By FRED WEBNER

President of the Junior Class, James A. Hicks, presented the financial report for the Prom to the Junior Class on Tuesday evening. The three causes of loss are

1. attrition which the losses to three changes: the change of location from the Auditorium to the Hartford Club, the greater amount of food and the greater expense of ordered tickets. The discussion centered on ways to mitigate these losses.

2. Excessive costs were far greater at the Hartford Club than at the Junior Class functions.

3. John Farnum as the guest speaker was paid $4,000 for his talk, which was well received by the audience. The talk was entitled "The History of the World." The audience was divided on whether the talk was too long or too short.

Dr. Bosworth pointed out that the Hartford Club does not offer the same level of service as the Junior Class does, and that the Junior Class should consider offering similar events in the future.

further has the support of the American Legion and the conservatives to be found in the House.

In this country. They most likely will rally in support the subject, the theory that the columnist refers to.

"socialistic, income? What if this amendment were passed and at the same time, has a large and rising national debt, and hence we want to arrest this advance and eventually stop it entirely, we must be prepared to keep the government's income high enough not only to cover its expenditures but also to provide for a surplus which could be used to reduce the debt.

We are now experiencing a period of national emergency with the threat of the cold war breaking into a shooting war at any moment. It is a period in which our national defense must be kept at an all-time high. If we are not to be the owners of both the winning on Home for Crippled Children and Alpha Epsilon, we felt the impertinent fear that he should now come to want more of this was more objectionable.

Mr. Speer, refers to our present set up as a "socialistic, communitarian concept of individual economic stagnation," and yet since the New-Fair Deal period begins in 1935 the following facts must not be overlooked: With all due adjustments for price level changes, the figures of gross national product, national income, personal income have risen roughly 160%. More important than these figures is the one which shows that per capita real income has risen over 25% since 1935. Wages, salaries, and corporate profits are at all-time high levels. Over 60 million Americans are gainfully employed. Tremendous strides in technological advances have been made. Most important, the U. S. is the richest, most prosperous nation in the world. These facts certainly lend support to the economic stagnation theory that the columnist refers to.

Although a great deal more could easily be said on the subject, I think it sufficient to examine briefly the backers of the proposed amendment. Charles W. Reed, and Edward M. Burke, both of Illinois, represent the extreme right wing of "Old Guardism" that exists in this country. They most likely will take up in support of this measure other reactionary elements found in the right wing of their party as Senator Webker, Jefferson F. Rusk, Senator James E. Eastland, and several staunch conservatives to be found in the House. The amendment further does not accord with the recommendations of the American Legion and the National Association of Manufacturers, two organizations whose political hue and viewpoint are well-known to all.

It must be a great relief to all sensible citizens to think that an American University is working diligently only a small minority in Congress. Personally, I will be greatly surprised if the bill gets out of committee.

Annual Alumni Fund Nets $52,000; Goal, $65,000

Parents Set Record With $22,000 Gift

With nearly $52,000 already raised for the annual Alumni Fund Drive, committee officials recently opened the general gifts phase in attempt to raise the remaining twenty percent of the drive's $65,000 goal.

In addition, it was announced that the Parents Fund, with a separate $22,000 goal, was already more than $2,000 over the top for a record contribution from parents of Trinity students.

$40,241 Raised

At the annual Class Artist dinner March 15, Kingman, Jr., Class of '54, Vice Chairman of the Alumni Fund Special Gifts reported that his section has already raised $40,241 of its $51,000 quota.

377 Parents Contribute

Samuel F. Nissim, President of the New York Transportation Company of Philadelphia, Chairman of the Parents Fund, reported that 377 parents have already given $22,692. Last year 26 parents contributed $12,500.

Sydney D. Finzey, Chairman of the Alumni Committee on Endowment, reported that since Feb. 1 the College has been notified by 27 alumni that they had made Trinity a beneficiary of their estate.

Barclay Swan Opens Drive

Barclay Swan, '37, Vice Chairman of the Class Artists Section of the Alumni Fund, opened the general phase of the drive. He told some 56 class agents that "the hardest 20 percent of the total alumni goal exists in our hands. We must raise $10,000 and secure 120 additional gifts." The Fund this year is seeking a 33 percent increase in contributions.

