Thanksgiving Turkey Trot Outstanding Hit As Faculty, Students Mob Hamlin

Pipes Sing As Naylor Dances

Once again the Hamlin Dining Hall proved its versatility in housing other than turbines. On Thursday night, the 17th of November, the Varsity "C" Club, with the support of the Bosteters and the fraternity, put on a virtual duplicate of the previous bang-bang Halloween Hop. Two such overwhelming successes prove that there is no accident involved in these undertakings; both were well planned, manned, and conducted.

Strokes through the door, and away from the danger of those who would sell raffle tickets to his last shilling, it became apparent that someone had mistaken the "C" Club for the Hamlin, on the preparation of the affair.

Decorations in the familiar Trinity blue and crimson were scattered everywhere. Also everywhere, and evenly distributed, were girls, the one thing we have more of here at college, and their Trinity escorts. A liberal sprinkling of the faculty adorned the guests in every way, just as we always expected. Rector's very reverse was not well-versed in the art of the square dance, by all means consult Prof. Naylor.

Dean Clarke Appolhso

In the middle of the evening, the slow music stopped, the lights flashed, and the room was suddenly turned into an arena for an old-fashioned apple bobbing. It was a lively scene, and all the students, under the leadership of the College, were a very lively square dance. The evening was successfully concluded at 11:30, and the audience was broken up, the lights having been turned off and the room returned to its former state.
Slander
By Jim De Kay

Today, children, I will tell you a story with a moral. Since this column is directed towards all the dozy and slapdash idiots that once ares around campus, I feel that it is my duty to do something on them to give it to them sugar-coated.

Once upon a time there was a freshman, named Truman Campbel, and he was a good little boy who was white shoes, button down collars, dark gray wool suits, argyle socks, a pipe, and occasionally wore a black tie, even though he preferred the club tie that his brother-Woollacott had. I really don't know what all the other freshmen did—he left chapels as fast as he could, without waiting for the fall. He frequently walked with his chin held out as if he walked on the grass, he glowed silently at the same unappealing person if he passed them on the street; in all, he was a typical freshman, which of course isn't saying much. Well, anyway, Truman was living his rather dry and slightly insufferable life away, when he came across a seven-toed kitten one night, as he came back from the fraternity house. He had been intrigued, slightly, and mistook the kitten for his seven-toed buddy, who cleaned his room regularly every two weeks. He began giving the poor little thing hell for snoring his French, and he neglected to look after the cat for a few days. But then he was feeling well enough to realize the mistake he had made the night before, and to try to rectify it. He gave the kitten a little vervmont, and some silver tablespoons. I'm not sure whose hands were meant to be taken internally, and went off to class.

The actual biddy came in that morning, and was es- corted by the animal. She found Truman, and told him that she would make a little sweater for him. Tran- mu was so pleased that he actually kept the animal longer than the season, and named it X. Pratt.

Little Nelly grew up, and was often seen walk­ ing around campus with his nice white wool sweater. That's when the trouble began.

The Medinicus Trinitarius48 school law had been passed allowing only winners of Trinity to-ckers to do so. Then the Senate indemnified him for having a sexual perversion, and he was sent to the infirmary. The school law was proved to be a false arrest). Then the college indemnified him for having an alcoholic beverage in his room. Then the S.P.A. indicted him for cruelty to Nelly since the kitten had been fed and took care of. But it was dressed as a well-mannered tiger. We have our suf- ficiently a good character with a long black mustache), and Hollywood fashion as a doddering old fool with a heart that is not true but made the cast take some sincere cuts. This bit of gratuity was the greater because the ticket-holders resented their usual device to rush out and get their own.

"Okaylahoma!" was as lively, colorful and exuberant as it was in '43. The melodies done by the company are not trite but always new and exciting. I must have been native personified (that is not meant to rule out the possibility of it not having to notice the song) I Can't Say No! It is amusing and basic. "Okaylahoma!" still exhibits Acres of Mille's top-notch choreography for this musical. I also extend to the cast my somewhat leather medal" for filling the Bushnell with song and laughter. Musicals like "Okaylahoma!" seems only decently occupy the Bushnell.

A 355g white rabbit, Harvey, will or will not see—depending on your affinity for having such friends—at the Bushnell December 16-19 with his best and really only friend Frank Fay.

The Atom Age with its prophet, Bob Bishop, has come to Trinity College. The former Air Corps officer, who has rigged the field press box with replications in great naval style and who now is a most eloquent lecturer of molecular physics, is considered the campus Messiah. A story has been going around that he gave a fellow a permanent rather than a temporary with a devilish statistic generator. The lobby of the Chem. And now, ticka, pops and generally obliterate the individual along the perfumes front. To all the "pioneers of the airplane."

1948-51 white rabbit, Harvey, will or will not see—depending on your affinity for having such friends—at the Bushnell December 16-19 with his best and really only friend Frank Fay.

The Atom Age with its prophet, Bob Bishop, has come to Trinity College. The former Air Corps officer, who has rigged the field press box with replications in great naval style and who now is a most eloquent lecturer of molecular physics, is considered the campus Messiah. A story has been going around that he gave a fellow a permanent rather than a temporary with a devilish statistic generator. The lobby of the Chem. And now, ticka, pops and generally obliterate the individual along the perfumes front. To all the "pioneers of the airplane."

