NSA Prexy Farabee Will Visit Campus

The appointment of Albert E. Holl-land as Vice-President of the College was announced today by President Albert C. Jacob. In his new role, Mr. Holl-and will supervise and coordinate the work of the Academic, Alumni Relations and Development Divisions.

In announcing the appointment, Dr. Jacob said, "There is a close relationship among these three departments and the College, and Mr. Holl-and, who at one time was a resident of Dallas, will be a valuable addition to the faculty as a whole. He is well known for his ability to coordinate the operations for more effective service to the College.

Mr. Holl-and, 34, graduated with honors in history and modern languages from Princeton in 1935 and is currently a international investment banker. He has written the first survey of the financial history of the United States and the history of the Federal Reserve System. He is the author of two recent books on the history of the United States and the Federal Reserve System.

Five Elected to Phi Beta Kappa

Dr. Knox to Give Moore Lecture

The American Association of Colleges and University Leaders is pleased to announce the election of five new members to the Phi Beta Kappa Society. The five new members are:

- Albert E. Holland, Trinity College
- Robert W. Buck, Harvard University
- Edward H. Mitchell, Stanford University
- Richard M. Morse, Duke University
- David A. Temple, University of Texas

The selection of these five individuals was based on their outstanding academic achievements and contributions to the field of education.

Dance to Start IFIC Weekend Activities; Also Stunts, Parties

A dance is scheduled to kick off the IFIC weekend at 7 p.m. on Saturday, February 22. The dance will be held in the Student Center and is open to all members of the College community. Tickets are available at the Student Center for $2 each. The dance will feature live music by the College Band and will conclude with a midnight snack.

Off-Campus Rushing OK'd for Week-ends

The College has approved the use of off-campus rush parties for the upcoming weekend. The purpose of the off-campus rush is to provide additional opportunities for students to socialize and make new friends. The College encourages students to use this opportunity responsibly and to follow all College policies and procedures.

Campus Chest Drive for $9000

The annual Campus Chest Drive will begin next Monday, December 2, and end with a gala evening of entertainment on Thursday. The goal of the campaign is $9000. Four organizations will benefit from the results of the drive: The College, the Student Hospital Ward, the United States, and the Hartford Association for Retarded Children.

The College has set a goal of $1,400, which is the total cost of the program. The College is asking all students to participate in the Chest Drive.

The Hartford Association for Retarded Children, which is working with the College, is responsible for the administration of the Chest Drive.

The United States has set a goal of $1,000, which is the total cost of the program. The United States is asking all students to participate in the Chest Drive.

The Student Hospital Ward has set a goal of $500, which is the total cost of the program. The Student Hospital Ward is asking all students to participate in the Chest Drive.

The Hartford Association for Retarded Children has set a goal of $400, which is the total cost of the program. The Hartford Association for Retarded Children is asking all students to participate in the Chest Drive.
OFF THE BEAM

Twice in recent weeks the Tripod has taken the stand that local fraternity chapters should have the right to choose their members independent of outside pressure. We have coined this phrase to express our conviction to make clear its position with regard to this question.

The remarks have not been made for the cheaply journalistic purpose of stirring up controversy where none existed already, but because we have felt that this view, in addition to representing that of many thinking students, is the only viewpoint that has the broadest and most prospective pledges.

Neither does it mean that there is an arbitrary and highly-minded fashion, has joined the National Inter¬ fraternity Council and thus tacitly committed The issues, in so far as they are to be joined, are more for discrimination and exclusion. The NPC’s re—sponse to the question of the Tripod, is that the Times, that seems to appear on page three.

The Tripod strenuously objects to the NPC’s having joined the National Inter¬ fraternity Council. It dealt with a concept too seldom men¬ tioned on this campus, the personal charac—ter of individuals, which I believe is the real culprit behind the “student apathy” here.

Unfortunately, there are far too many moral cowards at Trinity who run from the hard facts of life that the things that are really worth something are not always easy to come by. They, therefore, are inclined to look for a ready-made hero at those who have devoted themselves to a worthwhile, but unpopular, cause. We are all too willing to accept the easy way out in the style of our generation, and of those who are ready to receive it. This is a direct attack on the whole of the American scene.

The “enlightened ones”, sit around the college book store I found the paltry sum of $3.31. The present interna—tional crisis vividly proves what we have always thought: Pride is the common loyalty and mutual trust among the members of our community. This atmosphere is the clue to the strong and enduring affection for the College which is so quickly taken or lost by all who come here for the first time. It also explains why so many of our alumni, faculty, students, and friends have been eager to put the welfare of the College ahead of im—mediate personal gain.

