All Weekend Festivities Canceled by College as Scandal Hits the Hilltop; Wesleyan Football Squad Commits Suicide on Eve of Sure Defeat by Trinity

FOUND DEAD IN GARAGE
Ancient Jalopy Employed As Lethal Instrument In Mass Hara-Kari

CARDINALS IN CREPE
Fessler Said Team Desperate in Face of Unfounded Blue and Gold

Middletown, November 14 — The Wesleyan campus mourned this afternoon the end of its football team on the eve of its season's final game. Thirty-four members of the squad were found huddled together on the floor of a small garage on the East side, asphyxiated by monoxide gas.

The team, scheduled to meet the underdog Trinity College in Hartford on Saturday, were lying in cornered positions on the cement floor of the garage. A 1967 Maxwell car was standing in the center of the space, with clouds of lethal monoxide gas.

From the evidence at hand, the police strongly suspect suicide. Police Chief O'Toole made a definite statement to that effect. During the past week the team had showed signs of desperation over the coming game. The team is the engine of the Wesleyan football team, creating a phenomenal record of victories, and was the center of the falling confidence of its team.

Disappearing

When last seen, the squad had marched off the field after a short practice, and had disappeared in the direction of the little garage where they met in the little garage and after having worked themselves into a frenzy of despair had started the engine of the ancient Maxwell. The unconfirmed report marks the end of the brilliant career of Jim Gogolewski, the Wesleyan team.

Carrier was a member of the senior class, and had inspired the team making it up in last three years. According to Ring Kieran, of the New York Mail, Jim was slated for a berth on the All-Trin (Continued on page 3)

Trinity Taken to Cleaners; Roger the Lodger Absconds

SINK ON SCENT
Latest Reports Find Yeastman In Hula Hot Hangout in Mid-Pacific Bites

Hartford, Conn., November 9 — Roger Y. Yeastman, Comptroller of Trinity College, has abandoned with vast sums of money belonging to the treasury of the college. It has not yet been determined how much is gone or where the culprit is headed, for, but conservative estimates place the theft at an absolute minimum of $500,000. A nationwide police dragnet has been started and J. Edgar Hoover expects an arrest in twenty-four hours.

Most important, Detective Slink and his brilliant assistant, Herberto C. Golgope, have been notified. The team of Slink and Golgope has had spectacularly brilliant success in countless sensation cases.

The theft was first discovered when Dean Hewes of the college dipped into the safe. The team of Slink and Golgope has had spectacularly brilliant success in countless sensation cases. The thief was first discovered when Dean Hewes of the college dipped into the safe. The theft was first discovered when Dean Hewes of the college dipped into the safe. The theft was first discovered when Dean Hewes of the college dipped into the safe.

Roving Reporter Interviews Campus Beauties
On Advisability of Turning Traitor to Old Trin

In an attempt to evoke a properly patriotic wave of anti-Westernian feeling for Saturday's gridiron, your raving reporter once again interviewed a bevy of campus celebrities that the important institution. Our question to them was: "Would you send your son to Wesleyan, and why not?"

To our chagrin, we were overawed by a gust of affirmative which escaped from the oral cavity of the most allegedly responsible characters, such as our favorite biology instructor, who, (quote), "Why, certainly! It's a perfectly good school."

A few of the answers are printed here. It must be understood that the balance of the polls responded in other than verbal ways. For example, a Wesleyan guest instructor was stopped by mistake. Or the Trinity fullback whose only reply was shaped by his mouth, set in a firm straight line.

Robert Hawkins: "No, he's already at Dartmouth!"
John Payne: "Well, it depends on the first place on what he wants to do."
Harry Tannen: "I haven't got one yet.
Richard Lane: "I'm a bachelor, no!"
James Marson: "No, because I want to go to college."

Hoffman Pearing: "I would have it up to him. . . . Well, after all . . .
Norton Blankley: "No--just on general principles.
Herbert Brunt: "No, I don't believe I would, because they're going to be beaten today."

In Memoriam
A special memorial service will be held on the Trinity football field Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in honor of eleven Wesleyan men. Dr. Joseph B. Reddier will conduct the services, and the choir will lead the congregation in prayers for the deceased.

(Continued on page 3)

NO HOUSE PARTIES
ATK Rejoices as Bitter Rivals Succumb to Official Closing Order

POLICE HUNT GUN MOLL

H. Hottduck Seeks Vengeance Upon 'Man Who Arranged His Blind' Date

Hartford, November 14—Life to the unmanned tractor on the hilltop has become a dull, drab affair due to circumstances resulting from the unfortunate experience of one of the more prominent members of the student body. Only the Trinity house-parties have been canceled for the weekend of November 14, but the pressure applied in certain unspecified quarters by faculty members of the Alpha Tau and other fraternities, these houses will be allowed to continue with their original plans.

