New Editor-in-Chief

Steve Bowen Elected To Managing Editor

E. Laird Mortier, III, a junior at Baltimore, Maryland, was elected Editor-in-Chief of the Tripod for the upcoming Monday evening. He succeeds Paul F. Terry, '56, of Chicago, Illinois.

Elected with Mortier to serve on the editorial board were Stephen N. Bowen, Managing Editor; Richard F. Kompass, Business Manager; and Robert M. Stevenson and Fred H. Werner, Members at Large.

After the elections, Writers' Tripod, the News Editor, and Stevenson was named Features Editor.

The appointees included Kip Terry, Sports Editor; David Skaggs and Frank Barrie, News Editors; and Mike Zoeh, Assistant Sports Editor.

New Editorial Position

One of the first acts of the newly-elected Active Board was to create an editorial position designated as Contributing Editors. William E. Leaman and Ike Lawson were named to this position. Leaman is a former News Editor of the Tripod and will hold the post of Managing Editor of the Tripod for the past year.

Mortier, a member of Alpha Delta Phi, is a Junior Adviser and a member of the editorial board of the Review. A history major, he has held the post of Managing Editor of the Tripod for three years.

Bowen is a member of Theta Xi and Chairman of the College Ring Committee. He is also Treasurer of the W.I.T.T., a cultural and literary society, and a former News Editor of the Tripod.

Mortier stated, "Our group has had a great deal of experience in student newspapers, and it is our hope to continue the high level of publishing that we have achieved."

Prior to the elections, the new editorial board was still planning the spring activities. Although the Tripod is a student-run newspaper, it is supported by the administration and is considered a part of the college curriculum.

In addition to Mortier, the new editorial board includes Jimmie Dean, a Junior Adviser; and Robert M. Stevenson, a member of the Theta Xi fraternity.

Post-Freshman Rushing Proposed by IFC in Attempt to Stop Fall Clash

Senates Change IFC, ROTC Weekends

After a prolonged debate on the issue, the Senate passed the proposal, made last week, to exchange the IFC and the ROTC Ball weekends. This action, in last Monday's meeting, changes the three day ROTC weekend, which takes place between Thanksgiving and Christmas vacation, with the two day IFC weekend in March. As passed the IFC weekend will now get a three day weekend and the ROTC would have only two.

The senators admitted that the decision date was a poor one and that (Continued on page 5).

Chaplain Bray Resigns: Reports for Active Duty As Navy Chaplain July 1

The Rev. Allen E. Bray has resigned his position as Assistant Chaplain of the College. It was announced recently by President Abbot C. Faubus.

Bray, who has served at the College since 1956, will report for duty in July.

"I am very sorry to have him leave the Trinity family," said Dr. Faubus, "and we wish him all success in his new chaplain where he will have a splendid opportunity to render outstanding service. His work during the past year has been carried on under the appointment of a new chaplain."" Bray has been a candidate for the chaplaincy for some time. He has known since last fall that he was to enter the Chaplain Corps of the Navy. No announcement of this could be made, however, until this time when his final orders were released. A committee has been active in seeking a new chaplain for the church and the matter will, he said, be settled in the near future.

Mr. Bray, a native of Teanton, Ohio, was graduated from Trinity in 1948 and has his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Virginia Theological Seminary. He also studied for a year in the Washington School of Psychiatry in Washington, D.C., before returning to Trinity. He also served with the Seminarian-in-Charge of St. John's Parish, Arciekhok, Mo., and became pastor there in 1955.

During World War II Chaplain Bray served with the U. S. Marine Corps as a sea duty in the Asiatic, European and North African theatres.
Oxford Grey, Olive, meet the fraternities this week. This is true. However, this week of beginning two days earlier than it has in the past. It will take place during registration, and would extend for two days. It was first attempted to solve this seemingly insurmountable problem because of numerous other disadvantages. The faculty encourage active summer rushing campaigns, a primary aim, it would appear that the reality, to summer rushing. A pre-semester rush program; for that matter, we call a feasible plan which will be at once acceptable to the faculty and the fraternity men. Their rushing plan which will be at once acceptable to all the students of Trinity. We look to Dick Kompalla to take the entire staff to continue their efforts to make the actual, if not official, beginning of rush. As this issue goes to press, a new Executive Board stands ready to take over the task of publishing the Tripod. Although this announcement is not intended to say that this is an easy task, we feel that the new editors shall make their efforts to juggle that particular adjective. For certainly their competence and experience will make short work of it, and they may have it. And there is no more responsibility they have accepted.