In the representation, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de¬ fense of which we can be proud.

It is an apathy that, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

To the Editor:

Although the “brain-washing” report played in the chemistry auditorium a week ago Mon¬ day, only a few in Kenan, and bidding—

Traditionally, our schools and colleges are designed to educate the individual and to prepare him for the work of the world. The war has not changed this, and the threat of war should not cause us to neglect the fundamental principles of education.

 fjordy fingers, belong to this group—once fashionistas—well at least, maybe the running, maybe the running, of the jocks aren’t as smart as might be desired or as “shrewd” either, but at least they’re trying to do something. As long as the jocks are allowed to persevere when the training gets tough—just as the rest of us are allowed to persevere—there really are no “jocks”. They, like the others, are trying to find their way out of the college. They, like the others, are trying to find their way out of the college.

The “enlightened ones”, sit around the college book store and they find that they can always come back. It is up to us to help them learn, to teach them, to show them how to use their talents for a purpose other than just getting through college. By the time they graduate, they should be ready to contribute to society, to their own lives, and to the lives of others.

The present international crisis vividly proves what we have always thought: Pride is the common loyalty and mutual trust among the members of our community. This atmosphere is the clue to the strong and enduring affection for the College which is so quickly taken or lost by all who come here for the first time. It also explains why so many of our alumni, faculty, students, and friends have been eager to put the welfare of the College ahead of im—mediate personal gain.

In the representation, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

It is an apathy that, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

To the Editor:

Although the “brain-washing” report played in the chemistry auditorium a week ago Mon¬

day, only a few in Kenan, and bidding—

Traditionally, our schools and colleges are designed to educate the individual and to prepare him for the work of the world. The war has not changed this, and the threat of war should not cause us to neglect the fundamental principles of education.

 fjordy fingers, belong to this group—once fashionistas—well at least, maybe the running, maybe the running, of the jocks aren’t as smart as might be desired or as “shrewd” either, but at least they’re trying to do something. As long as the jocks are allowed to persevere when the training gets tough—just as the rest of us are allowed to persevere—there really are no “jocks”. They, like the others, are trying to find their way out of the college. They, like the others, are trying to find their way out of the college.

The “enlightened ones”, sit around the college book store and they find that they can always come back. It is up to us to help them learn, to teach them, to show them how to use their talents for a purpose other than just getting through college. By the time they graduate, they should be ready to contribute to society, to their own lives, and to the lives of others.

The present international crisis vividly proves what we have always thought: Pride is the common loyalty and mutual trust among the members of our community. This atmosphere is the clue to the strong and enduring affection for the College which is so quickly taken or lost by all who come here for the first time. It also explains why so many of our alumni, faculty, students, and friends have been eager to put the welfare of the College ahead of im—mediate personal gain.

In the representation, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

It is an apathy that, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

To the Editor:

Although the “brain-washing” report played in the chemistry auditorium a week ago Mon¬

day, only a few in Kenan, and bidding—

Traditionally, our schools and colleges are designed to educate the individual and to prepare him for the work of the world. The war has not changed this, and the threat of war should not cause us to neglect the fundamental principles of education.

 fjordy fingers, belong to this group—once fashionistas—well at least, maybe the running, maybe the running, of the jocks aren’t as smart as might be desired or as “shrewd” either, but at least they’re trying to do something. As long as the jocks are allowed to persevere when the training gets tough—just as the rest of us are allowed to persevere—there really are no “jocks”. They, like the others, are trying to find their way out of the college. They, like the others, are trying to find their way out of the college.

The “enlightened ones”, sit around the college book store and they find that they can always come back. It is up to us to help them learn, to teach them, to show them how to use their talents for a purpose other than just getting through college. By the time they graduate, they should be ready to contribute to society, to their own lives, and to the lives of others.

The present international crisis vividly proves what we have always thought: Pride is the common loyalty and mutual trust among the members of our community. This atmosphere is the clue to the strong and enduring affection for the College which is so quickly taken or lost by all who come here for the first time. It also explains why so many of our alumni, faculty, students, and friends have been eager to put the welfare of the College ahead of im—mediate personal gain.

In the representation, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

It is an apathy that, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

To the Editor:

Although the “brain-washing” report played in the chemistry auditorium a week ago Mon¬

day, only a few in Kenan, and bidding—

Traditionally, our schools and colleges are designed to educate the individual and to prepare him for the work of the world. The war has not changed this, and the threat of war should not cause us to neglect the fundamental principles of education.

 fjordy fingers, belong to this group—once fashionistas—well at least, maybe the running, maybe the running, of the jocks aren’t as smart as might be desired or as “shrewd” either, but at least they’re trying to do something. As long as the jocks are allowed to persevere when the training gets tough—just as the rest of us are allowed to persevere—there really are no “jocks”. They, like the others, are trying to find their way out of the college. They, like the others, are trying to find their way out of the college.

