Athenaeum Representatives
Journey to Debate at McGill

Bruce Fox and Keith Black
Make Northern Debate Tour

For the first time in its history, the Athenaeum will send two representatives out of the country to debate a foreign team.

The two Athenaeum representatives will leave Thursday, October 25, when Bruce Fox and Keith Black will depart for McGill University in Montreal, Canada, to uphold the negative topic of "Resolved: That the People of the Republic of Red China Be Admitted to the United Nations." Others in Town

Included also in this northern debate tour were Middlebury, the University of Vermont, and Williams. The topic of debate, according to Willia m, was the national subject: "Resolved: That the United States Should Enact a Compulsory Fair Employment Law," under which conditions the Middlebury, same as that held at McGill.

Since the team had not yet returned by the time the Tripod went to press, the results cannot be published.

Two debates will take place, on Saturday, November 5, between 5 and 8 p.m. The first is between former members of the Society, the Elihu School. On Sunday, November 6, the elimination rounds will take place between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The Executive Board of the Tripod has announced that the two students will be named in a separate editorial.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

In answer to the Independent Student for Stevenson's questions of last week.

Dear Sir: It seems that Mr. Whitlock has used his opinion as his basis for asking questions and demanding answers and then wondered why we don't agree with it.

1. Helping Mr. Eisenhower in his speech writing are such men as Mason, Donner, Warren, the Lodge, Dulles, and Duff. I do not see them as such "bad" counselors. Nor do I recognize those men of "such isolationist characteristics" in his speeches. Mr. Eisenhower has never taken advice blindly to answer a slightly headed question.

2. Immediately after his nomination, Mr. Eisenhower announced that he would support every Republican congressional candidate in order to present a united front before the American people. He was not inconsistent in supporting Moser. McCarthy and Jenner, since they are Republican candidates and his policy had been announced. In a two-party system such as America has there is bound to be a varied degree of opinion in each party; it is the job of the leader to unify his party to achieve a common end. He has come out against McCarthy's smear tactics in Milwaukee, a warning which I interpret to mean that he would not allow the Senate to continue them if he became President.

3. With a new administration, there will be a change-over of agency, commission, and departmental leadership and membership. The Hoover Commission's report to streamline government will be carried through more fully. Expensive and corruptible practices such as the Department of Justice, James Howard McGrath, will be discontinued. Mr. Eisen- enhower says corruption can be stopped, while Mr. Tru- man excuses it as a by-product of big business.

4. Mr. Eisenhower has neither indicated a reversal of his international leanings, nor has he accepted the mistakes of the Truman-Dowey era. He has put forth a positive foreign policy with an ultimate goal of isolating European and Asian aggressors. He does not follow along with the Truman-Stevenson negative policy of containment.

5. Since the war has been a question of the survival of the administrat- ing people of our time, in both war and its aftermath, his military background and training are very great aids in judging present-day issues. We refer to him as a Stevenson man. He has put forth a positive foreign policy with an ultimate goal of isolating European and Asian aggressors. He does not follow along with the Truman-Stevenson negative policy of containment.

6. But the book has something more than just current interest, for the Governor is becoming more and more widely acclaimed as one of the nation's outstanding speakers. The high point of the book, quite exclusively, comes with the first speech, his acceptance of the Democratic nomination in Chicago.

The introduction by John Steinbeck is interesting only in that it brings out the tone of the trend among modern authors, such as Steinbeck, Kerouac, and Dos Passos, to throw their support to Stevenson. The book also contains biography of Stevenson, which sounds as though it came from the public relations mills of the Democratic National Committee.

To anyone who wishes to seriously consider the issues of the day and their relation to the presidential race, we recommend this book enough.

A Review... Stevenson Speeches, with a foreword by John Stein- beck; Random House, New York: 1952—$1.00.

Random House has published an invaluable guide for the American voter in their collection of Gover- nor Stevenson's last speeches on campaign issues. If such a book could be made from the talks of General Eisenhower, voters would be presented with a much clearer view of where each candidate stands.

