, and to handicap the staff in any measures needed to provide Trinity worker, we urge every Trinity man to attend the mass meeting. America and of the world.

CRY ON!

Once again these United States are at war. Professor Scott was correct all when he declared that a conflict would break out sooner or later. The only question that has been asked is when, how, and where. Much has been done; much is doing; little is being left undone.

Strongly do we urge students during this crisis than we had expected. Sitting in a corner, ears glued to a blaring loudspeaker, our only noticeable physical reaction is one of slight tension and great relief. It has come at last. Now to begin the real work. It is difficult to realize that the hoarse-voiced bulletins pouring in over the world which will determine the future of America and of the world.

With the strong realization that this is serious business, that the college man is in this war as much as the soldier and the factory worker, we urge every Trinity man to attend the mass meeting which is being held in the Auditorium tomorrow afternoon. These are heroic and crucial times; let us show that we can meet the demands which will be placed upon us. Let there be no sudden and selfish regrets to Professor Morse

Dr. Cate Examines Germany’s Propagandistic Preparations
Calls Democracy Founded Upon Principles of Friendship; Europe Hoping

When one realizes that in 1933 a vast section of the German propaganda bureau at Berlin was set up to classify Americans, it becomes obvious, stated the Rev. Karl C. Cate, lately returned from twenty years in France, while speaking at the chapel service on Wednesday morning, that Hitler must have aims upon America.

Dr. Cate painted a vivid picture of the sudden changes in life-long friendship which came with the war in France, examples of German long-range planning among his best and most-trusted customers.

The basis upon which democracy is founded, he said, is the whole democratic doctrine, one of the doctrines of which is true friendship. The American people, he continued, believe in the “good neighbor policy” of the last eight or nine years, because fundamentally that is the kind of people most Americans are.

In conclusion, Dr. Cate read excerpts from letters which he had received by grapevine from patriots in Norway and France. A passage from one of these read: “The loss of moral dignity, the degradation and cowardice of many is unbelievable. Thanks to your countrymen, we can still hope.”

CHRISTMAS VACATION

Christmas trees begin on Saturday, December 29, at 1 p.m. and continue until Sunday, January 4, at 5 p.m. with the usual vespers services. Alabaster from classes on December 20 and January 6 will receive double cuts.

Varsity Basketball

(Continued from page 1.) played, there were many signs of improvement. Their eagerness to handle the ball and to shoot baskets rather than practice the aids to teamwork so carefully devised by Coach Erickson caused shouts of “Pass that ball!” usually a good sign in an improving team.

These players who have just come from Coach Jessie’s tryouts to work with Coach Erickson should feel at home trying to master a few of the plays from the charts he has placed on the walls of Alumni Hall. (We humbly hope how to the superior intelligence of the members of this year’s team who can keep these charts in mind, as the game is played.)

Led by Captain Ned O’Malley, the entire squad of eleven players intend to compose a team of winners. Among those who are fighting for places on the team are Ned Maxwell, Dick Tullar, Joe Beldin, Billy Black, Johnny Flinn, Roger Conant, “Mink” Gillette, Frank Faux, Dick Danielson and Al Dubrovisich.

Young Alumnus Finds West Far From Tame

The following is an excerpt from a letter written by John T. Carpenter, ’41, who is now a school teacher at the Thomas School in Tucson, Arizona.

The better shows that John is having more fun on the side than a convention of college professors.

“I have become so attracted to the back of a horse that I spend over three-quarters of my time off-riding the range and taking in the sights I could never expect to equal. With the aid of my cowgirl-coed I have not only learned to maneuver a pony correctly, but am now ready to handle a rope or a gun while in the saddle. Already I own a 2½-year-old colt which is mine to break in, and have part interest in a not too flourishing gold mine (if I’m lucky I can get $8 off a ton).”

On top of all this there has been real adventures in the deepest wilds of Arizona.

We were forced to flee for our lives last Tuesday when we were stampeded by six wild pigs (Beaversals) and witnessed the hired man protect his own family by firing a clean bullet straight into the heart. These bears are rare. It is supposed against the law to kill them, but in 20 short minutes he was stripped, cut up, cleaned, and hidden away in the refrigerator. A week ago I killed my first rabbit, but he was so large I had to mutilate his skin before he surrendered, and I must then go out and buy my own lard.

Dr. Maltzef Initials Orates On Music, Medicine

Since coming to America in 1925, he has been director of many church choirs in New York, notably the Russian Orthodox Church. Dr. Maltzef was also a private vocal teacher in New York.

“That’s where I fit in,” interrupted Mrs. Maltzef gaily. “I was building over with enthusiasm about my singing ability, but when I came to Dr. Maltzef, I was told how little I really knew about music. I wouldn’t believe it at first and left in a huff. But I came back for more!” she added with a twinkle in her eye.

In 1929, Dr. Maltzef came to Hartford with his wife and was appointed Choir Director of the All Saints Russian Orthodox Church. This last fall he has become a most valuable asset to the Trinity Glee Club.

By this time, Mrs. Maltzef had divorced herself from the arm of her husband’s chair and disappeared into the kitchen whence presently she reappeared with tea and accessories, while I was grateful for warning my — (Continued on page 4.)

This time I'm coming to you Not boastfully, nor hoping to play a hero's part. To battle for the honor of my soul. Professor Shepard in writing "The Chapbook" of 1919, a literary publication of the students at that time, wrote of the professor at Trinity: "Half his students were gone. Those who remained were distracted and restless. As he mounted the platform in his echoing lecture-room, he recalled the lines familiar to his students: "Wandering around in the deserted halls, remembering the days when you could better serve your country by personating that hero." The Hilltop was an army post and sent out a message urging students to return. The Tripod in the year 1918: "Beat Company X." The Chapbook, "The Honor of my Country," to observe that in many cases they could better serve their country by gaining a complete college education in officers' training camps.