The responsibility of the Tripod to the students of this college is an many-faceted as it is important. Because of this, the men taking over must realize they are publishing something more than a weekly newspaper. It is the hard work and cooperation. We have no qualms about leaving the Tripod in the hands of men like Laird Mortimer and Steve Bowen, for their effort and devotion during the past year speaks for them. The Tripod, along with the students, is also worthy of mention; we feel they are trying, with all the difficulties and time-consuming duties of the news and sports department. We look to Dick Kompalla to take over the editorship of the Trinity Manual with as much conscientiousness as did Ned McDermott, ’57, last year. Finally, we look to the entire staff to continue their efforts to make the Tripod the best newspaper possible.

A DIFFICULT QUESTION

We are in direct opposition to the recent IFC proposal concerning pre-semester rushing. This proposal involves rushing freshmen one night a week in the late spring, and an earlier, perhaps shorter, rush-week in the fall.

We believe that such a plan would initiate the actual, if not official, beginning of rush. The students themselves certainly appear to encourage active summer rushing campaigns, which is obviously unfair to everyone concerned. From this time on, we think of no rule or regulation which would curtail such activity.

Incidents of IFC did not detect this weakness and reject the proposal immediately. Since the rushing rules were for-merly connected with that period of time, the rush-week was an unfair program—a program which amounts, in reality, to summer rushing. We fully realize, however, that the IFC is standing between two lines of fire. The faculty and administration are anxious to institute a pre-semester rush program; for that matter, they have insisted upon it. So the IFC is confronted with the problem of devising a new rushing plan which will be as acceptable to both the faculty and the fraternity men. Their first attempt to solve this seemingly insurmountable problem seemed doomed already, if not for the reason we have mentioned above, then because of numerous other disadvantages. It appears to us that a new rush plan would not be necessary at all if cooperation from the faculty and the fraternity men were forthcoming. The basis of their consent seems to be that nobody does any work during the first week of classes because of rush-week. This is not to say that this week of classes encompasses a very small amount of academic material, especially the first week or the first three days.

We believe that the fraternity men would not be adverse to a compromise. Let rush-week begin two days earlier than it has in the past. This would have the advantage of taking place during registration, and would extend into the pre-semester rush period. The basis of three classes of course work could create certain minor problems in scheduling and procedure, but these can be overcome without too much trouble. As we see it, if the faculty and administration want a change, they ought to be willing to meet the fraternities at least half way.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of the Tripod:

Where is our scholarship money going? Why have there been sizable club scholarships awarded to seniors belonging to a particular group? I hold that some of Trinity's most capable students in recent years have been viewed favorably by officials on the basis of extracurricular work and achievements. If the club scholarship system is being discontinued, will there be any rule to help to answer these pressing questions.

It has come to my attention that the fine record made by the fencing team at the New England Fencing Tournament is only a part of still greater glory. In the years that the tournament has been held, Trinity has taken two first places, and two second places. Two team members have taken the individual full championships; one, the saber, and one, the epee. The latter was ranked among the top ten in the nation. Fencing is one of the 'unsung sports' on campus. The other, harlemic, has recently acquired a part-time coach. The fencing team, however, still remains unheeded.

I understand that the team is on a budget by the Department of Physical Education, but is discouraged by a coach; apparently there is a feeling that a fencing team would compete with other winter sports. With this team, which has the potentialities for improvement, I should think that the college would eagerly welcome a fencing team, especially with new��ments.

Attendance at Religious Club Meetings is Small

Hillel Society Leads Groups in Percentage

Recently it was noted in a letter to the editor of the Triodip that attendance at Hillel meetings is very poor at Canterbury Club meetings. We decided to look further into this and have compared the attendance reports of the three other religious clubs on campus.

The Protestant Fellowship attendance figures show that they have an active membership of 25 members out of a potential of 86. The Hillel Society, however, has a higher percentage. Out of a possible 7 members, 25 attend the average meeting. This is an increase of about 45% of its potential out.

The Newman Club has an average attendance of 35 per meeting out of approximately 160 Roman Catholics on campus. Looking over the situation as a whole, we find that the majority of people out at all meetings, including Canterbury, are Hillel members. This is explained by the fact that Hillel is the only one on campus from which freshmen are excluded from fraternities.

The Newman Club, on the other hand, has a potential of 160 members, out of which 35 attend the average meeting; the Newman Club has an approximate 25% attendance of 35 out of 86 members, 25 attend the average meeting. This is an increase of about 45% of its potential out.

A total of 160 students are enrolled in the religious clubs on campus.

Jacobs Calls House Presidents Together

President Jacobs recently held a meeting of the ten fraternity presidents at his home to discuss the attitude of business and industry recruiters as interpreted in two articles which appeared recently in Fortune and The Atlantic Monthly magazines.

In both articles, a company's picture for the B.A. candidate is painted. "Business and industry show an upward trend in their need for the liberal arts graduates.

