Kerensky First
Series Speaker

Former Democratic Russian President

Lectures on October 23

Alexander Kerensky, leader of the democratic movement after the Russian Revolution in 1917, will be the first speaker of the 125th Anniversary Series of public lectures in the chemistry auditorium at 8 p.m. on October 23.

Born in 1881, he attended the University of Petrograd in 1897 and became identified with the progressive movement of Russian education. A member of the Russian State Duma since 1912, Kerensky embarked on the brief but brilliant career for which, after the February revolution, he came to be known as the chief supporter of the declaration of the Provisional Government and minister of justice of the Provisional Revolutionary Government. He is the author of several volumes of political and legal works and more than a hundred articles, and he has been a regular feature of international press reporting since 1911.

In May, 1917, Kerensky also took over the duties of Minister of War. He was a progressive Democrat, responsible for the Russian State Duma who was in opposition to General Kornilov and against all forms of military control of the government. He was the first to introduce a law on the right of assembly and on the right of罢工. He was a member of the Committee of 143 which, in its present state, is still active, and to Dr. and Mrs. James, the Foundation's faculty adviser, has fallen the task of launching the Fellowship. Jesters Score Favorably in "Dear Ruth"
At Four Avery Performances

Craig, Wilkins, and Stokes Perform Well In Jester Hit
By Bob Herbert

The Jesters presented a competent adaptation of Norman Krasna's "Dear Ruth" last week at the Avery Memorial under the direction of Don Craig. The three freshmen, Craig, Wilkins, and Stokes, gave a fast moving play, the Jesters' pacing was occasionally uneven and hyperbolic, but on the whole, Craig and his talented cast did justice to an amusing play.

Despite the fact that the Jesters have had an impressive pitch for the successful Pitchfork Playhouse in the past, the production of a play within the first month of college was reckless. I have heard that the Jesters are recreating the paint-able which calls for six plays this year. I am not sure, however, if the Jesters have any question of the ability and ambition of the company and the trick of putting together their show in its present state. The company and its capacity for work, however, the ability of the college is likely to prove a sacrifice of quality that has been associated with the Jesters. Repertory is the only answer, and the plays produced in ten weeks has done nothing to prove that theory.

Peter Stokes deserves special mention for his swill job in the role of Allen. His kind and sincere, but occasionally unfortunate civilian. His character has been considered the most viable, and he provides the Tropod with the finest comedy of the evening. Bob Herbert is the credited actor of the evening. He has played a role in many roles with the Jesters and has been consistently good. As Ruth, she had hard dramatic scenes, and she showed the spirit of her position and gave her performance with masterful ease.

Miriam Wilkins, Ruth's compatriot, was played by Jenny Pace. Her acting was unpretentious, but her character was a wonder to be delighted in.
Down Fraternity Row

ALPHA DELTA PHI still glowing from pride and Manhattans over the brilliant running, passing, and kicking of Fred Campbell and Dan Lohman, celebrated Tailgater Middlebury with one of the best parties that the House has seen. The “Let’s-get-together-and-dance” club, under the guidance of Brother Bob Naugle, Fred Naugle, and Bob Naugle Jr, had their first social as a full-fledged club.

AMERICA'S DUTY

ALPHA CHI EHO came through with flying colors from the Middlebury engineers with Punch, Dinner and Dancing. A good number of the junior and senior men of the dorms, some of the Phi U's, arrived down in time to give the party a touch of the pre-war spirit. Many of the Freshmen invited their parents in after the game to meet the Brothers and hear them tell of their adventures. The pleasure in congratulating Brother Brent Harris, Brother Herb, Dick Attiviste, Fritz Albrecht, Paul Thomas and Pledge Bob Barrons for their recent election to the Sophomore Line Club. Paul Thomas was also elected to hold second base in the renowned Trinity Pipes.

ELITE JUMP

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON takes pleasure in announcing the pledging of the following new men: Teresa DeKay, Tom Dillon, Dave Edwards, Bob Farrel, Jon Graver, Roger Havil, Fred Jackson, Bill Kennedy, Bob Kasey, Bob Kenyon, Roger Ladder, Bill Quinton, Terri Ranipole, Red Ratcliffe, Dave Seigpack, Alex Simpson, and Neil Taylor. We extend our heartiest congratulations to all of them. Special thanks to running chairman Jim Page for a job well done. Last weekend proved to be quite an enjoyable afternoon for the “Doker”-what with the victory over Middlebury, the Saturday evening dance, and then the Sunday morning discussion of what went on the evening before.