The “enlightened ones”, sit around the college book store and they find that they can always come back. It is up to us to help them learn, to teach them, to show them how to use their talents for a purpose other than just getting through college. By the time they graduate, they should be ready to contribute to society, to their own lives, and to the lives of others.

The present international crisis vividly proves what we have always thought: Pride is the common loyalty and mutual trust among the members of our community. This atmosphere is the clue to the strong and enduring affection for the College which is so quickly taken or lost by all who come here for the first time. It also explains why so many of our alumni, faculty, students, and friends have been eager to put the welfare of the College ahead of im—mediate personal gain.

In the representation, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

It is an apathy that, in nourishing this spirit of mutual con—fidence, Trinity has also been fostering the one kind of de—fense of which we can be proud.

The World Seen as Organic Systems, Thesis by Harris

At a recent meeting of the Philosophy Club, Professor Errol E. Harris, of the faculty of Connecticut College presented a paper on "Total Systems Explanation." The lecture, presented by the club in conjunction with the Committee on Lectures and Entertainment, was also the occasion for a recognition of Dr. Blanchard Meudt's twenty-fifth year as a member of the Trinity faculty.

In his paper, Professor Harris reviewed the familiar definitions of teleology as they have been stated in Humean and Cartesian terminology, the differences in these definitions are usually resolved. The two criterions that have always been leveled against "teleological" of facts and events in terms of the end or purpose towards which they are aimed are: (1) that cause or operation of an event cannot be directly from the end because "cause" is a present condition of a future event, and (2) that all events cannot be given complete physical-chemical explanations (presumably at some future time if not currently). These criticisms, said Professor Harris, are based on the mis-conception that he states, this point is derived from the end. Actually, the very origin of the use of purposive activity is the final or consummatory state is imminent to the meaning of teleological explanation (Continued on page 6)

Four Debaters Begin Series

The Athenaeum Society inaugurated its "Age of Danger" series of debates on Tuesday, November 19. The topic was "Resolved: the United States should disarm the testing of nuclear weapons."

The first speaker for the affirmative was Robert P. Kingbury, assistant professor of physics. Dr. Kingbury asserted that existing testing should not be abolished by international agreement. The United Nations, he added, could have knowledge of any tests without entering the country where tests took place.

Three Reasons: chief reasons why the abolishment of testing was necessary. First, nuclear war is unthinkable in view of the obviously dire consequences it would bring. Secondly, the United States must formulate a foreign policy that is positive and not build only arduous defensive weapons. Thirdly, there is a health hazard resulting from the fallout of radioactive particles after nuclear tests. The increase in radioactivity increases chances of mutation, and the amount ninety produces irritation which in turn produces leukemia.

The speaker for the negative was Major Ralph W. McFerrin, Associate Professor of Air Science, USAF. The major argued that Russia's primary goal is to keep the world of the United States is to resist Russian domination, he said, it must maintain its position of military strength, a position which can be better than any other by the United States should abandon testing and take the gamble that Russia would not attack us. This country (Continued on page 6)

The Trinity Tripod

December 4, 1957

National IFC Report Upholds Restrictive Clause Privilege

The National Interfraternity Council approved unanimously a special executive committee report recommending restrictive membership practices of fraternities.

The sixty-one national and international fraternities, through their delegate to the annual conference here, instructed the executive committee to carry out recommendations of the report.

The report charged there had been a concerted effort to force college fraternities to remove restrictive racial and religious clauses from member- ship requirements.

The executive committee was instr ucted to circulate the report to fraternity chapters and alumni and encourage fraternity representatives to contact college officials and legis lators personally to persuade them that "each college fraternity is a social organization, voluntary in mem­ bership, and is entitled to exercise its fundamental American right to choose its members in accordance with its own standards."

"Choosing of one's own friends and associates is a social right which can't be confused with civil rights," the report said.

"Planned Move" is Cited

The report declared the effort to force college fraternities to remove restrictive racial and religious clauses "to reduce Greek-letter societies to a position of impotence, if not to elimi­ nate it."

Representatives of sixty-one frater­ nities are at the conference.

The report from the Committee on Autonomy of the Organization said there was present agitation in more than fifty colleges against the clauses. Opponents of the restrictions des cribed them as racial and religious discrimination.

