Nilsen and Cameron

The Trinity Hill organization, sponsoring a series of Wednesday evening lectures in Woodard Lounge, has been lately taking advantage of the talents of our own faculty members.

On March 10, Dr. C. A. E. Nilsen, Assistant Professor of English, spoke on "Waldo Frank and Modernism."

Last week, April 9, Dr. D. N. Nilsen, instructer in Philosophy, gave a talk entitled "Jewish and Christian, Their Interaction.

For their next meeting, scheduled for April 16, the club will have as speaker Dr. Thelma R. Nilsen, Assistant Professor of Mathematics. After the lectures, there is usually a period in which the audience fire questions at the speaker, making a lively session.

On April 16, the Trinity Hill organization will hold an evening event at the Easum Synagog in Hartford. Leonard Greengberg will be master of ceremonies. Barlow Lapp will be the captions, and Sami el Lapp will be the emcees.

English speakers. Speakers will be Joseph Schacter, Louis Feldman, and Maurice Zimmon, Hill organization counselor.

The following evening Hill will host its second club dance of the semester.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:
This letter is being written on the eve of March 12 issue of the Tripod before me and I have compiled a careful perusal of the column entitled “The Banner.” In consideration of previous verbal assaults by Harry “The Banner” Brand, I submit the following admissions:

1. That Harry Brand proves his declaration re his election.
2. That the issues involved receive public collection with equal prominence and space by the columnist.
3. That in lieu of his not being able to substantiate his story you move him from the staff in order to uphold its prestige.
4. Further occurrence will oblige me to charge the columnist with libel.
5. Further occurrence will also oblige me to invite the noted columnist to the Alumni Hall some afternoon.

Albert L. Endimian,
Off-Campus Senator.

The Mail Bag

At a little place called Hartwick College the student editors have investigated the attractions which make a girl livable and face up come with the following gems: a house of her own, a large liquor closet, a bank roll, a trim figure, and one head.

By John Donnelly.

The Bushnell symphony orchestra was brought to a brilliant finale last week by the Boston Symphony orchestra under Serge Koussevitzky. There are few, I think, who will argue that this is not the greatest virtuoso group today. Probably the outstanding concert of the series was the one this orchestra gave under Bruno Walter in January. And the Bostonians maintained their high repose last Tuesday night with another spectacular performance.

Koussevitzky gave Hartford another chance to hear Rachmaninoff’s Third Symphony. It is a Bouvier moulded, with a Rachmaninoffian final movement; and the Adagio is genuinely beautiful in many of its effects. But we doubt very strongly that it will ever become as enduring movement to the great Russian pianist.

Brahms’ wonderful set of Variations on a Theme of Haydn was perhaps the musical highlight of the evening. To cut out a whole symphony was no mean stroke to the greatness of the genius of Johannes Brahms. Needless to say, the variations were not Smith with clarity and resting demeanor.

Debussy’s La Mer was the concluding number. This has always been a tour de force for Koussevitzky and his men. It went to prove the marvelous discipline of this organization and the expert between conductor and the orchestra under him. Every facet of this impressionistic evocation of wind, sea, and storm seemed to stand out with almost distinctiveness.

At the beginning of the concert the orchestra played Rachmaninoff’s “Vocalise” in tribute to the memory of the late Mr. Smirnoff.

An outstanding event takes place on Saturday, April 12, when the Combined Preparatory School Choirs and Orchestra give their annual concert at the Bushnell. There is no admission charge.

Camilla Williams, outstanding Negro soprano, will give a concert in the Colonial Room of the Bushnell as April 21.

No Valid Conclusions

Fewer than two hundred ballots were cast in the recent Faculty rank-card poll. Of these six hundred Trinity men per-大概 fill the poll point, or simply unitarian—let the whole poll point without any considerable count.

Obviously, no valid conclusions can be drawn from the views expressed by so small a minority as 25 per cent of the student body. The editors of the Tripod will not print the results of the poll, as it would be totally unfair to those concerned to represent the returns as typical of undergraduate opinion.

Jesseeen Split First Four Tilts On Southern Trip

The Trinity College baseball team returned last week from a Spring international Tour which included three games in Switeh and France, two games in vice and a stopover on the way home in Paris.

The team had three wins and one loss during its tour, with the single defeat being a 1-0 loss to Marseilles.

The team's victory over Marseilles was a 10-0 win, with the offense led by senior captain Jack Julavits, who had three hits and two RBIs.

In other college sports news, the Duke Blue Devils defeated the Carolina Tar Heels 8-7 in overtime, with the winning goal scored by senior striker Joe Julavits.

Promising Material Gives Osteosarcoma Hope Of Strong Track Squad; Lemieux Excels

With Ray Osteosarcoma again at the track, and the Buys Park ailing, Jesseeen's 1973 track squad is rapidly taking form in preparation for the Joggers' rugged schedule of meets. The composition of the squad seems to have good men in all events, and all will be competitive. This is evident, that good results are expected.

On the track, the squad will be led by captain Jack Julavits, who had three hits and two RBIs in the Marseilles game.

THE TRINITY TRIPOD

April 16, 1947

At the beginning of the month, the Committee for the preparation of the luncheon at the Board of Trustees meeting asked the President for a Decoration Committee to provide a display of the best work of the students. The committee was asked to come up with ideas for a display that would reflect the talents of the students and would be suitable for the occasion. The committee was made up of students from various disciplines, including the arts, sciences, and humanities, and they were given a week to come up with ideas. The display was to be held in the Great Hall of the College and was expected to be a major highlight of the meeting.

ATHLETICS

The season has begun and the athletes are back in action. The men's and women's teams are preparing for the upcoming season and are looking forward to a successful campaign. The men's team is led by Coach Thompson, and the women's team is coached by Coach Jones. Both teams have a strong roster of returning players, as well as some new faces that are set to make an impact.

THE SATURDAY CROWD

On Saturday night, the campus was alive with the sound of music and the aroma of food. The Student Committee organized a concert in the Outdoor Theater, featuring a variety of performers. The crowd was enthusiastic, and the night was a success. The committee plans to organize similar events in the future.

THE SENATE

The Senate held its final meeting of the semester on April 16, 1947. The meetings are typically held on Wednesdays at 8:00 PM in the Senate Chambers. This meeting was held in the Great Hall of the College and was attended by members of the Senate, as well as members of the public who were interested in the proceedings. The Senate is responsible for the governance of the College and makes decisions on a variety of issues, including the budget, policies, and procedures.

The Boston University News is the authority for the statement that marred veterans with children better grades than veterans without children who make better grades than non-veterans.

Up at Willimans Frederic L. Schuman forewarned prosperity. And down at Trinity innocent by-standers were threatened by the war between Senator Euliano and Senator Brand.
