Seabury Society Inaugurates New Reorganization Program At Well-attended Gathering

Club Elects Hall, Harriman, McNulty and Hawkins to Officer Positions

Mr. Cooper Adviser

Twenty-five Student Members Adopt Plan to Affiliates With National Group

Twenty-five students were present at the organization meeting of the Seabury Society last Friday evening in Cook Lounge. At the meeting, which counted a larger attendance than any other meeting in recent years, the society adopted a number of resolutions aimed at the revitalization of the club. Robert R. Hall, chairman of the Historical Department, the new faculty advisor of the Seabury Society, opened the meeting of the coming year. Mr. Cooper stated that the quiescent period in the society’s history was due to the lack of a definite program capable of holding the interest of the group and at the same time presenting a whole.

Mr. Cooper suggested that the society adopt as a tentative program the suggestions made to college groups by the committee of the Protestant Episcopal Church. These suggestions fall into four categories: worship, study, service, and unity.

Mr. Cooper said that in practical action, the society proposes to promote a regular corporate communion service for freshmen; established a committee of one member of the society, to keep on collecting scrap and metals. The Cooper family collected scrap and that rates a headline.

At a meeting of the college Senate last Monday night plans for a dance to be held during the coming spring football season were discussed. Plans for the coming year were made at an executive meeting of the program committee last Thursday.

Norman Hall, chairman of the committee, announced that the free broadcasts to follow in the next five weeks had been determined. He also stated that a permanent board of interrogators had been formed and that the broadcast would be given. They will be on call at all times to act in the capacity of discussion leaders.

The first program to be broadcast on October 6 will be a panel discussion between students and faculty on the place of the college in the war effort. Changes in curriculum, student and physical education requirements, and the restriction of enrollment during the war will be topics for discussion. The broadcast will be on the Air Raid Protection System.

The next program to be given is “Panoramic picture of Wesleyan, Trinitarian Summer Term by Hartford Alumni and Trustees of Wesleyan University, August 1942.” The program will be broadcast on October 13. The program will be presented by the Alumni Union and the Air Raid Protection System.

The next program to be given is “Wesleyan-Trinity Summer Term by Hartford Alumni and Trustees of Wesleyan University, August 1942.” The program will be broadcast on October 13. The program will be presented by the Alumni Union and the Air Raid Protection System.

One of Trinity’s outstanding alumni is collecting scrap and that rates a headline. But that this war is bringing us to? Well, yes, and it’s George B. Cooper, class of 1911, former U.S. District Attorney, who is doing the collecting for the government and war effort. So, let’s see what he has to say about it.

The time-honored cry of “Put some teeth into Freshman Rules” also rang true last Thursday. The following regulations have been imposed at Trinity College.

1. Freshmen must occupy the front rows in chapel.
2. Freshmen must wait to leave chapel until professors and upperclassmen have left.
3. Freshmen must attend all home football games.
4. Freshmen must sit in the section reserved for them in the grandstand.
5. Freshmen must keep off the grass at all times.

Waves or WAACS to Submerge College

Air Raid Reporting Station to Be Opened on Campus Before End of Week

WAVES or WAVES will be stationed on the campus before the end of next week, George R. Cooper intimated to students at the Air Raid Protection System established by Philip E. Taylor, who also served a reserve officer in the Army. The college has contracted to establish an air raid reporting station in the basement of Cook Dormitory. Materials have been acquired, and the station is to be ready before the end of next week. Volunteer WAVES will be stationed on twenty-four-hour duty at the reporting center.

They will report, the yellow signal to George R. Cooper, faculty chairman of the Trinity College Air Raid Protection system. Personnel has been selected to fill the various WAVES’ jobs on the campus. It is entirely different from last year’s with the extension that Edward Dexter is (Continued on page 2.)
The Trinity Triodip
TRINITY COLLEGE, Hartford, Conn.

Published twenty-four times during the year.

Member Associated College Press
Distributor of Collegiate Digest

Subscription Price, $2.50 per Year.

Entered at the Post Office, San Francisco, Cal., as second-class matter. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in sections 446, Act of October 3, 1917.
will be subject to the conditions in Section 11 of that Act.

Advertising Rates furnished on application.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE TRINITY TRIPID.
All semestral and business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager, THE TRINITY TRIPID, 27 College, Hartford, Conn.