Hottduck Expelled

The Brief Account of a Man Who Gave the Hilltop its Most Electoral Name is now expired, for his head was found by reporters swimming around in a cryptic inscription! I must be off--

A nation-wide police dragnet has been called in to find the culprit, and for all Trinity students, except two who have been wandering around the Northampton town hall since 1873, life is no longer worth living. The present unfortunate circumstance at Trinity College is a self-inflicted wound, reaching this office, so on-raschaneousness on the part of Hottduck to have a data for the annual fall house-parties. The date, Melvina Riggie, has been called off, and for all Trinity students, except two who have been wandering around the Northampton town hall since 1873, life is no longer worth living. The present unfortunate circumstance at Trinity College is a self-inflicted wound, reaching this office, so on-raschaneousness on the part of Hottduck to have a data for the annual fall house-parties. The date, Melvina Riggie, has been called off, and for all Trinity students, except two who have been wandering around the Northampton town hall since 1873, life is no longer worth living.

Told by Stein he would recognize his blind (one eye only) date at the railroad station by the definite starboard list of her giraffe, Hottduck took Miss Riggie and took her back to the Sigh You House. However, unfortunately for him and other Trinity undergraduates, he left her for a brief 60 minutes to attend a class in Elementary Biological Physics, her favorite course!*, and it was during his absence the plans for the weekend were sent away.

Too bad!

While left alone, Miss Riggie made good use of her time and did not long to make her statement of regretments become increasingly active. She did herself to interested listeners an eloquent she, and Hottduck had made while following the nags on the circuit. Further information has disclosed that the Merry-Go-Round at Coney Island--Ed!--and after two more "Corpe cousins of Hottduck's" had been sufficiently enlarged to include several

(Continued on page 3)

* (Continued on page 3)
Moral—Don't Get Your Dates Mixed (See Photo on page 3)
THE HOTEL BOND
HOMOGENIZED
The funeral of the deceased will be in the presence of the Franklin Institute said tonight.
When asked to comment upon his amazing and unprecedented turn of events, President O'Brien of Trinity College stated: "Well, er, ah, I (great clouds of tobacco smoke), am very pleased with this, or, amusing development. Perhaps, er, (looks of glee) Roger isn't such a codger at that, or, yes,"
Office Dope

Herman Francis MacGayer, '08, father of E. H. MacGayer, '44, died suddenly in Providence last Sunday. The burial was held on Tuesday and was attended by Dr. Harold C. Jaquith and a delegation from the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Some of the suits in the west wing of the new dormitory have been completed and occupants are moving in this week. Dean and Mrs. Hughes and Dr. and Mrs. Leathrop and the janitor and his wife have already been installed. It is expected that the remainder of the suites will be completed next week.

The landscaping has been completed as far as work can be done in the fall and seeding of the lawn will have to wait till spring.

A Communion service for the Beta Theta Chapter of Psi Upsilon was held in the Chapel of Perfect Friendship last Wednesday morning, in memory of Phillips K. McCook who died just two years ago. Also honored were his mother, who died last week and his aunt, who died Monday morning. Rev. Donald B. Aldrich, the speaker for the Wednesday Chapel service, who is a member of the Dartmouth charter of Psi Upsilon assisted Dr. Ogilvy at the service.

Trin Representative Join Defense Debate

Decide that Student Committee Is Necessary for Airing Of Defense Opinion

These members of the faculty and a student delegate represented Trinity College at a conference at Wellesley College to consider college contributions to national defense on November 16.

Dean Hughes, Dr. Humphrey, Mr. Lafore and Robert Whitsitt entered into a discussion provided over by Wesleyan president McConaughy as to whether or not college men are contributing sufficiently to national defense. During the discussion various delegates suggested that college men cannot be expected to contribute more, as a college group is only a temporary community, that air warden and first-aid training may be still of Phillip B. Ogilby, added much needed experience to his aunt, who died Monday morning.

The House of Representatives has completed and occupants are moving in from the Delta. This was a strong and long kicker, when the ball came to him the team knew he was a great aid to the team; Thornton McGee: the team, he was a great aid to the team; Chet Siems: fast, aggressive, bolstered up the forward line very much, nicknamed "all-over-the-field Mcgee."

MUTSCHLIER'S PIPE SHOP
191 Trumbull Street, Hartford
A Complete Line of the FINEST PIPES AND SMOKING ACCESSORIES

STERLING PRESS
284 Asylum Street
DISTINGUISHED PRINTING
College Work a Specialty

SLOSSBERG'S INC.
CAMPUS SHOP
1317 Broad Street, Cor. Vernon.
CLOTHIERS TAILORS HABERDASHERS IMPORTERS
See our Agent on the Campus: J. C. CUFFIA, JR.

