Extra-Athenaeum Holds Discussion of Tradition

Three speakers, a freshman, a sophomore and a senior, will attempt Friday night to clarify the issues involved in the recent outbreak of fratern-soror rivalry.

The discussion, sponsored by the Athenaeum Society, will take place in the Chemistry Auditorium from 7 until 9 p.m.

Gloria Swanson Denounces Glamour

"I'd Rather Be Called Old Shake"

Gloria Swanson, up now with Welles, noted that glamour is "a deceptive charm. The lady who has been so often called "glamorous" is most often veiled in her feeling that the term is unfair to her and she will have none of it. I hate the word glamour; it signifies artificiality. One must be brave enough to say, 'I am glamorous by nature.' Glamour is a cheap substitute for the real thing; I might as well call an 'old shake' glamorous or not Miss Swanson is still pleasant to the eye and a charming conversationalist."

We were able to devise Miss Swanson long enough, though, to present her with a Trinity College beer mug which Professor Fuss was hand-somely decorated with her name. For picture Miss Swanson took us into Paris bachelor apartment which was the stage setting and when the camera man had some difficulty with his film."

Three of the leading figures in the Jesters' forthcoming production are now featured: Stan Avrilias, Producer George N. Nichols, III, and Blal Ogden.

Students to Ballot On New School Ring

The student body will be asked in a vote for their choice of ring design and type for a new school ring, next Wednesday and Thursday mornings, November 14 and 15, from 8 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. near Hamlin Acre.

The Senate decided Monday night to hold this student ballot following a ring display in the library the remainder of this week, and a public display near Hamlin Acre on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Following a showing and discussion of different ring types by a representative from the Bogen and Chest Ring Company, the Senators decided on three different types of rings to be presented before the student body. Information on prices, design, and type will be indicated with the display.

Senator President Ted Thomas has been told that the scorecard has been taken to the finer jewellers and will be moved to the other side of the football field before the Trinity-Westlake game on November 17.

WRTC Record Stock Increases to 10,000

Free, harmonious and benign of temper litted the usual dry WRTC office Monday morning. Dr. Rosen D. Rote, delivering a eulogy of the newly acquired Rota disc collection, came out of the Music Roes to ex-plain the construction project.

The Harvard Times station, WTH, has just increased Trinity's record with a collection of 16-inch transcription discs. To salute these and the many new releases constantly received, Dr. Rosen and Don Miller, '55, have designed and built extensive new shelves to supplement the old ones in the Music Room.

The number of transcription discs given by WTH are for the most part standard popular and classical numbers and include complete recording repertories of the Emma Coteoble Glee Club. This addition brings WRTC's collection to a total of over 10,000 tunes.

New releases include some good graduate, college, and university material, particularly of the Emile Coteoble Glee Club. This addition brings WRTC's collection to a total of over 10,000 tunes.

The four-person cast of "The Jesters" has been selected, and the students will be asked to select a queen to high-light Dance. For Drop November 15, though, which was a matchy versus matchy affair, taken by the Jesters in their arena-style performances. An attempt made to bring the beauty pageant by inserting two showers has necessitated the selection of a new queen. A new queen is selected, the building and stages are put together.

Ancecdotes Enliven Editor's Talk's Work

He stated that these are two ways of writing sports. One is writing from the statistical side of a contest, and the other is going on a human interest side. He personally prefers to 'analyze a game', but he is well qualified to use as he knows personalities of every athlete of his time. Throughout his talk, he related interesting incidents in the career of various athletes. As an encouragement to those con-... (Continued on page 6.)

EDITORIAL

The frosh-Soph Incident

The editorial on frosh spirit in last week's Tripod certainly has had its repercussions among freshmen.

The incident which followed the meeting of the sophomore class has had repercussions which are far beyond what were desired. Leaving the frosh-soph rivalry, the class was naturally "talking up" the enforcement of the rules for freshmen.

Goaded by the occupants of a third-floor room, some of this group indulged in a fashion which they described as "trolling" a dormitory corridor. This was a splintered dorr and a cascade of feathers from a ripped pillow. Other than upset furniture, the tales of total destruction have been considerably overblown.

Certainly no one of the Frosh-Soph group of persons would have undertaken such a chastisement of the taunting frosh. What happened was the result of mob psychology.

The sophomore class is the most pampered for their action, even though wrong. Certainly any other large group or any other class at Trinity would have done the same, had they been put in a similar situation. Several members of this class have now been summoned to appear before the Medusa. The Tripod feels that, in view of the circumstances, any punitive action by that body or by the administration is entirely unjustified, unwarrented and unnecessary.

Furthermore, the Tripod feels that the open calling-down of the sophomore class president, as a symbol of that class, was uncalled for. Like the coach or manager of a losing ball team, he was made the "fall guy" for the group.

