Rivals Clash In Senate Elections

Students to Vote For Class Officers, Senators Tomorrow

The twenty candidates pictured on these pages will try for the thirteen Senate positions tomorrow. Voting will be either in front of Seabury or, in case of rain, in Seabury Lounge. Class officers for '55, '56, and '57 will also be decided in the voting.

All classes will decide on the Senate candidates; each voter will choose one of the two men from each fraternity, from Brownell, and from the off-campus neutrals; each voter will select one of the three candidates from the off-campus neutrals. All undergraduates are qualified and are eligible to vote.

This special edition of the Tripod is designed to acquaint the student body with the picture and experience of each candidate. The pictures will enable some to connect names with faces. The brief sketches of campus activities are certainly not the definitive judgment of the candidate's ability or experience for the position. They only suggest the candidate's participation in athletics, social, and political activities. They do not serve as full evidence of necessary qualifications or leadership. Only personal acquaintance with both candidates and with the Senate would serve fully.