In an attempt to round up the best personnel for their firms, businesses are offering premium salaries. Men trained in engineering or graduate business schools can expect to earn around $8,000 in their first year. College graduates will earn approximately one thousand dollars less in their novice year.

For most college seniors the question of where to apply and where to choose in a difficult one, since a complex number of factors (vocational interests, range of opportunities and personal aptitudes) must be carefully measured.

Through a careful study of all potential companies one might be interested in, the student will be able to discern which company might provide him with the executive suite in the shortest interval.

Personal heads have developed a two-class which may be indicative of future business success. The balances are: first, between the first-class and the second-class activities; second, between specific aptitudes and a well-rounded personal aptitude.

The following Tuesday, and final elections on Tuesday, April 17.

WRIT Shut Down for Second Time by FCC

On Monday, March 13, WRTC, the campus radio station, was ordered to cease operations by President Jacobs.

This order came as a result of the tests made by the Federal Communications Commission on the preceding day. Those tests showed that WRTC was radiating farther than the FCC regulations set forth by the FCC permitted.

This was almost a year ago that the FCC closed WRTC for similar reasons. Since that time the radio station has done extensive work in order to comply with FCC regulations.

It is not known how long WRTC will be off the air.

Monsanto Chemical Co. Presents Grant

The Monsanto Chemical Co., centrally located in St. Louis, Mo., and with New England branches in Boston and Springfield, has given a $1,000 grant to the College for scholarships purposes. It was announced today by President Albert J. Jacobs.

The funds will be used to establish two $500 scholarships for freshman students of the College. In addition, the College will contribute $200 to each scholarship fund. The balances are: first, between the first-class and the second-class activities; second, between specific aptitudes and a well-rounded personal aptitude.

The full amount of the grant to the College for scholarship purposes, it was announced today by President Albert J. Jacobs.

Tracksters Open Season Against Wesleyan Today

The Trinity College trackmen open the 1956 season with their only indoor meet against Wesleyan today in Middletown. Starting time is 3 p.m.

Coach Karl Kurth, has indicated he expects to give traditional rival Wes a much better battle than last season, when his charges fell to the Red and Black, 75-23.

Losers Top Men

Kurth suffered the fate of all college coaches when he lost several of his top men through graduation, but still feels that the Bantams will be a stronger club this year, and, he says, Wesleyan appears a bit weaker. Major TVU losses were Bill Segur, record-holding shot-putter, and Don Law, sprinter.

Dick Noble, Fred Snider and Phil Simms will carry the load. Captain Bill Smith, will head the contingent in the 440, followed by Ralph Berkeley.

Returning half-miler George McCannis will run the 880, with Hub Sager and Scharf. The hurdles will be run by Fred Boynton, Frank Ebbink and John Sweatt. While these men have done their best times indoor Kurth feels that other men, such as basketball player Bob Godfrey, will be in the running once the team gets outside. Other men who may contend for a first-place position are Phil Simons, Don Caldeiro, George Bergerman, Al Krupp, and Bill Saunders.

Sheppard Heads Shot-Put

In the weight events, Ray Sheppard will head the shot-putters, followed by Sweatt and Bob Katula. The high jump will be handled by Fred Boynton, who last year broke the freshmen record. Also jumping will be Dick Noble, Paul and McLeod. Vying for the pole vault will be McLeod, Jack Miner, Ridge Satterthwaite, and Hugh Zimmermann.

The schedule for the freshmen baseball team begins practice last week for the forthcoming season, with about eight open boys reporting for the first practice.

After three practices Coach Bill Gerhardt says that the team looks better than last year's at this time, but that it is still too early to know how the team will fare in its eleven-game schedule. The pitching, looks very strong, as there are four good candidates for starting assignments: Jim Canavan, Brendan Shea, Mylre Mosmann and Ted Fransi.

The rest of the positions on the half club are undecided, although it is likely that Ron Boopel will start at first base, John Kenny at second, Charles Buzuto at third, Ed Anderson at first, and Bill Abelson in center field. Other positions are still open for those who can prove themselves capable.

The schedule for the Freshmen begins on April 18 in an away game with St. Thomas Seminary.

ALTHOUGH NEW ENGLANDERS will find it hard to believe with winter raging, all about us, spring and baseball are just around the corner. In fact, Don Jesse and his team are pickin' up, leavin' town, and heads south to open up the current baseball season.

The trip will include games with perennially strong George Washington (two games), Georgetown, Catholic University, and powerful Navy. The five-day southern swing, starting next Tuesday, will give Coach Jones and his squad a chance to look over his squad, and attempt to pick his starting nine for 1956.

The brightest spot on the team to date has been the pitching, where two strong-armed juniors are expected to do the bulk of the Bantam hitting.