The freshmen, on the other hand, must admit that they—or at least some of them—"called for it" by their remarks directed at the sophomores. Many members of this class have also been taken to task for having violated "traditions"—chiefly, failing to wear beannies. Again the Tripod feels that punishment is uncalled for, as the spirit of wearing beannies, should have given a day's notice that hereafter frosh cannot freshen without their dink would be subject to disciplinary action.

All in all, the incidents of Monday have all been vastly over-stated by the media. The recent past intended to enforce the dink-wearing rule. The frosh must abide by the decision. The culprits who have been caught on both sides should "go free" and a new, less emotional approach started.

Roto Performance at Wes Game?

There has been some talk about having the ROTC perform at the Weeden-Trinity football game. I wonder if this is what you had in mind when you mentioned the possibility of having the ROTC perform at the football game? It seems to me that the ROTC could add a unique and exciting element to the game, providing entertainment and a sense of community.

A comprehensive plan for an all-inclusive College Fraternity Competition was presented to the I.F.C. by Dean Clark on behalf of the college last week. The proposed competition, which the I.F.C. has considered at its next regular meeting, covers four divisions: 1. Administration (or more properly, relations of fraternity members to the students of the Hartford community); 2. Scholarship; 3. Special Events Contests (a consolidation of such activities as the Inter-Fraternity Sing, Effigy, and Bridge contests); 4. Athletic Contests (contemporary to our present intramural program).

In accordance with the plan, a master award will be presented for the winner of the over-all competition. Awards will be given to winners of each of the four divisions. The Dean's proposal and the manner in which it was prepared indicate that much time has gone into its formulation; but it is to be hoped that college students could conscientiously vote it through.

What the plan does, in effect, is to coordinate the four divisions of Scholastics, Sing, Games (effigy), Bridge, and Intramurals, for which awards are now set up, and to merge them with a category encompassing social behavior.

Under this heading of "Administration," 300 points are credited to each chapter at the beginning of the year subject to the following deductions:

A deduction of ten points for conviction of a member by the I.F.C. for violation of a college or council regulation. A deduction of 10 points for convictions by members at the houses of illegal fraternities and a corresponding subtraction of ten points from the man's own fraternity: a deduction of up to ten points may be made by a committee of junior members of a chapter in the event of a fratricide, or a member of a fraternity, the complaint not being within the I.F.C.

Under a sub-division called "Management," points are given to chapters in the event of the chapter's membership, including students listed in residence and lists party applications within a stipulated time, failure of a house representative to attend I.F.C. and Senate meetings, and for the withholding of information called for by the I.F.C. Ten points are to be deducted should chapter indulge in "Hell Week.

Another section stipulates that points are credited to the houses which successfully carry out community work projects.

A further section stipulates that points are awarded in the houses of excellence which successfully carry out community work projects.

To refresh your memories, Professor Perkins was saddened by the football field, under the watchful eyes of the students here at Trinity.

Atheneum Increases Over Threefold; Plans Wide Intercollegiate Program

By Ed Jasper

The activity of the Trinity Atheneum Society last year plus the full program it is carrying out at present are ample proof that the value of the organization cannot be over-estimated. From a membership of under a dozen a few years ago, the Club has increased its number by more than threefold. Interclub debates are scheduled for every week of the school year, and an extensive intercollegiate program is being developed.

The four Trinity men, Richard Hall, Eldred Hubbert, Allis Martin, and Bruce Fox, who represented the Society at the Invitational Debate Tournament at the University of Connecticut, October 27, did an excellent job (picture above). The negative team, consisting of Hall and Hubbert, were surprised in debates won by only two of the thirty teams represented. Members of sixteen New England Colleges were present. The national topic debated was "Resolved that the United States Government Should Control Prices and Wages."

Faculty Gives Support

Evidence of the increasing support the Atheneum Society is getting from faculty members was given when Mr. Candeleit, Mr. Schirk, Mr. E. Vogel, and Dr. Cameron.

Use Wire Recorder

Credit should also be given to Mr. John Danio, sponsor of the organization, for without his endeavors the Atheneum Society could never have prospered as it has. His extensive experience in radio work and speech enables him to give excellent criticism and coaching to the Club members.

Debating gives its participants unlimited experience in the art of addressing an audience and thinking on one's feet. It also teaches students to do research, to prepare their cases so that they reach a logical conclusion, and to think clearly and carefully. Last but not least, debating brings out interesting points on current topics which are handled. About a year ago the Club began using a wire recorder so that debaters could hear their own arguments and note their own mistakes.

Debating enthusiasm at Trinity is still spreading, and it is estimated by club officers that within a year the Atheneum Society will again have doubled its membership.

Number of Students Invited to Vassar

A limited number of Trinity upperclassmen have been invited to Vassar College this Saturday and Sunday. Students will leave the College by bus early Saturday afternoon and arrive at Vassar at 5:00 p.m. for dinner and dance. They will stay overnight at the school and return for home Sunday morning. Those interested in attending may sign up at the Don's office.