Future Trinity might some day enjoy the theaters in a proposed building designed by Frank Lloyd Wright—in 1927—will be built in West Hartford... In the November 16 Courant feature, "Grist from the Sports Mill" by Roger Dave, pleaded with sports directors to make theirs football games more appealing by: (1) Using a good P.A. system handled intelligently and not by the orthodontic student who struggles through the game with the spectacle. (2) Follow the approved numbering system of 80 for the end 70 for the tackle, 60 for guards, 50 for centers, and 40 and under for the backs. (A.C. Tripods... it looks as though the jumpers were pulled off a pole and handed to the boys as they flew through the locker room) (3) Get a decent scoreboard and line markers which don't require carrots and 20/20 vision in the spectator... (4) The "turtles" at the test??... Jim Branch has received information from the University of Bridgeport on the importance of forming a Trinity chapter of the American Society for the Advancement of the Shnou. Its aim is to "promote patriotism, community programs for social betterment, assistance to charitable organizations, economic improvement for all and the spread of happiness"... etc. At C. A."Camp's house really bed-honorably?" An explanation might be that the Univ. of Bridgeport occupies P. T. Barnum's former estate and the students think they've been steered by its spirit.

The Editors of this paper have received an anonymous letter which merits publication. However, it is the policy of The Tripod to publish letters which are signed by their authors. Hence, the contribution must be omitted.

"These are the guys who will provide first string leadership in the coming generation in Europe and Asia. And if we don't provide the equipment, the team won't come through."—Marie Joseph Pouaille.
Trin NSA Commission Investigators Find Library "Underpaid & Chaos"

Tribune Press, Inc.

81-83 Laurel Street

February 21, 1948

ATTORNEY WALTER D. STARR, the Special Assistant to the National Student Association, issued a report on the investigation of the library of Trinity College. The report states that the library is in a state of "underpaid & chaos," and that it requires significant improvements.

Trinity College Library

The report accuses the library of being "underpaid & chaos," and that it requires significant improvements. The committee found that the library is lacking in staff, equipment, and funds.

Library Conditions

The report highlights the library's insufficient collection, outdated equipment, and lack of staff. The library is described as having a "hug-e" collection of books, but these have not been properly cataloged or maintained. The committee suggests that the library needs more books and better cataloging systems.

Library Hours

The report also mentions that the library operates during the day and nights, but the hours of operation are not sufficient to meet the needs of the students. The committee recommends that the library extend its hours to accommodate the needs of students.

Library Budget

The report suggests that the library budget is insufficient to meet the needs of the students. The committee recommends that the library receive more funding to improve its services.

Library Staff

The report mentions that the library staff is insufficient to meet the needs of the students. The committee recommends that the library hire more staff to improve its services.

In summary, the report concludes that the library is in a state of "underpaid & chaos," and that it requires significant improvements. The committee recommends that the library receive more funding, extend its hours, and hire more staff to improve its services.
Without a football game on the Trinity schedule this past week end, more people followed the exploits of their other favorite grid teams. The Northwestern Wildcats, a small college which is guided by a miraculous goal-line stand on the part of the Cardinals. All Trin would have to do is to get past the next game this year, and even if Weslyan was a favorite to win, Trinity would probably make up for the long string of defeats at the hands of the Daniels-coached eleven.

The Hilltoppers have been beaten by the Cardinals in basketball for the past few years. It is very likely that this year's quintet can set up a jinx on the Hilltoppers in the small college which is guided by a miraculous goal-line stand on the part of the Cardinals. All Trin would have to do is to get past the next game this year, and even if Weslyan was a favorite to win, Trinity would probably make up for the long string of defeats at the hands of the Daniels-coached eleven.

The Intramural Basketball season will be getting underway in the very near future. Last year, the 2-Jox won the championship when they defeated Sigma Xi in the play off game. With two from three nights of basketball in the old gymnasium each week, there should be more than a few good games.

The 3-Jox will be defending their title, and there are more than a few teams who will be fighting to take the cup away from them.

The argument as to which team is the best is and will be argued even more so after the new team has proved itself in the first three weeks of basketball. Trinity is expected to bet first team, as was Penn the year before. The Hilltoppers have been beaten by the Cardinals in basketball for the past two years, a highly-geared Trinity team has been kept scoreless by its second straight season as champs of the Little Three, and Oklahoma in the Little Three and some of our other spring opponents. The basketball spectators, the removable bleachers, which were sold out again this year, will be used for the court side. A capacity of two thousand seats at the games will be augmented by another thousand for special events.

In the spring baseball, the weather will be a factor in the holding of the games. There will be plenty of room for the infielders to show off, as well as plenty of room for the outfielders to practice. The baseball practice will be conducted on days when adverse weather conditions prevent successful outdoor work. Such weather training will put our team in good condition. For the basketball spectators, the removable bleachers, which were sold out again this year, will be used for the court side. A capacity of two thousand seats at the games will be augmented by another thousand for special events.

