THE ALCHEMIST

As pointed out in a Tripod editorial last spring, there are several reasons for allowing the consumption of beer in the college dormitories. As evidenced by the behavior in the dormitories last week, there is little reason to question the decision. In fact, one can see the benefits in two obvious ways: Make a serious attempt to enforce the rule, and the student community will be in a much better position to set an example, if they ever do. Legalize the consumption of beer.

We of the Student Senate, in anticipation of the passage of the proposal because we felt that the student body was able to accept the responsibility. Now we believe, like the administration, are not so sure.

The reason for our uncertainty may be found chiefly in the action of the freshman classes of '57 and '58. Last year they did considerable damage to the college and by the end of this year it is clear that they have developed a fatal attraction toward the fire alarm system. Their carelessness and the confusion which we add to these misadventures. It seems likely that it would.

As much of the disturbance seems to come from the freshman class, we advocated last year that only upperclassmen be allowed the privilege, but this may create more of a problem than exists now. The freshmen are now limited in the use of automobiles and in attending the principal college social affairs, and this added disadvantage may not be desirable.

In fact, the Faculty Committee on Administration must weigh before rendering a decision, the fact that if they allow minors to drink on campus it will certainly encourage them to obtain the beverage illegally in the city. Even if they can get it in the right while consumption beer on the campus, they are committing an act which, in the white most cases, is under 21.

We believe that the faculty has acted wisely in having the various sub-committees to make a thorough study of this intricate problem rather than make a hasty and perhaps unfortunate decision. When the efforts of these committees have brought to light all the relevant factors involved in the case, an intelligent solution can be found.

NO LANGUAGES?

We were particularly disappointed in the student response to the editorial entitled "Language Conventions" last week. We hope that this apparent lack of interest or effort does not indicate undergraduate apathy toward the subject. We are convinced of the desirability of such a program but it is apparent that somewhere there must be a few interested individuals on campus.

We are convinced that with the faculty members of the language departments we can report wholehearted enthusiasm and willingness to have the subject offered. One member said, "I think a plan has long been kicked around by the faculty, but we have never had to make it, or even consider it."

The Tripod has done its part in voicing a certain amount of student opinion in practical language usage, but as yet we have not heard nothing definite coming out of these proceedings.

We are determined enough not to let this subject drop and so again we will send out a plea for the suggestion for effective working out of the plan.

THE FETAL AIR

by OMAR ENCIND

Through the past four weeks we have heard considerable criticism of the Fetal Air as it has been written. It has not been good. In fact, it has been so severe that we were not too upset and angry. But then we realized that the main reason for the criticism was the time of day we wrote this article: 2:30 a.m. But we were mighty upset, we'll tell you.

This column has been known in past years for its constant commentary on collegiate trends, commonly known as shoe trends. We hoped we would not have to deal with this subject this year, but a certain shoe practice has just come up and it has been so recently that everyone has had the opportunity to talk about shoe.

The first requirement for talking about shoe is a house or a lack shoe. One that has lasted there and has really done anything. This can be accomplished in fairly short order by not talking to passers. Next arrange a workshop to be held for all of the shoe initial. Course of shoe. Then we feel the feeling that you feel is some analysis and explanation. For some time one has been able to steal the shoe (the word here used as an adjective.) Dress shoes, black shoes and just plain look shoe. But it hasn't been until recently that everyone has had the opportunity to talk about shoe.

John Morrison Elected To High CISL Position

At the first meeting of the Connecticut Intercollegiate Student Legislature Executive Council last Sunday John Morrison of Theta Xi was elected to the chairmanship of the group. This post is one of considerable importance as the Executive Council is the governing group of the CISL. Also elected at the meeting, which was held at Hillhouse College in Hartford, were Rita Burns of St. Joseph's, Vice-Chairman; Vivian Burgess of Denison, Secretary; and Burry Posselt of Wesleyan, Treasurer.

Morrison was previously a senator in the CISL, and is a member of the Political Science Club and the Foreign Policy Association. The CISL was founded in 1948 with the aid of Mr. Edwin Stevens of Teachers' College, Columbia University. Seventeen Connecticut colleges and universities participate in its annual sessions. The aim of the Legislature is to stimulate among college students a further interest in government and to offer the experience necessary for a practical understanding of the political activities of the General Assembly concerning contemporary affairs. At this time when the basic institutions of the American form of government are meeting their greatest challenges, it is of paramount importance that our youth be educated in democratic government. The CISL is one of the few states in the country that sponsors an organization of this type.

