New Fund Will Sponsor Freshmen

Trinity College has received a grant of $50,000 from the George F. Baker Trust of New York to establish the "George F. Baker Scholarships." This was announced by President Albert C. Jacobs, Jr., Trinity's Annual Banquet and Industry Dinner Monday evening. Nearly 200 business leaders in the Greater Hartford Community attended the dinner.

Details of the scholarship program at Trinity will be to encourage outstanding young men to consider the profession of a career in the field of business.

Applications for aid are being awarded initially, prior to the newly-constituted and alert Financial Aid Committees of the College.

The first group of recipients each year will be made by a committee of Trustees of the College consisting of Henry S. Beaz, D. President of the Arts Life Affiliation Committee; and the President of the Board of Arrows-Hart & Hegeman Electric Company and G. K. R. Harkness, Jr., President of the New York Stock Exchange.

This committee, in evaluating an applicant for the grant, will consider the following major qualifications:
- The applicant must possess high qualities of character and motivation, and be able to meet the rigorous scholastic requirements of Trinity College.
- The Baker Trust was established by the late George F. Baker, Jr., former National Bank of the City of New York. During the last 12 years the Baker Trust has provided funds to support general activities at 15 liberal arts colleges throughout the country. The grant to Trinity, however, represents a new extension of its financial aid.
- For the first time the funds will be used to stimulate a new kind of campus activity. Mr. John F. Butler, Trinity's director of placement, will act as the principal sponsor and the George F. Baker Scholars.

Dean Kelsey Takes New Job

Dean Heves Kelsey of West Hartford, who has been named assistant comptroller of Trinity College, was announced by President Jacobs. Mr. Kelsey became associated with the College office in August of this year. In the new appointment of an assistant comptroller he succeeds the late Ernst W. Ehrlich.

Dean Kelsey was comptroller of Miss Hill's School for Girls in Bryn Mawr, Pa., and prior to his association with the Chicago Pacific Business College, a company, a division of Johnson and Johnson of New Brunswick, N. J., and the American Service of New York.

Born in New York City, Mr. Kelsey attended High School, Yonkers, N. Y., and Oberlin College, receiving his B.A. degree in economics in 1921. He did graduate work at New York University and Rutgers University. He served in the U.S. Navy from 1942 through Feb., 1946.

Frost Orientation Begins

"Trinity & Your Liberal Arts Opportunity" is the theme of the Student-conducted Frost orientation program being inaugurated this fall. The program is the progeny of two productive agencies recently merged - the newly-constituted and alert Trinity Senate and Trinity's NSA Pilot Project "Student Responsibility." These agencies are the special product of the College's "Student Responsibility" for obtaining the "possible goals of Liberal Arts Education and Self-Achievement of Them." Prospective students, however, will be to encourage outstanding young men to consider the profession of a career in the field of business.

As explained by President Schaeble and Senator Jacobs, the above two objectives will be sought in each program. The first program was the Summer Study Suggestions Book List, which was mailed out early in the summer.

Summer Reading

As explained by President Schaeble and Senator Jacobs, the above two objectives will be sought in each program. The first program was the Summer Study Suggestions Book List, which was mailed out early in the summer.

The fall agenda was outlined as follows:

CHAPEL
Sunday, October 5
8:30-Holy Communion
11:00-Services of the symphony in the liturgy.
1:00-The College Service.

With a dreary rain inundating the campus Saturday morning, Trin's football team must have forgotten to look at the day's play in the paper. The local chronicle promised that the veteran Williams contingent would take the Antama measure by the nose. The paper went to press Saturday night, the Williams "provocateur" was lost among the headlines devoted to Rom Reopel's bad equally outstanding committees knock out people by a solid 12-0 count. Reopel was the outstanding passer, but the continuous powerhouse failed to give him much of a chance to unkeep his throwing arm. His choice of plays and wonder arm was too strong for the College to top with his outstanding punting and his work backing up the right side of the line.

Rom Reopel does not stand alone by any means, it was a team effort. Certain names were on people's tongues and in the writers of the game become the heroes of the running plays. Other, like guards Phil Rubin and Tom Bovee, did everything that was asked of them. These two sophomores, in particular, were the best, and at the same time prevented Williams from going anywhere.

What turned out to be the margin of victory was produced before the initial paces. The 34 points which the Trin undergraduates still hadn't been able to talk their dans into counting in the rain and had missed Bob Johnson going inside the end zone for the score. Wyckoff's extra-point attempt failed, however, and the safety of the win in a Williams score.