HARTFORD MARKET COMPANY
HEADQUARTERS FOR FINE FOODS

For Your Translations—
WITKOWER'S BOOKSELLERS SINCE 1838
77-79 Asylum Street

Quality Book and Publication Printers Since 1905

G. Huntington Byles Third Guest Organist

On Monday, November 17, at 8:15 p.m., the third annual of four organ recitals will be given in the college chapel. The guest organist is to be Mr. G. Huntington Byles, Trinity Church, New Haven, Conn. Mr. Byles is well-known here, having previously given concerts at Trinity and has brought his choir from Trinity Church.

Mr. Byles is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, and a student at the Paris Conservatory of Music, and has won many prizes and awards. He is a member of the New England Music Club and is a frequent performer on the New England radio program "Concerts of the Air." His repertoire includes works by composers such as Bach, Handel, and Mozart.

Mr. Byles' selections will be as follows:

• Symphony No. 5, Beethoven
• Variations on "La Nativite," Jean Langlais
• Roman Symphony, ......
• Prelude and Fugue in B Major, Richard Ross

The recital will be held in the college chapel and is open to the public.

Just Received New Shipment of College Stationery

New in Two Styles
50c at
TRINITY DRUG CO.
1284 BROAD STREET

SPEAR & McMANUS FLORISTS
Joseph McMann, Jr., and Louise McManus Ottenberg, Managers
Established 1868

242 Asylum Street, Phone 2-4191

Official Notice

During this coming week-end the campus will be crowded with alumni, guests and possibly stragglers. It is suggested that students be particularly careful to see that their cars are locked, that locks are hung and that more cars be given to their personal belongings than is usually the case.

On Saturday, students are asked to leave the north parking area near the campus entirely free. Many of our alumni and others who come to the football game will need parking area and we must not crowd more vehicles than we can use.

Student cars should, therefore, be parked on the north area near Boardman Hall, or any places that will be best to reserve for persons attending the game.

H. R. Ogilby

Wesleyan Quiz (Continued from page 3)

Harriette Magnusdottir: "Announces: A short Math. I quiz will be held at 4:00 p.m. today in Dr. C. J. MacBeatty: "What's par on their..."

Jae Cosman: "Quiet, please, I'm writing this article."

Dave Harris: "I'm your son to get plenty of sleep. Do they hold any classes?"

Steve Glidden: "See me in my office."

Wesleyan Faculty: "Well, after all..."

Charley Theneke: "Just wait a few more years, fellows, and I'll ask him what he thinks."

"to a position that was expected to be weak; Don Heston: capable of playing very well but his stiff courses have prevented him from getting into his best form in soccer; Bill Tousman: played his first varsity ball this year and did a good job though he came out late in the season; Nick Metta: reliable, hard worker, at a handicap because he was out of college last year, battled all the time; Jarvis Brown: played any halfback position well though seemed more at home at center, played throughout the games well with little helped by halfback position; Chet Siems: was a life-saver to the team, worked in positions early in season but dropped that in favor of the team, he was a great aid to the team; Chet Siems: here is a senior, he was a strong and long kicker, when the ball came to him the team knew he would soon be down in the other end of the field; Thornton McGee: fast, aggressive, bolstered up the forward line very much, nicknamed "all-over-the-field Mcgee."

 ration of the result of the Wesleyan-Triinity soccer game this Friday, November 14, the varsity busters have had an encouraging year and one that presages good teams when they become upperclassmen.

Soccer Outlook Appears More Rosy for the Future

Ten Sophomores Exhibit Promise; Upperclassmen Are Praised By their Instructor

Regardless of the result of the Wesleyan-Triinity soccer game this Friday, November 14, the varsity busters have had an encouraging year and one that presages good teams when they become upperclassmen.

Coach McCleod said that Ned Dax, center of the class of '44 is one of the best soccer players over to wear the Blue and Gold. In the last few games he has played very well in the forward line, which is out of his usual position.

Coach Alvin Reinhardt of the freshman team has trained a lucky group of fellows who will add much to the record of Trinity soccer when they become upperclassmen.

Coach McCleod has praise for the seniors and juniors on this year's team: Jim Cannon: the team suffered all season from the time he was disabled by a knee injury, it would have helped to have had his experience; Ted Morrison: helped much in the goal, has played well in several games; Phil Dryden: constantly improved throughout the season, was very aggressive; Dick Dinter: improved 100% over last year, old Reliable, added much needed experience.