(Zinnmer Warn of Warfare Now Being Waged; Discusses Truman Speech

By Pete Van Meter

Warning his audience about a "sneaking war spot" now menacing the Near East and Orient, Sir Alfred Evans reviewed the Constitutional changes now taking place throughout the world in his regular fortnightly lecture in the Chemistry Auditorium on Thursday, January 8.

He said that military warfare prevailed in China, Indo-China, Palestine, Kashmir in India, and Indochina, despite all the UN has yet been able to do under Article 59. In addition, he warned of the constant threat from the "seething spot" of Trieste where East and West face each other across barbed wire and barb wire. However, he said, definitely for her newly won dominion that the British Commonwealth can the political system of such a state is not compatible with the Burmese people's loyalty to the British nation. He urged Italy to be a republic and the death of King Victor Emmanuel III in Egypt comes on the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the Kingdom of Italy as an independent nation in that country. The monarchy around which the Italians have achieved national freedom in modern times is thus disposed of and the new Republic emerges as a "big brother" of the empires.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of the Trifonion:

Dear Sir:

Could you take this card and make a note for me that the play doesn't really interest me? It is a well-meaning invitation of the theater group I belong to, and I am an occasional chess player from among students and faculty who like to act a hand. It sounds fun, though I am not a chess player. DeWolfe, Club secretary, could certainly be of help. This might help somebody at school.

Sincerely,

Roger Shaw (Faculty)

"As Secretary of Hartford Chess Club, meeting Friday nights from seven o'clock on, in the Episcopal Cathedral's Parish House, Church St. Main, I beg to inquire if there are Chess Players at Trinity, faculty or students. The Club would be glad to hear from any of such players. At any time such would be welcome at our play-sessions. The majority of players do not arrive until 7:00 or later. Cordially,

W. E. DeWolfe."
The Trinity basketball team seems to be at last coming into its own. After losing their opening game to a powerful M.I.T. aggregation, the Hilltoppers scored four straight impressive victories.

Last Friday's game saw Bowdoin, 70 to 49, even though Jack Macon, first-string guard, spent most of the night on the bench with a sprained ankle. Red Faber was hot as a fire cracker; the big center piled up a total of 26 points, although he was rested through most of the second half. Ron Watson and Joe Ponsalle also played exceptionally well.

Last season the hoopsters started off with a bang, winning seven in a row, but then split their next ten to finish with a record of twelve and five. If there isn't a lewdom after exams, the Ostomemg will have an excellent chance to surpass last year's team.

Trinity's Freshman baskettes have also been outstanding in recent contests. Although they were defeated by Hopkins Gramman in the last minute of play, Bruce Mumme's men showed a great deal of spirit, tying the score in the first period after trailing by over ten points three-quarters of the way through the game. "Morn" Curtis was the fresh star, dropping in 22 points. Last Saturday Curtis was again high scorer as Triton nipped the Yale Freshmen, 41-32 at New Haven. Other impressive members of the Fresh five include Bob Sharpie and Bill VanLame. All three of these men should reinforce the varsity next year.

Everything seems to be working out fine as far as basketball is concerned, but the situation is entirely reversed in swimming. The varsity squad, which drooped its first meet of the season to M.I.T. by a large score, is in for a very disappointing campaign. Captain Bob Tyler, last of the Tyler trio, is an excellent swimmer, but he can't be expected to win meets by himself. Such men as Jim Glance, Johnny Grl, Jim Paps, and newer Bruce Boller­mann have greatly improved since last year, but it will probably take another year before those will be able to compete successfully against most of our more experienced opponents.

The Freshman natators, on the other hand, have shown a great deal of promise. The junior fish-men embarked upon what should prove to be a successful campaign with an easy victory last Friday. This Freshman squad represents the only hope for the varsity club, an otherwise gloomy season for coach Joe Clarkes. Blue skins bloom abroad, however; it is rumored that Frank Doody, sensational free-styleer from Hopkins Gramman, will be coming to Trinity next fall.