The editors have done a remarkable job in selecting the speeches, most of them given in the month of September, which reveal Stevenson's position on just about every vital issue of the day.

Dorm Regulations Outlined by Clarke

Dean Clarke was present at the meeting of the Upperclass Intercollegiate Council on Monday evening to outline the duties of members of the organization.

The Dean pointed out that members are expected to conduct affairs in the dormitories, seeing that students act as policemen and obey the rules established by the Senate and the dormitories. A second duty is representative dormitory students in college authorities and seeking to improve dormitory conditions. As a third point, Dean Clarke discussed the obligation of carrying out the rules pertaining to open house privileges in dormitories during weekends. Women may enter dormitories on Saturdays and Sundays from 2:00 P.M. until 9:00 P.M., although on football weekends open house hours are from after games until 9:00 P.M.

Officers of the Council are William Gorski, President; Stanley McConnell, Vice-president; and David Kennedy, Secretary. Other members appointed by the Senate are Paul Bryant, Charles Collins, and John Miller.

SPECIAL NOTE!

College students prefer Luckies in nation-wide survey!

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette—and at a white margin. No. 1 reason given—Luckies' better taste. Survey also showed Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made to be better, cleaner, fresher, smoother.

Take a Lucky from a newly opened pack and carefully remove the paper by tearing down the seam from end to end. Be sure to start on the seam. In tearing, don't crush or dig into the tobacco. Then, gently lift out the cinder. See how free Luckies are of air spaces — "hot spots" that smoke hot, harsh and dry—from low ends that taste bad. Note that Luckies' long strands of fine, mild tobacco are packed firmly to draw smoothly and evenly—to give you cleaner, fresher, smoother smoke. Yes, Luckies are made to taste better! So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today.

Survey Tells What Students Think of During Lectures

Chicago, III.—(S.F.)—A survey of what students actually think about in class, conducted by Benjamin B. Blooms, associate professor of educator and ex­aminer in the College of the University of Chicago, reveals in lecture classes and in three discussion groups students spent almost two-thirds of their time thinking about the topic discussed or being lectured on. In the remaining third of the time their thoughts were irrelevant to the classwork.

In discussion classes, one-third of the thinking is made up of trying to solve problems that come out in the discussion. About a quarter of the time is spent in thinking about the people, including oneself and the danger of being called upon. In lectures, students spend forty per cent of the time necessarily following the lecture. A different kind of thinking from the problem solving involved in discussion classes. Various psychological tests were applied to students reporting on what they thought in class. Those whose personalities were considered negative had two different kinds of thoughts. Those who had negative thinking criticized what was being said in class. Less bright students mentally criticized other people in class, including their clothes, appearance, and conduct.

Boothmen Swarm Over Monson 27-6

Sticka Counts Twice In 2nd Win

Clutching the contest on the second play of the game, Trinity's unbeaten freshman eleven gained an easy triumph over a hard-fighting Monson squad, 27-6.

After the Blue and Gold's Jerry Maher intercepted a pass deep in enemy territory, and Jerry Pauley shook himself free to grab a thirty-eight yard TD toss from Fred St. Joan. The Bantams countered once more in the initial period on an eighteen yard jolt by fullback Charlie Sticka.

The half closed with an eighty-two yard march by the Monson eleven as Bill Higgins plunged over from the two yard marker. Undaunted, Trinity marched for two more touchdowns on drives of forty and twelve yards. After stalling off a series of successful plays, Sticka once again crossed the goal on a two yard plunge. Maher tallied the final six-pointer of the afternoon after a Monson fumble had been recovered by the Blue and Gold on the twelve yard line.

Sports Shorts...

The Bantams booster now lead the New England Intercollegiate Soccer League with a perfect 4-0 record. Yale and Springfield, previously tied with the Blue and Gold, played to a 1-1 deadlock, leaving the Dathmen with the only squad with an unspotted record.

Panther Humbled By Defense

By Ted Oxholm

Two Juniors, Tom Hill and Mike Thomas, led the way this Saturday as the Bantams won their 7th straight contest over Middlebury by a 41 to 14 score. Scoring in every quarter, and three times in the record, the Jessee men piled up a total of 379 yards rushing as compared with 51 for the Panthers.