A WORD OF COMMENDATION

Last year the Trinity College Radio Program was still in its infancy. It had had a spasmodic existence as a vehicle for portraying political science discussions in the spring of 1941. In the fall of the same year it broadened its sphere of influence to include student supervised broadcasts of more universal interest to the mass of people. It presented previews of Jester Plays, songs by the Glee Club and the Octet, a running commentary on the Coast Guard radio stations, and a discussion panel on the program.

This year through the unyielding efforts of Norman Hall and through the courtesy of Station WTHH in Hartford, the radio committee has finally achieved its primary objective—to have the broadcasts originate from the campus. Mr. Fred Bieber of the radio station has offered sound advice on the minor details. Dean Doty, Mr. Bieber and the students are all at times open to advice, understanding and kindness for the free discussion of matters of interest to Trinity men.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1942

Editor-in-Chief

Managing Editor
THOMAS W. ASHTON, ’43

News Editor
LOCKWOOD R. DOTT, ’14

Features Editor

JOHN NOUGARO DIETZ, ’43

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Associate Sports Editors
EUGENE STEWART, ’44
Elliot K. Stein, ’44

Newsroom Staff
KEVIN McNEILY, ’44
RICHARD Lane, ’45

Business Staff

Charles H. Upram, ’43

HARRY J. TAMONEY, ’43

Associate Feature Editor
Courtland J. Daley, ’43

John Greenwald, ’44
J. ROBERT BAKER

Advertising Manager

Advertising Manager (pro tem)

Distributors

W. Duesso Yenger, ’44
Andrew Mullen, ’45

RICHARD Lane, ’45

Waves or WAACS to Submerge College

(Continued from page 1.)

The organization remains basically the same as before. Students will still assemble in the various shelters used in the past to discuss the prospects of war, the future role of women in the armed services, and various other problems which confront the student body. The organization feels that it is important to bring the war to the students, as well as to have the students bring their lives to the war.

REVITALIZATION

In the last few years there has been a perceptible revival of religious interest on the American campus which has been evidence of a desire among college men to rethink their values in the midst of a great world crisis. This is particularly true at Trinity College, where engaged in an accelerated and expanded program of war studies, has taken a lead in bringing to its students an opportunity for an inquiry into religion and its fundamental problems. An advanced history seminar is engaged this year in an historical study of the role of religion in the modern industrial era. Another course is being devoted to a comparative study and analysis of the great religious systems. And the Chapel is continuing to play a vital role in the undergraduate life of the College.

(Continued in last column)

WAVES or WAACS to Submerge College

(Continued from page 1.)

The organization remains basically the same as before. Students will still assemble in the various shelters used in the past to discuss the prospects of war, the future role of women in the armed services, and various other problems which confront the student body. The organization feels that it is important to bring the war to the students, as well as to have the students bring their lives to the war.

REVITALIZATION

In the last few years there has been a perceptible revival of religious interest on the American campus which has been evidence of a desire among college men to rethink their values in the midst of a great world crisis. This is particularly true at Trinity College, where engaged in an accelerated and expanded program of war studies, has taken a lead in bringing to its students an opportunity for an inquiry into religion and its fundamental problems. An advanced history seminar is engaged this year in an historical study of the role of religion in the modern industrial era. Another course is being devoted to a comparative study and analysis of the great religious systems. And the Chapel is continuing to play a vital role in the undergraduate life of the College.

(Continued in last column)
Athletic buildings. This idea is similar to a 19-19 draw with the Trinity men.

DUBOVICK STARS

Dan Jessee suffered a severe blow to his hopes of winning the Bates-Triton game. Jessee had been suffering from a toe injury, but on this day he scored his last points in what may well be his last game. Jessee's injury was caused by a terrific wallop on the back of the head that rendered him unconscious condition. Jessee's injury also caused a tremendous wallop on the backfield spot. The starting lineup for the Bates eleven that has the nucleus of the past season's lineup which had a respectable customer. The center of the Bates line consisting of the veteran Charles Howarth and John McDaid, converted tackle, at the guard positions, and a veteran Leftwich Sturgis at center, rounds out a lineup that is green only at one end, and tough and solid all over. This line is approximate a five-pound line advantage, and a standup line in every respect.

All in all it should be quite an interesting afternoon bringing together the Bates eleven, which has eleven that has the nucleus of the team, with the Trinity eleven, which has seen each team victorious over the other once in the past.