Jesters to Perform Hecht-MacArthur's "Front Page"

For its fall production, The Jesters has chosen a roaring newspaper melodrama from the twenties, THE FRONT PAGE by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur. Five performances are planned for home-coming weekend. Director Nicholas stated that he was very pleased with the cast and the script, and especially impressed by the large number of colored freshmen who read for the play. He said, "This try-out is particularly gratifying to me, for it looks like the future of the play is going to be a bright one. It is an assurance given me of hope that a larger program can be undertaken at the end of the year."

"Aisle Say," Entertainment Column Begun as Feature

By BILL KIRZT

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following column will be a weekly feature of the Tripod. Criticism and suggestions from our readers will be welcome. Movie, photo, concert, musical—anything entertaining will be fair game for our columnists.

ThezMike Kaye and the new Hartford Herald's entertain ment scene this week at L'il Abner and Daisy May open downtown.

L'il Abner

Fresh from two years on Broadway, L'il Abner moves into the Bushnell Auditorium tomorrow. W. Gazaway, Ed Adams, and Peter Palmer all engaged in other pursuits, an untested road cast in the face of show's success. Mike Verso, who recently left the cast of New Girl in Town, is making his Broadway debut. As he created on Broadway, I confess that Tab Hunter is not Stephen Douglas last, but Warner Broth ers apparently feels that anyone can do the job. Valerie Ravenna, Panama and Johnny Mame are mainly responsible for the impression of the show. Dennis O'Keefe and Scott Sund, outstanding songs include "Jubilation P. Concor de," and "In a Hour," and "Progress is the Root of All Evil."

The show runs through Saturday and looks to be a good entertainment bet if the cast is good. The Bushnell ticket office reports that tickets are selling slowly, so you can postpone your decision until the 8:30 cut. There's also a 2:30 matinee on Saturday, which is your interested.

Bridge Sees Still Keener Competition in Future

Mr. Bridge reported today that over 1300 young men completed applications for admission with the Class of 1962. Of these, 826 were enrolled. This compares with about 1200 who applied, and 675 who became members of the freshman class.

Mr. Bridge said that in the next ten or 15 years competition, which is going to become even sharper than it now, will be due mainly to the birth-rate boom which started during the war years.

And, he said, "although many colleges have expanded in the past, are expanding now, we will do so in the future, to handle the increased numbers, many of the private colleges, such as Trinity, are not in a position to expand significantly.

"Consequently, the competition for the limited openings in rather fixed places has become much more keen, and it will continue to be keen in the colleges that select those students who appear to be best qualified for three reasons." Mr. Bridge then ticked off the following criteria as necessary for today's college student: Good motivation and rational aptitude; insatiable nature; a love of reading and of the learning process; alert perceptions; well disciplined habits of study; good potential for future growth; integrity and sound principles; and varied, unusual, and stimulating interests.

Parking Regulations

Registration

1. Resident students having a car at the College and non-resident students who drive their own or family cars to college are required to file the registration number with the Department of Buildings and Grounds within one week of following registration date in the Fall, and thereafter to operate a motor vehicle on College property. In the case of a minor, he must state that permission to operate it has been granted by his parent or guardian.

2. A metal identification tag, to be attached to the rear license plate will be provided for a small fee, refundable upon return of the tag.

Shults Finds Self-Mobbed At Frosh Soccer Practice

By RICHARD FRANCES

A surprising quantity of talent attended opening practice, sixty-seven to be exact. Since then the squad has been cut to forty-two and finally to thirty men. The competition for positions has been keenly keen and the team’s depth somewhat resembles that of last year’s freshman squad.

Few failed to come back for the second half, but those who did were faced with an outstanding game amidst the steady drizzle. The Ephs held the upper hand, but could not retain the tying score. Neither through the third stanza a long pass from quarterback Gary Higgins found one of the Rourke boys on Trin’s 25. The play of the Ephs in defeat for outstanding that of the highly-touted Chip B. Two ground plays gained negligible yards, and, with third and six, Higgins turned to the air. His pass to end Fanning was incomplete. A fourth down back attempt came short and, Trin took over on downs.

But this turned out to be one of the few moments that Boulard couldn’t get the Bantams going, and he was forced to kick. Williams took possession at midfield, and proceeded to set up their biggest threat of the afternoons. They moved to the Bantams’ 24 on an interference ruling against Wyckoff. The quarter turned the teams around, but failed to stop the Williams drive.

NOW THRU TUESDAY

The remainder of the half centered around defensive play, as neither side could put together more than two first downs or break away for long gains. As the teams headed for the locker and the spectators for Verizon Stadium at the half, the conclusion of the field enforced the character of the first half’s play. The center of the field was deeply marked by the dives of charging Dealers, while the turf near the goalposts remained practically untouched.

