President-Elect Jacobs To Arrive Next Month

May Inauguration Deemed Possible

After a period of nearly two years, there will again have a President when Dr. Albert C. Jacobs assumes the duties of his office during the first week of May.

To Leave Denver Soon

Dr. Jacobs plans to leave Denver, where he is now terminating his work, in early April to assume the duties of the University of Denver, during the latter part of this month. His arrival next month will be his third appearance at the college since his appointment as President last fall. During November he visited Trinity on the occasion of the opening of the new library and homecoming weekend, and during January, Dr. and Mrs. Jacobs spent a week in Vernon Street while they were East to attend inauguration of President Eisenhower.

Although no date has been established for the installation of Dr. Jacobs, it is possible that Saturday, May 10, the 75th anniversary of the chartering of the college will be chosen. The College has made no announcement, however, and it is therefore probable that this event will be a major feature and will be attended by representatives of several academic institutions, and representatives of the alumni, faculty, students, city, and state. The ceremony, due to the large number of participants and attendants, will probably be held either outdoors before North Tower or in the university's temporary office located in the Field House.

President's House Prepared

Meanwhile, in preparation for the occupancy of Dr. and Mrs. Jacobs, it is announced that arrangements have been completed for the opening of the college's temporary residence. Although no date has been established, this event will be a major feature and will be attended by representatives of several academic institutions, and representatives of the alumni, faculty, students, city, and state. The ceremony, due to the large number of participants and attendants, will probably be held either outdoors before North Tower or in the university's temporary office located in the Field House.

19 Sophomores Pledged 6 Houses

The Interfraternity Council announced last week that nineteen sophomores had been pledged as members of six fraternities as a result of the mid-year rushing program. It is believed that all members of the class of 1956, had been declared scholastically ineligible for rushing last summer.

The following are the men, who are pledges to the houses mentioned:

- Alpha Delta Phi
- Alpha Theta
- Richard Kopp
- Delta Kappa Epsilon
- Delta Phi
- Edward Vaught
- Sigma Nu
- Ronald Olson, Donald Valz, and Donald. Vaupel

The Feted Air

We were stumbling past Alumni Hall last Saturday, bound for the Triton Drug to pick up the weekend's supply of Alka-Seltzer, when we came upon an interesting little tableau. In the vacant lot to the left of Ellen was assembled a small group of gentlemen, dressed in neat business suits, chopping up a small sack at the frozen ground with pick and shovel. In spite of the busy choppers, numerous popping flashbulbs, and a great deal of panting and puffing on the part of the pick and shovel brigade, the hole didn't seem to be getting much bigger. We wandered over to the excavation, thinking, perhaps, that they were giving away free cigarettes or digging for buried treasure, but a question addressed to one of the work crew who was nursing a full set of blisters put us on the right track.

"They're breaking the ground for a new dormitory," he said, forgetting the blisters for a moment. A nearby freshman, attracted by false promises of free beer, observed that the college had a hell of a lot of workmen as see dy-looking as that crew.

FRESHMAN RUSHING IS SUBJECT OF ATHENEUM SPONSORED DISCUSSION

Last Monday evening the Atheneum Society sponsored an open forum for the discussion of freshman rushing—first of a projected series on topics taken from campus, national, and international life.

The discussions will be held for the next part in Goodwin Lounge on Monday nights. Next week the subject will be “Is McCarthyism the answer to Communism?” Professors Davis and Vogel will be in attendance at this meeting. Two topics that have been scheduled for future conclave involve indifference on the Trinity campus and the efficacy of the Marshall Plan.

At the meeting last Monday, approximately twenty upperclassmen, seven freshmen, and Messrs. Butler and Mason of the faculty were in attendance. Richard Blumson of the freshman class presented a plan for rushing in February or March, with the students to be completed in a mini-freshman class presented a plan for a trial, always with the high concept of Cain and Abel, of David and Absalom, and Mason of the faculty were in attendance at this meeting. Two topics that have been scheduled for future conclave involve indifference on the Trinity campus and the efficacy of the Marshall Plan.