In its instances deadlines have been set ordering fraternities to aban­ don the clauses or cease functioning as campuses.

Herbert L. Brown of Philadelphia, a member of Phi Sigma Kappa, was

(Continued on page 6)
The ST-56 version of the Trinity basketworkers has every reason to expect a vast improvement over last year's disappointment.

Tall Freshmen In First Weekend

By W. O. WAGGONER

Coach Bob Schults' freshman squad, one of the tallest in many years, has the appearance of a team which could go far. The average height for the 17 players exceeds 6'2", with the rangiest of the young trees, tall and lithe, stretching at least a foot taller than many of the neighborhood kids.

High school experience is not lacking, and with the boys hustling the outdoor soccer in the hope that they would win some games," states Mr. Schults, "but I won't pretend that that experience comes through, we should have a pretty good season."

M. L. G. will provide the team's first challenge next Saturday, with aUows to face a second team against them.

Crow Gains I-M Football Honors; Volleyball Now!

By BRY LEVINE

Crow, A.D., Delta Phi, Psi U, Sigma Nu, and Deke — such was the final order of the top four at the 1957 edition of Trin intramural football.

In the final playoff Crow edged A.D., D. Phi outsprinted the Psi U, and Sigma Nu took home the axe against Deke.

Omnipotent Change

Crow got off to a crouching lead in the intramural competition by claiming the league's football championship. After completing an undefeated season, scored a win over Deke, who lost once against the '57 champions.

Sigma Nu slugged through a victory over Delta Phi in the final round of play, and the team is playing against the fourth position.

Smoky Returns

Finishing in 6th place was Bill Smith, co-captain of the Hilltopper's 26 track team and winner of the 56 MVP award in track. Smith comes up from Virginia every year for the race to prove that old runners never die.

Sigma Nu Takes Fifth

Sigma Nu slugged through to a victory over Delta Phi in the I-M giant step over their past records. The team is playing against the fourth position.

Harrisers Conclude Fine Year's Showing With Seventh Place

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This week the columns is turned over to basketball rep

By W. O. WAGGONER

Season over the next with McWilliams, who has every reason to expect a vast improvement over last year's disappointment.

Tall Freshmen In First Weekend

By W. O. WAGGONER

Coach Bob Schults' freshman squad, one of the tallest in many years, has the appearance of a team which could go far. The average height for the 17 players exceeds 6'2", with the rangiest of the young trees, tall and lithe, stretching at least a foot taller than many of the neighborhood kids.

High school experience is not lacking, and with the boys hustling the outdoor soccer in the hope that they would win some games," states Mr. Schults, "but I won't pretend that that experience comes through, we should have a pretty good season."

M. L. G. will provide the team's first challenge next Saturday, with aUows to face a second team against them.

Crow Gains I-M Football Honors; Volleyball Now!

By BRY LEVINE

Crow, A.D., Delta Phi, Psi U, Sigma Nu, and Deke — such was the final order of the top four at the 1957 edition of Trin intramural football.

In the final playoff Crow edged A.D., D. Phi outsprinted the Psi U, and Sigma Nu took home the axe against Deke.

Omnipotent Change

Crow got off to a crouching lead in the intramural competition by claiming the league's football championship. After completing an undefeated season, scored a win over Deke, who lost once against the '57 champions.

Sigma Nu slugged through a victory over Delta Phi in the final round of play, and the team is playing against the fourth position.

Smoky Returns

Finishing in 6th place was Bill Smith, co-captain of the Hilltopper's 26 track team and winner of the 56 MVP award in track. Smith comes up from Virginia every year for the race to prove that old runners never die.

Sigma Nu Takes Fifth

Sigma Nu slugged through to a victory over Delta Phi in the I-M giant step over their past records. The team is playing against the fourth position.

Harrisers Conclude Fine Year's Showing With Seventh Place

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This week the columns is turned over to basketball rep

By W. O. WAGGONER

Season over the next with McWilliams, who has every reason to expect a vast improvement over last year's disappointment.
Fall Sportsmen Honored: Ilick Receives Blanket

By BILL KURIT

The naming of John Kennedy and Curt Brown to lead next year's football team, and 1958 soccer co-captains, Bill Luken and Jon Widing, highlighted in Hamlin Hall November 25. This year's grid captain Dick Noble received the traditional gold football award for earning three varsity letters, as did soccer captain Art Poitras, in recognition of his three monograms. Art also won the Peter Fish Trophy, given to the "most valuable player" on the soccer squad.

The Harold E. Shorter Award, which is presented annually to the "most improved soccer player", was presented to gold soccer ball winner, Gary Bogli.