Annual Report of Librarian Indicates Large Circulation

“The academic year 1953 and 1954 was a very successful one for the Librarian Donald B. Engley in his annual report to the trustees. Increasing numbers of students and faculty alike have used the building.

Student circulation has risen twenty-nine percent and that of the faculty has risen fifty percent. Inter-library lending rose in proportion to the increase in circulation.

The catalogue department did a magnificent job in replacing the worn-out guide cards in the files with a completely new set. The department has also been filled with the job of integrating the newly acquired Watkinson Library with other library records.

An inventory began early in 1953 in the old library quarters was finally completed early in 1954. A start has been made to remove all of the ephemeral or worn-out material from the shelves.

The college library collection now amounts to 230,000 volumes, and with recommendations for only 250,000, the need for more shelf space is being felt constantly. A recommended fourteen to fifteen thousand dollars could very likely the lack of shelves.

Friday bending was donated to the library this year by faculty, alumni and friends of the College.

Exhibitions from the Far East, Christian Art from the Wadsworth Atheneum and the Columbia University Bentencourt highlighted activities in the library conference room.

The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving granted $7,500 to cover the cost of the first year's work in the Watkinson Library. The Old Dominion Foundation agreed to supply funds also.

The Trinity College Library Gazette, librarian Engley, published a number of articles with appreciation on all sides. Material assistance to the development of the library is sought as the end result of this small publication.

Alarms, Noise, Worry Interdorm Council

The Freshman Interdormitory Council at its latest meeting discussed at great length the seriousness of the recent fire alarm incident in the freshmen dorm. President George Baxter stressed the gravity of the offense, and asked the members of the council to speak to the residents on each floor about the false alarm.

The penalty for turning in a false alarm is a five-dollar fine or ten-day imprisonment. In the case of a real fire the Council from the students would not heed the alarm, thinking it to be another joke. Each false alarm that is turned in costs the city of Hartford one hundred dollars.

Several members of the Council informed the committee that a few of the halls were too noisy during the evenings, and expressed the hope that the few offenders would be quieter during study hours.

A list of the Council members from each dormitory has been ordered in each of the freshman dorms.

The library doors were open seven days a week for a total of an eighty-four-hour week, and a ten-week summer session.

There was widespread employment of freshmen and sophomores in the library. The only disappointment is that the library cannot pay more than sixty-five cents an hour, thus losing many of the well-trained juniors and seniors. The library was fortunate to have an excellent crew of undergraduates and graduates.

Mr. Engley looks back on five years with the Trinity Library and sums up by saying that the college library falls down on the total amount spent per student, but is encouraged by the rising statistics of new and of interest. In the library the people of Hartford as well as the college community.

FRISCH GULLS IN LAST TUNEUPS FOR WES OPENER

This Friday sees the first game of the season for Coach Bill Gerhards' freshman grid. The opening contest is scheduled at Wesleyan with the Cardinal yearlings as the opponents. Last week Wesleyan lost to Andover 7-6.

The starting positions are still in doubt as Coach Gerhards has 35 men squad over very carefully before actually deciding upon his opening lineup.

Backfield Still Contested

The backfield is settling down to a battle between about seven men for the first line berth. Ed Spens seems to have a starting slot at one halfback and Dick Kone is battling Dan Lourie for the other slot. The quarterback duties seem to be completely filled between Jack Thompson of Overfield and Mike Schacht. Both men have looked very sharp thus far. Joe Umbrellas and Dick Noble are the two top men in the backfield race.

The line is pretty solid with several outstanding men skimming thus far. Roger LeClere has just about wrapped up the center position and Bob Couture is sure to be the heavy duty man in the front forward wall. Dick Moore, Walt Steenmager, Bill MacDermott, and Tom Baas are other candidates for starting assignments.

3. The fundamental concepts of Honor:

(a) lying, stealing, and cheating (already covered above).