Dan Jessee suffered a severe blow to his hopes of winning the Bates-Triton game. Jessee had been suffering from a toe injury, but on this day he scored his last points in what may well be his last game. Jessee's injury was caused by a terrific wallop on the back of the head that rendered him unconscious condition. Jessee's injury also caused a tremendous wallop on the backfield spot. The starting lineup for the Bates eleven that has the nucleus of the past season's lineup which had a respectable customer. The center of the Bates line consisting of the veteran Charles Howarth and John McDaid, converted tackle, at the guard positions, and a veteran Leftwich Sturgis at center, rounds out a lineup that is green only at one end, and tough and solid all over. This line is approximate a five-pound line advantage, and a standup line in every respect.

All in all it should be quite an interesting afternoon bringing together the Bates eleven, which has eleven that has the nucleus of the team, with the Trinity eleven, which has seen each team victorious over the other once in the past.

Achilles' heel. This idea is similar to a 19-19 draw with the Trinity men.

DUBOVICK STARS

Dan Jessee suffered a severe blow to his hopes of winning the Bates-Triton game. Jessee had been suffering from a toe injury, but on this day he scored his last points in what may well be his last game. Jessee's injury was caused by a terrific wallop on the back of the head that rendered him unconscious condition. Jessee's injury also caused a tremendous wallop on the backfield spot. The starting lineup for the Bates eleven that has the nucleus of the past season's lineup which had a respectable customer. The center of the Bates line consisting of the veteran Charles Howarth and John McDaid, converted tackle, at the guard positions, and a veteran Leftwich Sturgis at center, rounds out a lineup that is green only at one end, and tough and solid all over. This line is approximate a five-pound line advantage, and a standup line in every respect.

All in all it should be quite an interesting afternoon bringing together the Bates eleven, which has eleven that has the nucleus of the team, with the Trinity eleven, which has seen each team victorious over the other once in the past.

Achilles' heel. This idea is similar to a 19-19 draw with the Trinity men.

DUBOVICK STARS

Dan Jessee suffered a severe blow to his hopes of winning the Bates-Triton game. Jessee had been suffering from a toe injury, but on this day he scored his last points in what may well be his last game. Jessee's injury was caused by a terrific wallop on the back of the head that rendered him unconscious condition. Jessee's injury also caused a tremendous wallop on the backfield spot. The starting lineup for the Bates eleven that has the nucleus of the past season's lineup which had a respectable customer. The center of the Bates line consisting of the veteran Charles Howarth and John McDaid, converted tackle, at the guard positions, and a veteran Leftwich Sturgis at center, rounds out a lineup that is green only at one end, and tough and solid all over. This line is approximate a five-pound line advantage, and a standup line in every respect.

All in all it should be quite an interesting afternoon bringing together the Bates eleven, which has eleven that has the nucleus of the team, with the Trinity eleven, which has seen each team victorious over the other once in the past.

Achilles' heel. This idea is similar to a 19-19 draw with the Trinity men.

DUBOVICK STARS

Dan Jessee suffered a severe blow to his hopes of winning the Bates-Triton game. Jessee had been suffering from a toe injury, but on this day he scored his last points in what may well be his last game. Jessee's injury was caused by a terrific wallop on the back of the head that rendered him unconscious condition. Jessee's injury also caused a tremendous wallop on the backfield spot. The starting lineup for the Bates eleven that has the nucleus of the past season's lineup which had a respectable customer. The center of the Bates line consisting of the veteran Charles Howarth and John McDaid, converted tackle, at the guard positions, and a veteran Leftwich Sturgis at center, rounds out a lineup that is green only at one end, and tough and solid all over. This line is approximate a five-pound line advantage, and a standup line in every respect.

All in all it should be quite an interesting afternoon bringing together the Bates eleven, which has eleven that has the nucleus of the team, with the Trinity eleven, which has seen each team victorious over the other once in the past.

Achilles' heel. This idea is similar to a 19-19 draw with the Trinity men.

DUBOVICK STARS

Dan Jessee suffered a severe blow to his hopes of winning the Bates-Triton game. Jessee had been suffering from a toe injury, but on this day he scored his last points in what may well be his last game. Jessee's injury was caused by a terrific wallop on the back of the head that rendered him unconscious condition. Jessee's injury also caused a tremendous wallop on the backfield spot. The starting lineup for the Bates eleven that has the nucleus of the past season's lineup which had a respectable customer. The center of the Bates line consisting of the veteran Charles Howarth and John McDaid, converted tackle, at the guard positions, and a veteran Leftwich Sturgis at center, rounds out a lineup that is green only at one end, and tough and solid all over. This line is approximate a five-pound line advantage, and a standup line in every respect.