Trinity took an early 7 to 0 lead in the initial period as Thomas commenced the 53 yard drive with a 4 yard plunge to pay dirt. Frank Lentz, who was a mechanical range finder for the entire game, made the first of his 5 conversions. Meanwhile the Panthers were as overcome by the Tyne defense that they accumulated a total of minus 5 yards during the first half.

Logan Aerials Help

The second quarter scoring spree commenced as soon as the period opened. Hum Del Mastro hopped over the center of the line for the first touchdown. Four minutes later Middlebury fumbled on their own 42 and Hill pounced on it. Then a Logan-to-Smith aerial put the ball on the 31, and from there Del Mastro, Thomas and Hill took turns carrying the pigskin, with Hill finally tucking the end zone on an off-tackle reverse. Near the end of the session Del Mastro returned a Panther punt to the 15, and on the ensuing play Hum rushed it 14 more yards. From there, Mike Thomas scurried across the goal line with it, making it 27-0 at the half.

Hills Counts 2nd TD

The second half began the way the first ended. Capturing the ball on their own 18, Jessee's charges began the long march to the end zone with Hill, Gene Binda, and Thomas taking the ground gaining. Logan passed to Del Mastro to bring the ball to the Panther 5, and on the next play Hill swept around the right end to tally. Halfway in the quarter the Panthers came to life, but the scoring of their initial TD was a freak. Dick Allen

Booters Mark 4th Straight Shutout; Top Mass U. 2-0 on Mutschler’s Score

The University of Massachusetts was Trinity’s fourth shutout victim. Last Saturday, the booters scored their fourth win of the season, vanquishing Mass. 2-0 at Amherst. The soccer team is the only undefeated, untied, and uncorossed team in New England. The booters have tallied 14 times, while the opposition has been whitewashed, and this puts the Booters on top of the New England Intercollegiate Soccer League. It was a hard-fought game, and Neil Mutschler, captain, and Roy Dath, coach, of Trinity’s so-far unbeaten booters.

Trinity led only by one goal going into the final seconds. The first goal was scored by Captain Neil Mutschler during a mixup in front of the goal in the second period. The other tally came with ten seconds to go in the game, and the Bantams scored in the second period. The other tally came with ten seconds to go in the game, and the Bantams scored in the second period. The Bantams scored in the second period.

Not overlooked, was playing his best game of the season. In the early part of the game, Simpson, of Mass., put a penalty kick, but Mutschler made a good save of a hard kicked ball when he punched it up into the air and retrieved it. The fullbacks played their usual fine game, featured by the brilliant heading of Marshall and the long-distance kicking of Macomber. The halfbacks, led by Wade Close, also gave a fine account of themselves. The forwards played in spurs. Neil Mutschler kept feeding the ball from the halfbacks to Close, who failed to score after

The Hilltopper soccer squad has certainly gotten off to a flying start this season, having coasted through the first four tilts and half of their schedule in Europa fashion while shutting out each of the Trinity opponents.

Of the fourteen goals scored by the Trinitatis, five have resulted from the capable toes of Pete Carlough, a 6', 175 pound, Junior, wing from Ramsay, New Jersey. The other tallies were scored by Wade Close, also a fine rearguard player for Dearfield Academy at the left-wing slot.

Netted four in ’53

During his fresh season at Trin, Pete played on the first of the “booting wonders” from teams of 1951 and 1952. During the ’51 season Carlough tallied four times, to credit himself with almost 1/3 of the 13 Trinity goals.

Last season, in his first year of varsity competition, Pete was a letter winner. During that campaign, he only managed to slip 2 boots into the nets, but in 1952, he has already doubled his scoring total of a year ago and has contributed over 1/8 of the Hilltopper goals, while taking over the conference scoring lead.

May Go Undefeated

If the pace of the past four tilts is continued, the Trin-booters have an excellent chance for an undefeated campaign. Pete Carlough, along with the rest of his teammates, should be able to keep these undefeated hopes kindling, as long as he continues to keep up his rapid pace.
