Deicides Commercialization of Lounges

It has recently come to my attention that a certain men's clothing store, Stonerberg's by name, has been using my understanding that the numerous student lounges located on campus are for the convenience of the students themselves. A lounge is supposed to be a place where a student may relax, read, or indulge in a bit of idle talk between classes. Just how can any student relax while bombarded by a line of incessant hawking from so many peddlers?

It would be a different story if the business was located out of town and only came to Trinity as twice a year, but Stonerberg's is not located fifty yards from the end of the college property. If there is a need of commercialism in apparel to continue, soon the student lounges will become nothing but bargain bazaars. The presence of these local commercial enterprises in the student lounges is not only objectionable but also defeats the original purposes of the lounges themselves.

Political, Moral Issues, TRIPOD's Concern

To the Editor of the Tri>od:

This reader would like to commend all those responsible for the composition and publication of this article. "Speaking of the South," by Mr. Pott, reminded us that the presence of such enterprising enterprises as "Sanford's" to the South, has become a part of the Southern way of life. The presence of these local commercial enterprises in the student lounges is not only objectionable but also defeats the original purposes of the lounges themselves.

Beautiful Blonde From Texas Named Queen of Third Annual Military Ball

Dance Most Successful Of Trinity Military Balls

The highlight of the third annual JROTC Ball, held Friday evening at the Hartford Club, was the naming of Miss Frances Benedum as Queen. Miss Benedum, who lives in San Antonio, Texas, and attains Trinity Junior College in New York City, was crowned by John Parker, '56. Miss Benedum was escorted to the stage with a pearl necklace donated by Mr. William and Mrs. Robert Jewett.

Paul Landesman and his orchestra provided the entertainment. The band was conducted by Mr. Robert Taylor, who was also the recipient of the prize pot-luck, a pine-cone ceremonial dance. The band played a variety of music which proved to be exceedingly enjoyable in the minds of the approximately 200 couples who were in attendance, the largest show at any Trinity Military Ball.

At intermission, Major John B. Felix acted as Master of Ceremonies, and named twelve senators as the outstanding military students in the class. Those named were: William Jankowski, Raylo Lorcanore, Thomas dePalatke, David Smith, F. Robert Forte, Clayton Cough, John Wynne, Patricia Fargan, Patricia Duke, forty couples attending.

Five courses in German not including language. Legislation last year, Trinity was the best admitted a pearl necklace donated by Mr. Topi.

Topics of the four sessions are: "The Background of Contemporary International Politics," "Foreign Policy of the Soviet Union," and "Soviet-American Relations." The lectures will be held in the Chemistry Auditorium on December 10 and 17, and January 7 and 14.

Delta Phi to Entertain 41 Children at Party

Forty-one underprivileged children from the Women's League of North Hartford will be guests of the Delta Phi Fraternity at the college on December 15 from 5:30 to 7:30 P.M. The children, ranging in age from six to thirty years, will be picked up by Arthur White and returned to the college at the end of the festivities to their respective homes. Each member of the Fraternity will assign a child for whom he will buy a gift.

The party itself will be highlighted by the distribution of gifts by Santa Claus, the President's Court, and the college Shoppe, which is furnishing projects, films, and screen. A dinner for the children will be included. The activities will be climaxd by the singing of Christmas Carols.

The boys and girls, many of whom are orphans, are attended by the Student Nursing Officers of Hartford Hospital. A personnel entertainment is being planned for the doors, and refreshments will be served.

Faculty O.K.'s New Language Majors

At the last Faculty Senate meeting, the faculty approved majors in French, Spanish, and German, as a result of a student petition.

For a student to major in the department of foreign languages, he must take five courses in French or five courses in Spanish including courses in French or Spanish, or a minimum of 101-102 does not count for the major. The student majoring in French or Spanish must elect three courses beyond 111-112 in either French or Spanish, including 211-212 and 213-214, or other two courses in one other romance language.

The new German major requires five courses in German, not including 101-102.

