Theta Xi Opens for Housewarming; Many Guests Welcomed at Fraternity

New Bar in Basement

Interior Redecorated

Theta Xi had a housewarming on Saturday afternoon following the Amherst game.

The idea of preparation was put into the presentation of this function and most of the credit for the organization and subsequent success of the party must go to Nevin Walsh and Mary Parlan. Mr. Wack is the social chairman of the Theta Xi house, and his absence in relating to the warming were numerous. The fraternity steward, Mr. Grant Mencken, also had a hand in the festive pie. A new and bigger kitchen and dining room were built, and above all, a cook,—in other words the realization of the eating club, was not and was his present company.

The Theta Xi rattleskew was duly inaugurated after the combined talents of Nick Christakis, Dick Schults, and Dick's mother, Mrs. Schults, had worked on behalf. John Hatfield was also instrumental in the completion of the basement bar.

Presiding over this whirl of activity was Marty Parlan, ever present representative of the Theta Xi group.

Chief conviction of the afternoon of Saturday was the game which was laddered out to all comers by the hand of Pete Mith, and the Sea Bees were encompassed in the front hall, but there was a battle of humanity for the game which entered this lower level, the one of foreheads is confronted with a bar of the front of which is a painting of solemn subject matter.

The visitor may come to Nevin Walsh if it is the head of a unicorn. Particulars on the animal's head were:

It seems that a unicorn is an animal with a horn on its head, a body of a deer, and a tail of a horse.

In all, the visitors were impressed.

Bullo return to the subject matter, it suffices to say that the collar is an attractive layout. Incidentally, Mas o Louis Baden painted the picture that must cause much devotion in this matter.

As for the party itself, it appeared to be a success. Professors Cooper and Lawrence of the History Department were acting chairmen. Other dignitaries present were Dr. H. R. Professors Towle, Jim Van Loom of the Theta Xi Club's, and various members of the administrative staff. Members of surrounding staffs were present, representatives, and Theta Xi brothers from Amherst were also to be seen. Professor and Mrs. Williams were present and being perfect hosts. Professor Williams is the alumni advisor for Theta Xi.

Chaplin and Mrs. O'Grady will hold their weekly tea at their home on Trinity Street on Thursday at 4.30.

Theta Xi has been extended to Trinity's foreign students in come with International Students Work which is being held here at Trinity from November 9 through November 17.

To All Trinity Boosters:

Big picture, will be played on Friday evening. Rally will form on campus and proceed down town and end up on the lawn of the Capital for the short cheering session.

A large group of Phi Delta Rho members will be in the line and help make this the best rally of the year. We want this Wesleyan game and the cheer sections can do much toward making it the best.

We'll see you all on Friday eve

Inquiring Reporter Seeks Views About Truman Re-election

By John Stewart

In a desperate attempt to recover what little prestige the job of the Inquiring Reporter had before the election of Harry, I set out (in disguise) to see the Wesleyan Art Gallery. My opinion was of last Tuesday's upset. The majority of the people interviewed were no more in favor of Mr. Truman's election that even with the most complete plan, it would not fit for print. Despite this handicap, I found four men who were able to refrain from continual profanity.

Jack Taylor spent most of his interview on the current political scene.

He seemed to think that Gal-lever may come to Nevin Walsh if it is the head of a unicorn. Particulars on the animal's head were:

AMHERST WEEKEND

By Gordon Greenwood

That perennial operatic doubleheader, Pagliacci and Cavalleria Rusticana, was last seen in Hartford in spring, when the Connecticut Opera Company. Jaded as they may be to the average operagoer, we still enjoy the musically performed versions of these two short pieces (tug­

A principal drawback to the first opera was a lack of drama, and the orchestra performed perfectly. And the duck of Turiddu was not adequately conveyed to the audience (who did not know the story). The only saving grace was Renck's vocalising.

I must protest the way in which my name was mentioned in the past few weeks. In coming to me to the C & O's famous Choozie, you have (I trust) been once more a witness to the difficulty our predictions wou ld have to face. Instead of the reality which we have sought to depict, our predictions have been subjected to the natural sub­ject of "The Hartford's Serenade."
The latest results of intramural activity within the walls of Trinity indicate that the Delta Psi, Alpha Delta Phi, and Delta Phi Fraternities have spent their past two weeks running the gamut, losing their respective football league, boxing, and basketball teams and sending 70 of their fighting men to victory in seventeen contests. As a result of these victories, Delta Kappa Epsilon and Alpha Delta Phi are at this writing in a first-place tie in the league, Delta Phi is also undefeated, Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Phi Delta must also be considered as contenders, both having won three games for six points in the league system of scoring.

The results of play in the fraternity football league during the past two weeks are as follows: October 23, Sigma Nu 12, Delta Phi 9; October 26, Alpha Delta Phi 18; Phi Epsilon Delta 10; Delta Phi Xi 10; October 27, Alpha Chi Rho 6, Delta Phi 12; Delta Psi 6, D.K.E. 4; Sigma Nu 5, Phi Up. November 6: Sigma Nu 4, D.K.E. 4; November 2: Phi Up.; Delta Phi Xi 13, Alpha Delta Phi 13, Alpha Phi 13.