The advent of Spring vacation finds the intramural race beginning to tighten. In the National League Theta Xi has taken commanding lead with Alpha Delta Phi the only close contender.

The American League is still dominated by Alpha Chi Rho but Delta Phi is threatening. This is not counting the ping-pong tournament and some tennis matches which have still to be played.

Psi U's victory came on Tim Holbrook outdistanced Bill Ward in a close battle.

Wrestling Results
The following Tuesday the Tripod comprised the Wrestling Trophy after the elimination brackets. There were a great number of entrants this year showing a renewed interest in the sport. The final was held on Friday night. It was a tie for first place between Psi U and New Dorm B with 10 points apiece.

In the 137 pound class Nelson White of Brownell was the victor for the second year in a 90. Ben Williams of Psi U also repeated his last year's triumph at 147 outdistancing fresh Hove LeGarde. John Norris of Delta Phi took the 157 title and Steve Thomsberg of Epsilon outdistanced Bill Wender of AD at 167. Giving away 25 pounds diminutive Tim Holbrook of Psi U took the 177 crown by beating Bill Lukens from New Dorm B. Fresh Bob Smith fought a tremendous battle with Dave Clark of Crow and eventually was able to pin his opponent for the 187 laurels. Bob Baker of Delta Phi beat Hank Williams of AD in the Unlimited class in the final match. The eventual winner of the Trophy may be decided in a playoff between Psi Upsilon and the Freshmen.

College Delegation is Active In Two-Day Mock Convention

The 1964 legislative session of the Connecticut Intercollegiate Student Legislature, held Friday and Saturday, March 16 and 17 at the State Capitol, was an outstanding one for the Trinity delegation.

Friday morning Franklin Kury, Sr., lost a disputed election for Majority Leader of the House of Representatives to Miss Allyn Hartman, a New Britain State Teachers College senior, by a vote of 117 to 116. The dispute arose when the Speaker of the House, Miss Patricia Benny of St. Joseph’s College, cast her ballot; having cast it after the ballots were in, a quick-thinking Representative from New Britain challenged it and consequently the vote, which was for Kury, was disqualified. Recognizing her mistake in voting after the other ballots were collected, the Speaker announced Miss Hartman the winner.

At this point Martin Stearns and Thomas Fenton of Trinity led a quick floor fight for a new election, but to no avail. A two-thirds vote being needed for a new ballot, and after Hartman, Kury conceded the election. Just previous to this, Miss Benny was unanimously elected Speaker of the House when her opponent, Barry Pass- sekt of Wesleyan, withdrew from the election because of laryngitis. But because the defeated candidate for Speaker of the House is automatically the Minority Leader of the House, the large attendance proved to be a political break for Kury. The beer Wun was crying in belonged to a calculus prof from the local University of Treaties.

Wild Rookie Finds Presidential Target

President Albert C. Jacobs was pelted by a Freshman-thrown snowball last Saturday morning as he and Provost Director John Belden were walking from Williamia Memorial to their offices in the Gym. The two college administrators had just passed through a group of about twenty-five students, several of whom had been trading snowballs with the Freshmen. Dr. Jacobs passed through the group and stepped out past them just in time to connect with a snowball on the side of his head, in the region of the ear.

The poor Freshman had unwittingly struck President Jacobs. As the Silver did a fast disappearing act, the only person on the scene was Dr. Jacobs, who blandly swept the snow from his ear, and proceeded to his yellow-topped desk in the Cave. The penalty reappeared later and apologized profusely to the President.

The Senate, because of the limited time, decided to kill all bills, and no attempt was made to have them reported out of committee. Also there was no effort made to have any bills and raising points of parlia-

The Interfraternity Conference is a voluntary organization of collegiate fraternities which holds the good name of America’s fraternities as a whole.

Many months ago . . . around 600 B.C., . . . there was a barkeep named Dunn Wun in a little bistro off Times Square in Shanghai. Now this character’s cashbox was loaded with loot, as Wun served up the greatest brew that side of the Yangtze.‘

So the prof nickahawed home and took a bath, Snoop he was heard to shout, “Eureka!” (in Chinese, of course). He had solved the problem by inventing the abacus.

Next day he brought in a counting gismo rows of bamboo and cranberries. With this mechanical brain, Wun was able to introduce the time-payment plan, because one day a patron and Wun did this bit across the mountains.

“I have a yen for two cold ones to go,” said the customer.

“Sorry, friend, we don’t accept Japanese currency,” Wun barked.

“I’m flat, out,” came the reply, “got a suggestion?”

Whereupon Wun played a few fast notes on his abacus, figured the terms of a loan for a man and said, “Horo one and carry two” . . . two terms still used in modern mathematics.

So you can see that’s how Wun got a charge out of his abacus.