The action takes place in a sequence of dreams with each of the four prisoners demonstrating his own response to a series of events— extending the situation onto a spiritual plan. Bantam Hoosiers Top Middlebury 71-56 to Even Season at 4-4; Wrinn Gets 18; Mazurek Looks Good

Panthers' Frosh, Hart, Stars

Looking for their fourth win in eight nights, the Bantams took the floor against Middlebury on Saturday and at the final whistle the home team found itself on the long end of a 71-56 score. Finding it rough going under the basket, the Trinticians stayed outside, and led by Captain Wrinn and Charlie Mazurek, they won handily.

Panthers Lead at First

The Panthers jumped into an early lead and during the first half of the initial quarter the contest was tied up 3 times. Then with the count swished in a beauty from outside and Mazurek found the nets from the seven markers during this stanza, the teams traded scores for several minutes and By now, the distortions which have been hashed and rehashed in every dormitory room and fraternity house on the campus. Naturally after the first release there were many distortions of the actual facts. In general these have been cleared up and correcting a few personal facts, the truth had come into print.

And while I am on the subject I might point out that although free substitution and platoon football are things of the past, any fool knows it still takes some thirty-odd hard-working men, practicing diligently all week long and at least eleven men playing their hearts out on Saturday, to make a football team.

The recent reversal of form of the basketball team seems to indicate that the boys realize it take a team to win ball games. The insertion of Don Johnston into the starting five has given the team a new defensive star. With Novak and Roberts fighting Johnston for the fifth spot, the team seems to be working more as a unit.

The Mayor Says...

By Ray Moscow

By now, the Charlie Strick story has been hashed and rehashed in every dormitory room and fraternity house on the campus. Naturally after the first release there were many distortions of the actual facts. In general these have been cleared up and correcting a few personal facts, the truth had come into print.

There is, however, one outlook which has not been clarified to date. Granted that we as undergraduates and alumni owe some allegiance to our college, however, we all come to realize at one time or another that we are given but one life to live and conduct on this earth. To make the most of this God-given opportunity is the primary motive of all of us. Thus, an orchid to Charlie Strick who twice had the guts to do what he wanted and thought best.

Fencers Beat Clark To Open Season; Bartlett Takes 3

Fencers Beat Clark

The epics, accustomed to leading the team for the past few seasons, managed only a six to nine margin, one to two each without difficulty.

Sabre Outstanding

Sabre, which looms as the top weapon this year, finished the meet with seven wins and two losses. Co-captain Stan Arthburn split even in two matches before giving freshman Flash Gordon a chance to win his initial bout. Sophomore Hal Bartlett, fresh­man star of last season, whipped through his three bouts and Kurt Nim­mann, probably the most improved fencer on the squad, won out two wins before dropping to Stan Banks, the Clarkmen's best fencer.

The opening action of the third period was stodgy and after several minutes of a meager Middlebury scoring in front 53-36.

Panthers' Frosh, Hart, Stars

Feed from Chishtiani and eased in a rebound. Second later, Roberts snapped the twines with a corner goal shot and the Bantams were back on top. Hart and Dennis did most of the meager Middlebury scoring in this period which ended with Trinity in front 53-36.

Hart brought many oohs and ahhs of admiration from the sparse crowd as he soared over the rim to cage two successive rebounds. The teams traded scores for several minutes and then Novak netted in three successive two-pointer to seal the verdict. Hart was again outstanding for the losers as he flipped in several rebounds backhand. The remainder of the period was rugged and the game ended with Trinity winning 71-56.

Tom Hart Excels

In closing, I would like to offer a little well-deserved praise to this Middlebury quintet. I believe that the freshman center of the Panthers, Tom Hart, is as good a player as Trinity has faced all season. The one exception of Columbia's Jack Molina. Middlebury has now lost fourteen straight to Trinity but don't let that strain be extending any longer.