Melvin W. Tito, '16, Chairman of the Alumni Fund and treasurer of the dinner, urged an all-out effort to reach the record alumni fund goal of $65,000 for faculty salaries and scholarships.

New Education Club Plans Student Debate

The newly rejuvenated Education Club met for the first time in Board Hall on February 15. In an attempt to revitalize the club as well as invite student interest in the education of social, the members drew up a schedule for the present semester.

Scheduled for March 3, "The Role of TV and Radio in Educational Use" will be opened by President Adams. Under the leadership of President Leader Smith and Secretary Hal Beren, the Club has engaged several speakers as Representative George Rob of Meadville, Senator Bob of Bridgeport and Joseph Neiden, Consultant of Vocational Education. Using as a springboard the bills presently before the State Legislature dealing with this subject the program will begin with such of the speakers talking for educational legislation. Immediately following this will be a short speaker rebuttal, after which the problem will be open to discussion from the floor.

Invitations have been extended to all Connecticut Colleges and Universities in hopes of having a large and varied delegation at the conference. The meeting, held in the library conference room, is open to the campus. The problem has significant effect on future engineers, and production managers as well as the teaching profession.

When Governor Abraham A. Ribicoff spoke before the entire organization in the House of Representatives, Governor Ribicoff asked Dr. Flower's recommendation of Thursday night. That young man wrote no time in affiliating themselves with a party. He urged that they become part of a political organization. The Governor also stressed his belief that "there is a number thing as political science. Politics is an art, and a hard thing to do, difficult." He also pointed out that there are four things to keep in mind when maneuvering the question "What makes a good legislator?" These suggestions are:

Protege of Yeats Is Poet and Novelist

One of Ireland's outstanding men in the field of letters, short-story writer Frank O'Connor, will speak tomorrow night at 8:15 in the Chemistry auditorium. Although noted principally for short stories such as "Guests of the Nation" and others that have made him famous, he is also an able poet, novelist, and translator.

Previously engaged in a critical study of the modern novel, he has chosen this form of writing as his topic for tomorrow night. A protege of William Butler Yeats, Mr. O'Connor formerly was manager of Dublin's Abbey Theatre, center of the Irish literary revival. As a short story writer, his work has been compared to James Joyce's "Dubliners."

He has published several other collections of his stories as well as several novels, including "Piglet Interior," and "The Saint and Mary Kate." He is also the author of "The Big Fellow," a biography of Irish patriot Michael Collins, and translations from Irish poetry. He is a frequent contributor to the New Yorker, Harper's, and other magazines.

Flying Club Members Have Initial Meeting

Twenty-four students attended the initial meeting of the Flying Club on Monday evening at 7:00 p.m. Captain Foster led the group in an exploratory goal and financing possibilities. As most of the group had, or are interested in, securing, their pilot's license, a committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of renting a plane for weekend flying and instruction. The meeting was also called to order by President O'Connor for the inauguration of the first session of the Flying Club. The officers of the Club are President O'Connor for the April 18 meeting at 7:00 p.m. in the I.O.C. E.T.C. offices, and to alert officers to the next meeting.

Providence Offsets Roberts' Brilliant Exhibition: Coast Guard Repeats 80-69 in Sloppy Ball Game

Bantam Captain Excels with Defensive Play Plus 24 Points

By PHIL TRUETT

With but three games remaining in the Blue and Gold's woeful basketball season, Coach Ray Ousley's Bantam quintet took on Providence College last Thursday. Superior height on the part of the Friars paid off in an 82-69 victory, but Captain Dave Roberts was on a one-man show of scoring and hustle that gave Trinity fans more than their share to cheer about. It was the seventh win against eleven losses for Providence.