4. All college regulations already included in the student regulations.

B. The Honor Board, whether or not a student personally committed the infraction or saw another student commit the infraction. Failure on either count to report an offense will carry the same penalty.

THE TRINITY TRIPOD

BY PHIL TRUETT

With three games already in the victory column, the Trinity football team can look ahead for the first time this season to a brief respite before tackling the real meat of the schedule. While St. Lawrence cannot be taken for granted, they do not seriously threaten the undefeated and untied slate of the Bantams. The threat will come in a compact and powerful trio of teams from Coast Guard, Amherst, and Wesleyan.

Thus far the spirited team has exhibited an ability to score in almost any manner and the offensive attack is much more varied than that of any of a year ago.

However, the spirit and fight will have to continue if success is to be attained in the remainder of the schedule.

Coast Guard is undefeated in two games thus far and anyone who remembers the game of last year will realize that the Cadets mean nothing but trouble. Last week they played Wesleyan 6-0 for their second win and although they have not shown great offensive power, the Cadet defense will probably be as rugged as any they have faced thus far.

The great condition in which the Coast Guard athletes are kept tells the story of their rugged and tough brand of ball. Any letdown on the part of the Bantams might well spell disaster.

Amherst, of course, is unbeaten also in three starts. Last week they had to fight back in the second half to nail Bowdoin 20-13. Comparative scores are always deceiving, but this one does show that the Lord Jeffs are not as powerful as their previous scores have indicated. They look up as the main threat to an unbeaten year for our griders, but it is an established fact that Trinity always plays at top form against Amherst so that this contest might well be one of the key games in Eastern football this year.

Wesleyan of course is an old story. As well as Trinity plays against Amherst they play in the opposite form against the Cardinals. Was has a 3-1 record thus far but when considering a Trinity-Wesleyan contest, all previous records and scores must be thrown out the window. Spirit is the main element here and if we keep up the brand of fire thus far shown, this may finally be the year.

What makes a Lucky taste better?

"IT'S TASTIER to taste better!"

College smokers from coast to coast prefer Luckies to any other brand. Luckies lead, and by a wide margin, according to the latest, biggest college survey. Once again, the No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better because Lucky Strike is the cigarette of fine tobacco ... and "It's Toasted" to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—comes up Luckies' moment of real cool smoking to make it taste even better. This explains the Droodle below, which is: Eskimo seminar enjoying Luckies in badly built classroom. Like all real cool people, Eskimo knows Luckies taste better. Wesleyan to Have New Public Affairs Center for Classes

A new Public Affairs Center, the second phase of Wesleyan's $25 million dollar development program will house the government, economics, and history departments of the University, according to a late Intercollegiate Press bulletin. The new center will include 7 classrooms, 5 workshops, 17 offices, a reading room connected to the present periodical room of the library, a press archives, and three lounges.

The program which the new Public Affairs Center intends to achieve, when completed, will include, in addition to regular departmental courses, interdepartmental seminars, workshops in which students make investigations under faculty supervision, joint student-faculty research projects, field work in local communities and practical politics, interviews with public officials, politicians, labor officials, and others involved in public affairs.

The idea for building the center originated several years ago in informal discussions among professors in the three departments. They decided that the departmental barriers were too high, and noted that government majors frequently did not have an adequate understanding of economic affairs, economics majors sometimes could not relate the past with contemporary problems.

This is a direct reprint of the letter sent to all incoming freshmen at Princeton, and from which I took this paragraph to show you my last point.

RESIDENT STUDENTS are asked to remove their cars from the parking lot behind Halden Laboratory and from all other College parking lots between noon and 4 p.m. on the previous day, Tuesday, Oct. 19. Cars taken during this period must be parked in the lot behind Ellen on return. ALL STUDENT CARS FOUND IN ANY REGULAR PARKING LOT OR ON SUMMIT STREET WILL BE TOWED AT THE OWNERS EXPENSE EARLY ON THE MORNING OF THE TRAFFIC SITTERS PROVIDED

Car stickers for off-campus students, faculty and College employes to pass police lines on Summit St. for admission to the parking lot will be obtained from the Property Manager's Office on or after this Friday.

In view of the expected congestion, all members of the College who are attending to have their cars removed on Friday should plan to reach the campus on Oct. 20, two or three days prior to this event.