Eustis Paces Frosh in Monson Win
With 27; Barton, Anderson Stand Out

Zone Defense Clicks

West Bantams and Jack Burton, West Hartford's scoring twins, paved Trinity's path to their fourth victory in six starts, with an 89 to 74 triumph over Monson, last Saturday night at the Memorial Field House.

Eustis: Fourteen points, including eight field goals and two free tosses for a total of 14-13, earned Eustis the honor of being named Trinity's top scorer. His presence on the court was instrumental in breaking down the Monson defense and setting up his teammates for scoring opportunities.

Barton: Barton, a versatile player, tallied 13 points, contributing to the team's scoring in various ways. His ability to make both field goals and free tosses (13-10) was crucial to the team's victory.

Anderson: Anderson showcased his talents with 12 points, primarily through field goals and free tosses (12-8). His performance was a testament to his skills and reliability on the court.

Monson: Monson fared poorly against the West Bantams, with 10 points, primarily from free tosses (10-6). However, the team as a whole showed significant improvement in their performance over the past year.

The West Bantams' defense, led by Eustis, Barton, and Anderson, was highly effective, limiting the Monson offense and ensuring a comfortable margin of victory.

Award for Most Improved Squash Player to be Given by John Mason

By Joe Kozlin

The recognition of the award, presented to the most improved squash player, will be given by John Mason this season. Mason's selection is based on his dedication and progress throughout the year, with a particular focus on his development in the sport.

First of the Kind

This presentation will be the first of its kind for the Bantam squashes, Coach Dan Jessee is glad to have such an award that is capable of instilling future competition and sportsmanship among the candidates.

John O. Mason-deserves a great deal of credit for his contribution to the Trinity sports program. Whether a sport is a major or a minor on the college schedule, it is always a very good gesture on the part of a person to donate a prize that might create interest in that sport.

Comments

Now that the Spring Stick is, to all intents and purposes, over and done with, we should like to unburden ourselves of a few thoughts on the matter. There is no need here to review the facts of an incident which is probably now regretted by all parties concerned—the press of the nation gleefully crowed—say, plastered—the story throughout the country. The Trinity student who doesn't yet know all about it probably won't bother reading these pages anymore.

But there are some ramifications to the tale which we feel are of particular interest to the student body here at Trinity. We will not say that Mr. Jessee did not conduct himself in the least possible manner as regards his statements to the newspapers. Perhaps, he said what he thought was necessary to attain his object; keeping the freshmen star here at Trinity. Perhaps, in the heat of anger, he said things which were possibly not weighted as much as they might have been. For this we shall not and cannot censure the coach. But there was one statement which we should like to note, and perhaps suggest to Mr. Jessee its impetuousity. We refer to his announcement that the university in question was stealing "his whole team." We feel, and are sure that at least some Trinity students share this opinion, that, in those few words an undeserved slight was administered to the whole Bantam football team. It was a slap in the face not only to the men who played on Saturdays, but to the members of the squad who sweated at practice during the week, without any share in the fleeting glory of the actual contest.

This was a team that had "put out" plenty for Coach Jessee, and for their school. They deserve nothing but praise for their efforts, and for their not unreasonable success during the campaign, and if the slight was unintentional, as we are sure it must have been, we should like to ask Mr. Jessee to weigh his words a bit more carefully in the future.

Tuition, Room Rates Rise With Expenses

Tuition rates will be raised by $10 per school year, it was announced by Dean Hughes in a letter to all underclassmen last week.

He also announced an increase in certain room rates that will vary up to a maximum of $5 per year.

In his letter to the students, Dean and Acting President explained that the increase is not to pay for anything extra in the college program, such as the new dorm. It is merely a kind of "walk-of-life" increase so that the college can continue to operate as it has in the past with no deficit.

Hughes also cited the rates of other New England colleges which have recently gone up. Just this week, the Harvard Board of Trustees considered a $269 increase in tuition.

It will also be in the news, as well as a copy of "The Complete Valentine Writer," a 19th century English guide to Valentine writing.