Robert Fights

On the opening tip Barton stole the ball and fed to Roberts who twisted a pretty jump shot from the foul line. The Friars ripped off seven straight points before the quaky Roberts broke free in a layup. Santa Price then drove off a Friar pivot for a deuce and after Kerr and Godfrey swapped five, it was Roberts again who came through. This time the born-again guard came up with a steal and feed to Barton that resulted in another Bantam basket and gave Trinity a 1-2 lead. Price added two more, but Mickey Pascale of the Visitors hit with two hard driving underhand beauties and Grady's backhand spin shot gave the Friars a three point spread. The visitors opened it up to 20-21, but Roberts broke loose and pushed his jump shot and Price followed with two more. Play stopped here as the Friars came in with a 20-22 lead.

Robert Fights

The Friars fought back into the lead at 25-23 on a layup, then Roberts put on an exhibition that ended with the visitors calling for time to catch their breaths. It began with the diminutive guard jumping in a dummy and then coming back to drive in another laurel three Friars in his wake, their mouths agape with disbelief. Still not satisfied, Roberts electrified the crowd with a long hopping one-hander and the lead was cut in to one. Price's follow through shot was exchanged between two Friar layups and then Roberts nailed a jumper from thirty feet out. Barton took a pass from Roberts and banked home a hopper for a three point lead.

The Friars fought back into the lead at 33-33 with about three minutes left in the game, but the visitors then scored and controllers pressed their way through the period it stood at 62-47. The pace slackened considerably, and at the ten minute mark the Friars were out in front by 69-51.

Trinity edge. However, Ernie Allen, who had 12 points, and Scotty Price hit consecutively for a 8-9 margin. However, Ernie Allen, who topped both teams with 22 points, hit a pair of free throws and a basket, then added two more to the tally soon after to give Coast Guard a 19-9 lead.

Dave Roberts, who ended up with 30 points, and Nick Vincent supplied the drive as the Hilltoppers came back. Preissner's basket tied it at 62-62 with about three minutes left in the half. Larry Kindbom and Dick Salomon traded baskets. Otto Foster and Preissner did the name, then the tracer tried again to make it 67-67, but Coast Guard held the margin.

The closest Friar got after that was 49-41 early in the second half. The Friars pulled a 48-49ogue with Gary Eversock scoring two points. Eversock then whipped the ball back out of the lead, but North raised home six points and the Friars were back in the game at 67-64. Eversock was second high scorer for Providence and Erekson finished with 16.

Jayvees Stomp 3 More Rivals

This past week saw the rejuvenated Jayvee quintet sweep past three more opponents in grand style to wind up their season with a very respectable 18-3 record. They beat the Fresh 72-45, Trinity Church 90-72, and St. Thomas 85-78.

Cr kurs and Beer

Walt Cruberg and Eddie Hoyet each registered eighteen in the Fresh game as the victors avenged an earlier defeat. They led by 13 at halftime and steadily increased it.

Trinity Church was simply outclassed as they trailed throughout and by as much as 31 points at one time. Cruberg, Hoyet, and Keilsher garnered 68 markers amongst them.

Final Surge Wins

By far the best of the three games was that with St. Thomas. The J.V. led by 18 at the half and they were never headed the rest of the way. At the half the teams were all tied up at 20-20.

As close as the game had been in the first half, it was a complete runaway in the second. With Duff in the second half, they shot the floor at 75%.

In the preliminary to the varsity contest with Providence, a smooth and confident Delta Phi team soundly thrashed Sigma Nu 62-35. Den Duff of the victors netted 20 points to cop scoring honors.

The first half was a low scoring affair in which both teams were cautious. Sigma Nu used the strong rebounding of Lou Magnaliner and Doug Baygard to their advantage while Duff needed eight points to keep his mates in the fray. At the half the teams were all tied up at 20-20.

As close as the game had been in the first half, it was a complete runaway in the second. With Duff hitting on six for six from the floor and Lou Barnes and Bob Davis giving strong support, the victors made a farse of the game. Art O'Connell's half handling was also a vital cog in the victors' offensive machine.

Delta Phi took advantage of their speed and shooting to completely bewilder their heavier and slower foes. Magnaliner and Baygard rebounded well, but neither could come up with their usual scoring punch.

Strong Second Half Decisive

High scoring Den Duff of Delta Phi is caught passing off to Lou Barnes on a play that netted two points.