Students interested in either of these new majors should consult faculty members in the Romance Languages or the German Department.

Professor G. B. Cooper Interprets News Events Mon. Nights on WRTC

Mr. George B. Cooper of the history department is conducting a new radio program of News Events, Monday nights at 9:00 P.M. on WRTC.

The program is designed as an interpretation of current events, such as developments in Korea and the Near East, the Washington political scene, and elections of world-wide importance. These topics are analyzed in what members of the WRTC staff consider a "very informative" gram.

Mr. Cooper is well versed in cosmopolitan developments and is equally suited for the role of newswriter. He studied at the University of London during 1938-39 and returned to London as the U.S. Vice Consul in which position he served from 1944-46. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of the American Historical Association.

Ivy League Ball Slated For Christmas Vacation

The Annual Greater Hartford Ivy League Ball, scheduled for December 26 in the Hartford Club, will feature the music of Eddie Witteness's ten-piece orchestra.

Freshman Cagers Beaten by Yale, 67-60
Magelanner and Roberts High Scorers

Trinity’s freshman basketball club came up against a hard-fighting Yale yeareman team Saturday night, and the Tri-ns ended up on the short side of a 67-60 score.

In the opening minutes of play, the fresh were held scoreless, while Yale hit for five baskets. Finally, Lou Magelanner popped in two shots for Trinity, and then Dave Roberts and Bob Freeman kept up the Trin attack.

“Play in the third quarter was fast and furious. With Freeman continuing to spark the attack, the Trin pulled to within three points of the Yale score. But the Elis were equal to the task and scored eight quick points. At the end of the period, the count was Yale 54, Trinity 44.

Late in the fourth period, the locals put on a drive to catch up with their opponents, but the time ran out with Yale ahead by seven points. Magelanner and Roberts were high scorers for Trinity, with 16 points apiece.

Placed Second in Foul Shooting Last Season

Just after the Trinity-Tuffs football game, which closed the gridiron campaign, left-handed Dave Smith tore into the dressing room, changed his uniform, and rushed into the field house, ready to assume his duties as captain of the basketball team. The 6’1”, 200-pound forward is playing his third and final year of varsity basketball for the Hilltoppers.

Dave is primarily a defensive player, and an outstanding one, but he also does a good share of the team’s scoring. Last winter he was the 8th highest scorer on the club, but he was second high man at foul shooting. He was a leading score in the New Eng-land Invitational Tournament last year.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 29...THE HYENA

Hysteria reigns from the moment he heard the details of those quick-trick cigarette mildness tests.

First he giggled...then he guffawed...wound-up rolling in the aisle! He knew that the "single sniff" test or the "one puff" test didn't prove anything! Millions of smokers have reached the same conclusion — there's just one test that really proves cigarette flavor and mildness!

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

Three Frosh Revive 'Ham' Radio Station

This fall another extra-curricular interest has been introduced, or rather revived, on this campus. Three enthusiastic freshmen, Bert Wood, Thomas Callahan, and Owen Gardner, have begun rebuilding a ham radio station transmitter which has been unused since 1947.

As a club project in 1946, the ham radio station WJDJ operated from Jarvis Physics Laboratory until the recent discontinuance with the opening of WRTC.

Additional Equipment Used

With the backing of the physics professors, a high power transmitter is being constructed by the freshmen. It is to be in operation within three weeks. Army surplus radio equipment is being utilized along with the equipment from the transmitter which was previously used. The rebuilt set is to be run between five-hundred and seven-hundred watts, and it is expected that both code and voice will be used.

Met "Louise" Composer

However, one non-French rule which she does like is that of Louise in the Charpentier opera. Before the 1947 revival of "Louise" at the Met, Miss Kirsten went to southern France to visit the aged composer of the opera in his rustic home. "He is a very old but fine man. He told me "Louis" and I was going to Europe again this spring," Miss Kirsten told us, before she had a good night's sleep at the Bond, she said, as he made off through a great crowd of admiring fans.