Forty freshmen have also been invited to Vassar for a dinner and dance on Saturday evening. They will also leave by bus early Saturday afternoon, but will return after the dance that night. Those interested may sign up with Mario Cambell, Jarvis 24, or Dave Diming in Southey 27.

This is another affair sponsored jointly by Dean Clarke and the Freshman Executive Council.

Seventy-six Page Chapel Books Being Sold Now In The Bookstore For $1.00

Now on sale for $1.00 each in the Union Store are copies of a seventy-six page book describing the chapel, its memorials, symbolism, and treasure.

The book, published by the College, includes material printed in two earlier booklets on the chapel by the late Rev. Dr. Remsen B. Ogilivy, president of the college from 1920 until 1944. The new edition was revised by Chaplain Gerald B. O'Grady, Jr., and Mr. Robert M. Bishop, Director of Public Relations.

The new book includes about one-third previously unpublished material and is illustrated and indexed for the first time. A numbering system facilitates identification of the chapel features by visitors.

Produce in its illustration of the wooden pew ends, the stone carvings, and views of the smaller chapels and the main sanctuary itself, the book is invaluable to either the student studying the building or the casual outsider touring the chapel. Such a compendium has been long needed by the college community as a whole, and should be bought immediately.

WDRC to Air Cooper On English Elections

Dr. George B. Cooper, assistant professor of history, will appear on the first broadcast of the Sixth Annual Trinity College Radio Series, to be presented over Bratton WDRC, 1050 on the dial, at 1:00 p.m. on Sunday, November 11. Dr. Cooper will discuss the recent British elections.

Each week a different member of the faculty will speak on subjects of interest.

Intramural Season Drawing to Close; Dekes Win Title in American Loop

With but one more week of intramural football left to play, it looks as if the championships of such league sports are pretty well decided. On Tuesday, in the top National League game of the week, Sigma Nu once again showed its intention to take another league championship by downing the Crows 16-0. On the same afternoon, Theta Xi piled up another counter in the Theta League with a win over Zeta Psi, 6-3, in a winner-take-all game scheduled for the same afternoon was postponed because of the rain.

Football Season Closes This Week
This week witnessed the closing of the official intramural touch season with four games played, three in the American League. The only really decisive game of the week was this afternoon’s match between the Crows and Theta Xi. Other games this week were the Comm-Club-Tau Alpha and Delta Psi-North content played yesterday and the Dekes-Bravo-will game this afternoon. The playoffs between Sigma Nu and the Dekes will probably be scheduled for an early in next week as possible.

Trinity snapped a 10-year losing streak back in the 19th century by crushing the Amherst Aggies 23-4 in the 1875. The Bantams, who first played Yale in 1877, are playing their 74th game of the season.

When last season's star fullback, Dick Nuni, enlisted in the Air Force, Dan Jones, hard put for a replacement, decided to try at the position a local professional named “Hum” DelMastro.

DelMastro had confined his duties to the half-back position, but he had decided to give the half-back position a try. It was a most desperate and happy choice, for DelMastro has been one of the club's mainstays this season. He has gained 230 yards, while scoring 42 points on 7 touchdowns. And he has been a tower of strength playing at his old defensive half-back position.

Scored Two TD's in '56
Last year, DelMastro carried the ball only 12 times, gaining 47 yards and scoring two touchdowns for 12 points.

“Hum” (his real name is Umberto) is a junior from Hartford and he played at Waver High School before coming to Trinity. At Weaver he played football, basketball, and baseball, all of which he has participated in at Trinity. He is twenty years old and is rather small for a fullback, standing five feet, nine inches tall and weighing 169 pounds.

DelMastro and Magnoli Most of the slack has been taken up by DelMastro and Magnoli, the Goal Line Twins. Magnoli has borne the brunt of the ball-carrying offensive line thus far, totting the pigskin 61 times for a net gain of 218 yards, an average of 3.5 yards per carry. DelMastro, running only 41 times, has gained 209 yards, for a remarkable average of 5.1 yards per carry. Goralski, carrying 22 times before he was hurt, gained 112 yards, averaging 5.5 per run.

Kulas and Ratcliffe Are Outstanding, Vibe and St. Pierre Most Improved

Goralski Returns For Amherst Game

By Dave Fisher

"We have had our share of injuries, nevertheless the individual improvement of such players as Roger St. Pierre, Mike Vibe, and Tom Kulas, has enabled this year's team to be tough enough to knock back the Leech. Herr DeMauro has kept us moving."