Gold Soccer Balls Awarded

Flex Ilick was awarded the coveted Trinity blanket prize for having given by jewelr Bill Savitt, were another recipient of the gold soccer trophy, given to the annual fall athletic banquet.

At this early date it is difficult to make even a guess as to the starting team. However, men such as Gay Dove, Mike Kauff, Frank Morse, Neil Nichols, and Pete Lue will be prominent members of the squad.

Hockey Team Gathered With Tentative Slate

Despite the lack of a rink on the campus for practice sessions as well as games, as informal hockey teams being formed and has a tentative schedule of four games. The club's present plans include weekly practices at either the Loomis or Choate rinks. Approximately twenty students have expressed an interest in playing hockey, despite the added handicap of being non-coach. Though most plans remain in the formulative stage, a tentative schedule includes games with Choate, Taft, Hotchkiss, and the Pratt & Whitney Engineers.

An All-Star M Team Picked

By SANDY BREEDINE

In balloting this week an all intramural football team was selected. The 13-man team, placed first taking four slots in the National League lineup. Tied for second were D. Phi taking three slots in the National League, and Sigma Xi and A.D. both naming three in the American League.

The lineup for the National League are as follows:

Echo: Curt Young, Deke John Trott, A.X.P.
Guards: Joe Castillo, A.X.P. Gordon Chipman, D. Phi Center: Joe Biddle, Deke Buck.

The lineup for the American League are as follows:

Echo: John Murray, S.N.
Guards: Jerry Newton, S.N. Chuck Esler, Psi U Center: Ken Rowan, B.Ball.
Backs: George Graham, A.D. George Black, A.D. Al McNair, A.D. Jack McGowan, S.N.

Tankers Open Against Tufts

By JIM GIBBS

The 1957 edition of the Trin swimming team will gamble for the first time this Saturday as they face Tufts at Medford. If last year's score is any indication of the outcome, the Trinmen should easily outdistance the Jumbo squad. Last season's meet found the Blu and Gold decorators coming out on top in the time of 81-94, after a runaway victory every event. This year, strengthened by sophomore, the team should do even better.

Coach Robert Slaughter warned against a repeat of the surprising Tufts meet of 1955, when the Jumbos came up with a completely unexpected strong and talented squad. Few threats loom large in this first meet, however.

Jumbo Strength

The lineup may be modified until late in the week, but at this writing several prospects seem likely. Saturday should find Bob Morgan, George Black, and co-captain Larry Muehle starring in the freestyle sprint and distance events. Strong opposition in this category will come from senior Bill McCall, of Tufts, and juniors Pete Pool and Ed Holdsworth. Milligan, owing a fast 1:36.5 in the 100-yard freestyle, poses a particular threat in this event.

Protecting the butterfly and backstroke departments for the Blu and Gold will be John Friedman, George Backman, Bill Mannion, Bob Adams, and Chuck Esler. Jim O'Reilly should take five points in the 200 breaststroke. Covering the Trin-diving department will be Bob Weinstock, and Jack Flynn.

STUDENTS! MAKE $25

Do you like to shirk work? Here's some easy money—stickling! We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we print. And your friends will never get used. Sticklers are simple riddles with amusing, nonsensical words—just the type of thing students like. Don't do drawings. Send your Sticklers with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-89, Lucky, Box AT, Mt. Vernon, N.Y.
History of Glee Club Reveals Impressive Record of Programs

The Trinity Glee Club has become widely known for its performances throughout the nation and has been one of the leading small college choral groups. The club is based in the New York metropolitan area.

One of the earliest college glee clubs in the United States was the George Washington University Glee Club, which was formed in 1850. Since then, the club has been the center of musical life at George Washington University.

The Glee Club has participated in numerous competitions, both national and international. The club has been invited to perform at the White House and has appeared at the United Nations.

In addition to its musical performances, the Glee Club has also been involved in charitable projects, such as raising money for the United Nations Association.

The Glee Club has a long and rich history, and its legacy lives on through its continued success and prestige.

David Webster Speaks to IRC

David Webster, the Glee Club's director, was the guest speaker at the Intercollegiate Republican Club meeting. Webster discussed the role of the Glee Club in the community and the importance of civic engagement.

Webster emphasized the role of the Glee Club in promoting unity and bringing people together. The club's performances, he said, are a way to bring people from different backgrounds together and to celebrate the diversity of the community.

The Intercollegiate Republican Club meeting was held on campus, and a large number of students attended. The discussion was lively and engaging, and Webster was well-received by the audience.