All in all it should be quite an interesting afternoon bringing together the Bates eleven, which has eleven that has the nucleus of the team, with the Trinity eleven, which has seen each team victorious over the other once in the past.

Achilles' heel. This idea is similar to a 19-19 draw with the Trinity men.

DUBOVICK STARS

Dan Jessee suffered a severe blow to his hopes of winning the Bates-Triton game. Jessee had been suffering from a toe injury, but on this day he scored his last points in what may well be his last game. Jessee's injury was caused by a terrific wallop on the back of the head that rendered him unconscious condition. Jessee's injury also caused a tremendous wallop on the backfield spot. The starting lineup for the Bates eleven that has the nucleus of the past season's lineup which had a respectable customer. The center of the Bates line consisting of the veteran Charles Howarth and John McDaid, converted tackle, at the guard positions, and a veteran Leftwich Sturgis at center, rounds out a lineup that is green only at one end, and tough and solid all over. This line is approximate a five-pound line advantage, and a standup line in every respect.

All in all it should be quite an interesting afternoon bringing together the Bates eleven, which has eleven that has the nucleus of the team, with the Trinity eleven, which has seen each team victorious over the other once in the past.

Achilles' heel. This idea is similar to a 19-19 draw with the Trinity men.

DUBOVICK STARS

Dan Jessee suffered a severe blow to his hopes of winning the Bates-Triton game. Jessee had been suffering from a toe injury, but on this day he scored his last points in what may well be his last game. Jessee's injury was caused by a terrific wallop on the back of the head that rendered him unconscious condition. Jessee's injury also caused a tremendous wallop on the backfield spot. The starting lineup for the Bates eleven that has the nucleus of the past season's lineup which had a respectable customer. The center of the Bates line consisting of the veteran Charles Howarth and John McDaid, converted tackle, at the guard positions, and a veteran Leftwich Sturgis at center, rounds out a lineup that is green only at one end, and tough and solid all over. This line is approximate a five-pound line advantage, and a standup line in every respect.
Glee Club, Jesters and New International Relations Club
Anticipate Successful Year

INTEREST SHOWN
Jesters Schedule Production for Early December; Weigard Sponsors New Club

Prospects for a successful season of the Glee Club are exceedingly bright this year under the leadership of Gershon Watters. The club has grown to 66 members and the new proportion is certainly promising freshman songsters. The baritones are particularly strong and inasmuch as certainly will not serve as a fragile backstage group. There are 14 of the baritone section of the club are Joseph Reosi, and Samuel Corolis, secretary. The other members include: J. Reo- rante, C. How, T. Lowy, D. Makel, J. Nicholins, R. Page, Williams, E. Ogilby, I. Mayhew, A. How, D. Barmann, R. Hall, R. Hallam, R. Hallam, S. Dimo, R. Nan, L. A. Graver, J. Harriman, N. Hindsley, H. Mathies, H. Pardons, P. Pierce, E. Bernstein, D. Keilrick, J. Kamten, R. Wolfe, B. Roe, B. Armstrong, P. Clark, D. Totten, T. Grant, R. Himmel, A. John, A. King, E. Edward, H. glow, H. L. McFarland, R. Hutter, W. Schrader, G. Taber, and P. Rugile.

The schedule for the Jesters this season has not been completely definite it the season. Though Mr. H. Hall, president, says that one of the shows will be the combination of one or two act plays or the regular three-act play. One performance will be on October 17, another for the students. The first performance will be held on October 17 and the other will be held in the early part of December. A meeting of the Jesters will be held in Cook Lounge on Thursday night.

The Carmagne Endowment for International Relations at the suggestion of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president, has been sponsored an international relations club here at Trinity. Membership is open to any student qualified to participate in informal "Bull sessions" and discussions of international and national politics. Members will have no financial obligations and will have access to the publications relating to international affairs. Professor Weigard, adviser to the club, will meet with the fledgling group next week, at which he will give an introductory lecture on Latin America, a noted American statesman. All those students desiring to become members of the club can be found here. Inasmuch as the entire campus body are re- minded of the talk "Our Strategy" which will be given by Frederik Schuman, Professor of Government at the West Middle School Auditorium, on Asylum Avenue.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

STERLING PRESS 284 Asylum Street
DISTINGUISHED PRINTING
College Work & Specialty

COMPLETE SOCIAL AND COMMERICAL PRINTING SERVICE
HUNTER PRESS
Phone 5-7016
81-83 Laurel Street, Hartford