In the fall, the basketball spectators, the removable bleachers, which were sold out again this year, will be used for the court side. A capacity of two thousand seats at the games will be augmented by another thousand for special events.

In the spring baseball, the weather will be a factor in the holding of the games. There will be plenty of room for the infielders to show off, as well as plenty of room for the outfielders to practice. The baseball practice will be conducted on days when adverse weather conditions prevent successful outdoor work. Such weather training will put our team in good condition. For the basketball spectators, the removable bleachers, which were sold out again this year, will be used for the court side. A capacity of two thousand seats at the games will be augmented by another thousand for special events.

In the spring baseball, the weather will be a factor in the holding of the games. There will be plenty of room for the infielders to show off, as well as plenty of room for the outfielders to practice. The baseball practice will be conducted on days when adverse weather conditions prevent successful outdoor work. Such weather training will put our team in good condition. For the basketball spectators, the removable bleachers, which were sold out again this year, will be used for the court side. A capacity of two thousand seats at the games will be augmented by another thousand for special events.
Hilltoppers Added Another Successful Football Campaign
Five And Two Record Compiled This Year

By Bob Blum

Trinity College turned out its third successful preparatory football team this year, winning five out of seven contests, and culminating in the famous victory over Middlebury and Wesleyan. Middlesex injuries handicapped the team toward the end of the seven games, but at all times the players performed as a skilled and effective unit.

September opened on October 2nd, with a 35-6 win over the best William team since 1942. Frank Ehlman, captured both on offense and defense, and the line showed great promise. From the first home game the team out-passed Amherst's squad at Middlebury in a game steeped in tradition.

The forces of letterwinners week provided spectators with the greatest offensive show that a Batman team has staged in thirty-three years, as the Jessemen whipped Nor­wich, 6-0. The third game was almost a duplication, as Trinity took the measure of Robert, 26-4, maintaining an average of better than 100 yards given a game, and fifty-points-a-game average. The Hilltoppers held both teams-in.".

The following week, however, the Blue and Gold force were beaten by a combination of Puerto Rico and a fighting Middlebury eleven, 24-13. Containing these three unknowns for victors; Ehlen and Corcoran for the Hartford.

Don Seymour Switched to Center

Don Jesse worked the hulking squad at a touchmore and the week following in a victory over a poor Worcester Tech team, 26-4. For the Amherst game the last home game of the season, Jesse was forced to switch "Cy" Seymour to the pivotal position since Lamb​<n>​Avery and Bob Spurdle of Hellertown, born, Maurer, Barry, Wol​<n>​n. Stare here both on offense and de­

The efforts of lettermen, including Bill Pitkin, always a hard fighter and a threat under the board, who will most likely be the center of attention next year. Of course all keen observers of the court game will sorely miss last year's center and captain, Edward (Red) Faber, who has taken his place among Trinity's all­ time greats.

But Evington, head of the department of Physical Education, and the like­ the most stunning upset on the gridiron last Saturday was the uprising of the Pitt Panther. This result was not too terribly shock­

When we take into consideration the fact the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a game steeped in tradition, the Nittany Lions were playing under a great deal of pressure to preserve their undefeated skin, and at the same time contesting a ga...
DELTA PSI: The issuance of midterm academic grades has markedly affected life on the hill. No sooner had Brother Stearns received his marks than he resolvedly set out for so prominent a center of tradition as Harvard University, presumably to find a suitable spending match for the semester's tuition bill. It is the policy of the fraternity to provide for the educational needs of its members.
That said, the final exam of the first term is just around the corner. It is the last day of the semester, and many of the brothers remain pressed for time to study.

ALPHA DELTA PHI: For close two weeks now, the "boys" have been relishing the delights of fall weather.
Yesterday, Brother Howard enjoyed a cigarette on the golf course, relishing the crisp, sunny day.

ALPHA CHI IRO: A group of five brothers went on an outing to the nearby lake. They returned late night with tales of their encounter with a large fish. It was a thrilling evening for all involved.

DELTA KAPPA EPHESUS: Planning to get away for the coming vacation with a little jazz still in the pole, remaining almost on mass around here for the weekend, "just to see what Harvard has to offer on such weeks." They found out, to their surprise, that Groves was wondering how he could have become estranged of THAT

THE TRINITY TRIPOD
November 24, 1948

Down Frontier Row

The week saw Brother Albie Earling and Pledge Louis Moots and Ted Lar-ramore (all big game hunters) strike out into the wilderness armed with their "trusty shotgun" in search of prey. The hunting was slow, but the two remain optimistic for the future.

DELTA PHI: Fallen into a pre-Thanksgiving vacation lethargy, found the work singularly quiet.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is November's number of The TRINITY TRIPOD. As always, we hope it will be as interesting as the last issues, and that you will continue to enjoy our publication.

JOHN J. DONOHER

November 24, 1948

President, Delphi Club

FLYING TO THE MIGHTIER

"Chesterfield is the cigarette I smoke in my new picture,
AN INNOCENT AFFAIR.
I always enjoy their MILDER, BETTER TASTE...
It's my cigarette."