We should like to take this opportunity to mention the excellent job that is being done on the Student Swimming committee. Andy Sharpe and Bill VanLanen. All three of these men should reinforce the varsity next year.

$352,000 Contract Is Let For New 103-M.D. Farm

A $352,000 contract for the new 103-man dairy-southern cook of West Hartford Public Library, which has been awarded to the Associated Construction Company of Hartford, general contractor.

The modified Gothic dormitory will house 103 men in 20 double and 40 single rooms and 10 baths. A 2-story kitchen, dining hall, and mess room. The present 76-man dormitory is reported to be overcrowded.

New Reference Assistant Also to Join Library

Mr. Miles Milt of the West Hartford Public Library has been appointed assistant reference assistant and supervisor of the research department of the Library, it was announced recently.

An ordained Methodist minister, Mr. Bell will assist Dr. Arthur Adams, who has been in charge of the Library as assistant librarian for 32 years.

The new assistant librarian is an ardent student of music and will become an important addition to the staff.
Frosh Five Overcomes Yale in Exciting Fray As Curtin Ranks Up 14
By Owen Mitchell

Recovering from a two-point deficit at the start of the half, New Haven, Friday night, the Trinity Frosh freshman basketball team rejoined New Haven on Saturday and turned in a very commendable win over the Eli Frosh basketball team, 32-20.

Trinity enjoyed a noticeable edge in the first half, as the Yale quintet was functioning poorly as a unit; at one time the Hilltoppers led by 11 points, the Eli led by 10, and the Yale led by 8 points.

Yale drove to a three-point advantage soon after the opening of the second half, as they were shooting from beyond the half court. However, Trinity hung tough and had to go all out in the second half to win. Johnny Noonan was the big man on the boards and probably the main cog in Sig Nu's victory.

American League: Yale, 31-Alpha Chi Rho, 21-Whitney Kunkiewicz sparked the Yankees to a 31 to 21 victory over the Devils. Leading all the way, Kunkiewicz, who tallied ten points, and John Willard, the ballhandler, were both shooting consistently, while one shot was totally out of the basket. Farrell and Woolan were beaten the boards with eight and seven points respectively.

Alpha Chi Rho, 31- Delta Phi, 27-Frank Eblen and Bob Barrows, both of Alpha Chi Rho, led in the American League with 49 and 37 points respectively for Delta Phi by a 33 to 14 score. The victors led halffull in that order. Meanwhile, in Delta Phi, the evening with 13 points to be high scoring by a 33 to 14 score. Down Fraternity Row

ALPHA DELTA PHI's vehicular complement has been increased by the addition of Jim Bailey's new Maxwell, complete with hydraulic drive and a non-operative automatic collapsible top. One of its features is the push button windows which failed to oper­ate last Saturday night. We under­stand that things were rather chilly for a while. Over the vacation Dave Lambert has been experimenting with new skiing techniques, the results of which seem to be rather dubious. Oh well, there's next year. We under­stand that Dan Lohnes got home early from his date last Saturday night. Things are looking up.

ALPHI CHI RHO enjoyed a small party Saturday evening. The "via platters" had close competition from our new house orchestra: Bli Holden, piano; Monk Reynolds, trumpet; Jack Parker, violin. Keep up the good work, brothers. With exams just around the corner everybody, including those on pro, has begun to study with an air of real determination this season. The activities of numerous bridge clubs are being curtailed for a few days. Since exams are of a selective variety, the Crows feel assured that they will tend to divide the men from the boys about campus. May the luck of the gods be with ye all.

DELTA PHI, getting back into its stride after a delightful vacation, is looking forward to mid-year exams with as much anticipation as a man about to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel. Memories of our days in the service were brought back the other day when some high-ranking officer was looking for a work detail. The vets of the game, never forgetting their gold-bricking technique, dis­appeared in a split second. Brothers Phillips, Tribelhorn, and Williams, having entered a certain book club contest, are starting a library of the latest best sellers in efforts. They figure an income tax of $6,000, if totally successful.