PSI Upsilon

A house of an auspicious quiet on Sunday night which was the antithesis of a very successful cocktail party after the game. It's a shame that Brother Railey's date's parents picked her up at such an early hour. The house was filled with many beautiful women, of which we may safely say, Please Naugle's date was at least as attractive as all Psi U's have come to the conclusion that women are a necessary evil. No doubt she'll do well. The Psi U's are currently not holding any college dances. The Northern NH holds friends in last Thursday Wednesday followed by a stag party for the new men. Saturday's dance under the direction of Brother Toomey resulted in no fatalities—all at least one dead on. However, as far as we know, Brother Naugle's date and Dave Seigpack's dedication to the fraternity still haven't been found. The Chapter congratulates Cy Seymour and John Neaman on their election to the Sophomore Line Club. Paul Thomas was also elected to hold second base in the renowned Trinity Pipes.

Music Notes

By George Stowe

Leu, the lion of Hollywood and the biggest box office attraction of them all returned to the Bushnell Saturday night with the New York Philhar-monic. And in practically every way it was a typical Stokowski perform-ance. We must admit in all fairness, though, it had its high points as well as its low ones.

The first half of the program was devoted to the older classics, Bach and Brahms, and fully revealed the unsuitability of the orchestra, conducted by John Nelson, for the playing of this type of music. It was a lets-get-together-and-dance club, under the guidance of Brother Bob Naugle, Fred Naugle, and Bob Naugle Jr, had their first social as a full-fledged club.

The Brahms Symphony, despite its familiarity, has infini-tely more variety and cumulative excitement than Stokowski drew from it. After the first movement, the orchestra was actually quite good. The second movement, however, was quite different. The Debussy Nocturnes, Naxos and Feux, was given with his customary quiet, stately, superfluous manner. The orchestra played the tone-colors with Oboe, English Horn, Clarinet, and Bassoon. This was a delightful pro-gram, although it seemed a little out of place on a symphonic program.
Hilltoppers Trounce Middlebury, 31-7, For Second Straight Win

Heints and Corcoran Run Wild in Rout as Osborn Scores Twice

By James Reynolds

The Hilltoppers' backfield, led by Hal Heintz and Johnny Corcoran, disengaged all double that the Blue and Gold has one of the smallest-col colg. In the second half, the Hilltoppers began decisively trouncing a hard-fighting Middlebury team.

From the opening kickoff, it was evident that Dan Jenney's charges were the masters of the situation, and as the Trinity backs ripped off plenty of yardage, the passer in the backfield was the key weapon of the offensive line. As usual the effective passing of Whitey Kunkiewicz, combined with a series of Jenney's fake end runs and orthodox end runs was instruc tional enough to penalize the defense of the Vermont men.

Let it be said for the Panthers, however, that their line, outclassed as it was, charged hard on every play, and on several occasions three Tri downs for huge losses. The defense against Hilltopper passes was good, considering the accuracy of the airmen.

Trinity took the opening kickoff and began a sustained drive toward the Trin dividual 49. From there it was simply a matter of six plays until Hal Heintz took in 18 on the three-yard line. It was a typical Heintz plung

Johnny Carroll. The key play was a lateral from Kunkiewicz to Heints, which was followed by a 10-yard gain. Pete Vil repeated the extra point, but could make no progress and the Hilltoppers were in the five.

The visitors took the opening kick

Bob Boland, Frank Elden, Jack Carroll, Rog Hall, and Tom Steacy were also reliable ball carriers, and Barrowtters shows promise of becoming one of the best runners of all. Anyone who saw how Bob handled himself on that 49-yard run against the Hilltoppers or the blocking was Deadlock, Wood, Nolan, and Bob Wilson.

Frosh and Varsity Harriers Lose to Jeffs, 28-29; 24-35

The Hilltoppers played with much skill, polish, and finesse, and dis to enameled teamwork, although handicapped by a high casualty list, the Hilltoppers were able to hold the line and end the game, in favor of the Hilltoppers.

The Worcer Tech techs came back in the second quarter to score their first, and only tally, when Osband dipped the ball by Hank Goodway. The Hilltoppers, not to be outdone, scored one more point in the second stanza. This ended the scoring in the last quarter for good measure. So, when the final whistle blew, the team had scored 20 points and had been leading 14-0. The Hilltoppers ran away with the game, building a 10-0 lead on a ticularly good, especially considering the accuracy of the airmen.

Nevertheless, comparative scores do not tell the real story of the struggle between the two teams. Hobart

The ensuing kickoff was fumbled by Middlebury, but a successful recovery by Bob Boland in the middle of the end zone, the three-yard line, resulted in a touchdown.