The latest standings:

Fraternity League
W. L. T. P. Delta Psi 7 0 2
Delta Phi 5 0 2
Sigma Nu 3 0 1
Alpha Delta Phi 3 1 0
Delta Kappa Epsilon 3 2 4
Phi Epsilon Delta 3 0 2
Alpha Chi Rho 3 1 1
Theta Xi 3 0 0

Soccermen Gain 1-1 Tie With Amherst

The Trinity Soccer team battled a 1-1 draw with the Lord Jeffs of Amherst last Saturday afternoon. Both teams were driving their all for victory, but it was a strong wind from the south that slowed the resolute thrusts of both teams.

Bob Williams, the Hilltoppers' center halfback, received a kidney injury late in the second half and had to be substituted.

Next Leo scored Trinity's goal, with Shults assisted the Amherst center, Curt and Nick Gelson, the Blue and Gold wingmen, played stellar ball for Trinity, with both Allie and Dave Cooper playing the ball around the play.

Once Defeated Trin Faces Wes' Unbeaten Cards In Middletown

The final game of the season for Trinity is on tap this Saturday afternoon at Middletown, when the Cards, undefeated Wesleyan, are to engage with the tiny Cardinals in a game which Trinity alone may win.

TheCards have had no easy season. They have swept their consecutive victories and two straight victories of undefeated football. Trinity alone is capable of winning against this formidable enemy.

Realizing that Dan has been coaching football here at Trinity for 17 years, it was known that some of his proud days of coaching could draw an interesting note.

Although Mr. Jesses has had many good teams to successful seasons, the present season being no exception, the coach felt that the 1946 grid machine was perhaps his greatest. (Ed. note - a win over Weslyan on Saturday night would cause a reaction of this type.)

That 1946 aggregation went undefeated, winning the bulk of 17 straight Trin was from 72-05. Mr. Jesses pointed to the Trinity Coach Council in 1941 as the most thrilling battle of the Blue and Gold gridsmen. A Coach Jesses, a man who is a leader in the New England Ivy League teams such as Brown was leading the squad to the closing minutes of the game. At the whistle, the Jessesmen had won.

Sixty-nine contests have been waged between these two teams since 1895, and Wesleyan holds a 32-14 advantage. Records show, however, that continuous the game will be broken when these teams clash. Many times the game has been settled by a break fairly or in the contest. A flurry by the Hilltoppers on their first running play and a time out by Frank Weiser last year also started.

Go Trin - Go!

The Cardinal forward wall, which has given up five touchdowns so far, will be faced by a three-man line which is more than Trinity's forwards, which have committed two touchdowns combined, left tackle has starred on offense and defense all seasons. Wally Berrett, Trinity's star, is using the 225 pounds to good advantage at center. Dan Robertson and Dan Daffey have been exceptionally strong on the backfield.

Chances for a win have caused drastic changes in Trinity's alignments since the first game, with starters, such as Larry Oberg and Red Batcliffe have been injured thus far. Larry Oberg's absence has been felt by the squad.

DELTA PSI—One more very enjoyable weekend has become, as the poet says, a memory; and a comforting one it will prove some white Christmas eve to your sister Bertha. Saturday was the first to start making memories, as we get under way early Friday evening. He came in like a lion, and went out like a light. Jim Glass was making more than memories—he had charge of the Hall's preparations for the fraternity Grens contest. After the wonderful Amberst deuce the dance Saturday night was as successful as a dance ever has been. There wasn't any cover charge, but even so, any fool could see that everybody was having a good time. Pete Deviller did retire early (7 p.m.) with a slight headache, but otherwise nobody had any troubles until after closing time. Milt, refusing to put good alcohol in a gas tank, had to cover a lot of ground on the hoof. "Sherry" Beers missed his date.

(P. J. B.)

ALPHA DELTA PHI checked "Ballpoint" at the corner this weekend, made him take off his new boots and make up his weekly hunk-house bull. "Tex" White, "Sagebrush" Billingley, and the other gals were out. The ball-best-for-leather easterners went west (Hartford—that is) and hit the Retreat Trail. As for now, the weekend was a big success—where the children's home at 19 Vermont Rd., won a barrel of apples for their display—one can't help but appreciate the enthusiasm of the year set.

Brother "Grendel" finished the party that on his back in his cap—"Mens' return performance of "Animal Crackers" brought many a tear to the oldster's eyes as the glorious days of Maue and Schimmels-Heinie came to mind... Krblesfer and company met the Avon police and got picked up for e-packing overtime... we all loved Mrs. Munson's Smorgasburg.

(P. R. W.)

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON regrets to announce that the Soph Hop lasted only three hours. However, the situation was saved for a few of the both sets of people who saw double most of the time, thus giving the impression that the brawl lasted twice as long. The only thing that hindered the joyousness of the past weekend was the injury sustained by Brother McDonnell on the first play of the game. We hope he'll be back with us soon. An attempt was made to bring back the days of Lillian Russell when one of the brothers toasted his date from a slipper, but his date used the common grace to return the compliment. Maybe it was because he was wearing size twelve shoes. In ending, just how long do the boys at 122 Virus Street think they can get away with what they're trying to do? (K. K. K.)

ALPHA PHI RHO is breathing a sigh of relief now that the weekend is over and Brest Harries has finally divulged the nature of the giant mystery price. Brothers Harries and Fagan along with others had the luck to be able to attend the dress rehearsal of "Animal Crackers" and brought a tear to their eyes as the glorious days of Maue and Schimmels-Heinie came to mind... Krblesfer and company met the Avon police and got picked up for e-packing overtime... we all loved Mrs. Munson's Smorgasburg.