Summing up the varsity football situation in one sentence, coach Don Janson went on to say that the most cogging handicap of the year has been a shortage of backs, and he mentioned that both Bill Kulas and Mike Vibe from the backfield, Bobs to Art French, Tom Head, and John Westworth have tied the team, and in a dummy scrimmage on a Wednesday evening. The regulars have been able to run when they have tied the team up, and this has been before Thanksgiving. The Trinity Leade in Statistics

The total figures are decidedly in Trinity's favor, showing total offensive records of 1917 yards gained as against 950 for the combined opponents. Bill Kulas is the team's punting this year, kicking 15 times for 126 yards, Bogoslofski carrying them for 90 yards, all but two passes. Dick Fowler, Frankie Hayes, Bobo and triple A circuits is approximately the brand of baseball played in the major leagues, but the class A and minor league, with more small-collcge powerhouses, is also a strong and as a whole by injuries, much more so than the college game, much more so than the college game. Dick has averaged 90% of the country's fencing records of 1737 yards gained as against 993 for the combined opponents. This contest against 993 for the combined opponents. Up until this time he had played with such stars as Dick Fowler, Frankie Hayes, Bobs and triple A circuits is approximately the brand of baseball played in the major leagues, but the class A and minor league, with more small-collcge powerhouses, is also a strong and as a whole by injuries, much more so than the college game, much more so than the college game. Dick has averaged 90% of the country's fencing records of 1737 yards gained as against 993 for the combined opponents. This contest statistics, it is the line that does the most work, the line that has already proven us wrong in our prediction. Three Games

The trifecta of last year's winning Trinity football team was defeated last Saturday in Amherst, Mass., by the College of the Holy Cross, 19-17. The scoring was as follows: Trinity, first period, 6, second period, 7; Holy Cross, first period, 12, second period, 5.

instrument, Miss Swanson, stated:
"I have been photographed a few times, you know," she gave him some expert directions.
"Nina" had its American premiere
at the Paragon last Thursday evening.
Co-starring with Miss Swanson are the English actors Alan Webb and David Niven. The play is an imaginative treatment of the conventional triangle love affair and Miss Swanson handled her two lovers with assured skill. This is the second play she has appeared in since her triumphant return to the screen in "Sweet Boulvard." After finishing that move two years ago, Miss Swanson was seen best season in "Twentieth Century" in New York. After it ran in Boston and Philadelphia, "Nina" will play on Broadway later this year.

Miss Swanson expects "Nina" to occupy her for some time. She has no immediate plans for any movies
because, "you can't make any commitments in a thing like this." When asked whether she preferred silent films to talkies Miss Swanson said it had been so long since she had made a silent film she couldn't remember. She stressed the importance of publicism in the silent and from her enthusiasm about it and from her performance of "Nina" we rather suspect she prefers that manner of acting.
"Nina" has been rehearsed just three weeks, Miss Swanson told us
and she has found the role a demanding one. The company came to Harford last Monday and aside from going from the Road to the theater Miss Swanson has done nothing but work on her lines. "I usually try to get eight hours sleep, but here I'm lucky if I get six. They don't feed me either! Look how thin I'm getting!"
This was probably the first time in history an actress has complained of being too thin.

Miss Swanson asked if her song
New York would be washed without being repainted. It could, and as we left the dressing room we saw the lady's portable dressing room eating a vegetable broth steadily cycling the mug.

TIME Calls Us "Grave and Fatalistic"
In Feature On Younger Generation

The younger generation is grave and fatalistic, according to the last issue of Time magazine.

In a feature article entitled "The Younger Generation" the weekly news magazine's editors have attempted to make the first nationwide appraisal of what the youth of the country are thinking and saying about politics, religion, morals, and a host of other subjects.

Draft Threatens

Because of the limitations of the draft nation, most college boys have come to take a careless attitude towards their studies because they feel study is useless if the army is soon to claim their lives. Thus the claim that the boys of today are grave and fatalistic.

The morals of the new generation
are "confused" according to the article. The recent dope and sex scandals are pointed up as indicative of this generation's moral tone.

Career and Marriage

The girls want, for the most part,
two things—a career and marriage.
They do everything on a par with their male contemporaries, but there is still evidence that their rapid ascent to equality has not entirely pleased the female sex. There is still a definite hunger for a home and a family, and,
along with it, security, the goal of ev-
everyone in this new generation.

Intellectually, the youth of today are a bit stodgy. Educators across the country have bemoaned the fact that their students do not have any militant beliefs. Only by extreme statements can they gain any stir out of their dullest classes.

All in all, the feature is bound to provoke much comment from students
all over the country.

Schedule Lengthened
By Library Staff

Hearing the pleas of many patrons,
the Freeborn Inter-Dormitory Council has requested a change in Library hours. A revised schedule became effective last Sunday, November 1.
The closing time has been moved up 11 p.m. on Sunday through Thursday nights of each week.

At present this change is tentative.
However, if sufficient interest is shown and a genuine need exists, the later closing hour will become a fixture.