...Rourke picked up a first down on the Trin seven, and gave the Purple a shot at picking up a tally. The evening set of downs only mirrored Trin’s defensive play of the entire afternoon. They tried to swing wide with 60, but Wyckoff keyed up from the secondary to throw him for a three yard loss. Rourke was then sent off tackle, but he never got past the Bantams’ forward wall. Upon turning to the air, they failed on a pass to life in the left flank. Fourth down was an unsuccessful pass attempt to the right end in the red zone. Never again did Williams threaten.

After Reepel intercepted a pass at the thirty, he sent Kenney off tackles a first down on the 19. Reepel himself then picked up another first down by breaking to the seven. Another sneak failed, but co-captain John Kenney barreled over from the seven for the clinching touchdown with only four seconds remaining.

Dathmen to Oppose Coasties in Debut; New Sops Impress

Trin’s optimistic newcomers will take the field against the swallows of New London this Saturday with the expectation of a win. Roy Dath, varsity mentor, points out that none of the season’s contests can be described as pushovers. Coast Guard is “all ways in good condition and rough”.

The home boys looked particularly good in their practice encounter with Hilfyer. Thirty-four men saw action, and even the third string held their own in the 4-2 win.

Though prevailing the loss of such front-runners as Patekstein, Presty, Miles, Walworth, and Bagli, the club has talent abounding in the form of Outcalt, McDonough, Luluka, Borgan, Widing, and All-American honorable mention Brea Shna. Also looking good among the veterans are Seifert, Schermer, Jennings, Worthington, Butzolt, Adams, and Forrest. Bill Luluka and Jon Widing will co-captain the squad this year.

A bright spot in the season’s outlook is the promising group of 15 sophomores. Guild, Karvazy, Hubby, and Encrinum are among the stalwart born.

The squad faces particularly tough workouts this week, taping to a home session Friday, in preparation for the 2:00 P.M. encounter at New London.

The goal of this week will be against Tufts, University of Massachusetts, Williams, Union, Worcester, and Amherst, and Wesleyan. Last year’s team registered a 9-7-1 record.

Corinthian Yachtsmen Out to Best Last Year's Success Under LaGrade

After the most successful year in the history of the Trinity Corinthian Yacht Club, the Billinton sailors are looking forward to the start of a new season with two fresh men events and a Varsity Sloop Championship this autumn. It is hoped that the interest in the Yacht Club will be able to equal the one shown last year when Trinity placed eighth in New England last year.

The Corinthian Yachtsmen will participate in a regatta at Brown Saturday and will sail at Tufts Sunday. The Varsity will sail in the Sloop Championship at the Coast Guard Academy on Sunday.

Artistic offerings for the year are Linea LaGrade, Commodore; Stephen Flatley, Vice Commodore; Carington Clark, Secretary-Treasurer; and a new addition, the former manager of the Blue and Gold, John Bishop, is now in the employ of the Franklin and Hammond Bridge. Dr. Box Neumann is faculty advisor.

A Freshman affiliation meeting was held Monday night and there will be another meeting this week. All interested Freshmen are invited to send their names and address to Box 50.

ONCE MORE UNTO THE BREACH

Today begins my fifth year of writing this column, and what an eventful five years it has been! What things have those old eyes not seen, and, oh, how much has rodded the spirit, the anti-protest, for instance, and the anti-smoke, and high-low split, and Brigitte Bardot.

In these five years it has also been discovered that American smokers like two kinds of cigarettes—filter and non-filter. The Philip Morris Company makes both kinds. I mention the Philip Morris Company because the Philip Morris Company, their sponsor.

In my bedroom I have four signs, one on each wall, "PACK" and "FARLBORO-FLIP-TOP." More than ever, give you a lot to like—a brand new improved filter and a wonderful flavor that come breezing right through.

Philip Morris is in charge of program-making. In fact, here refused to put my name on the program for the first time. In my bedroom I have four signs, one on each wall, "PACK" and "FARLBORO-FLIP-TOP." More than ever, give you a lot to like—a brand new improved filter and a wonderful flavor that come breezing right through.

What do you get when you try to produce live shows from the field house chemistry, music, and the chapel, says Jim Haynes. "Live drama, and faculty discussions should be interesting for the half million potential audience within our 25 miles radius."

WRTC Debuts Broadside for Fall With B's & Bop

Station—WRTC-FM, "The Voice of Trinity College," a non-commercial, educational station is commencing its fall schedule of programs with the return of old friends, the anti-smoke, for instance, and the anti-protest, and the anti-smoke, and high-low split, and Brigitte Bardot.

The remodeled cheerleaders perform their capers before the standing crowd. Cheerleaders are afforded better protection from the slamming towers by standing next to someone, closer in some cases than others.

Kissoff time finally arrives. The players jump from their benches, Dan Jones tosses at his characteristic rainfall, and the gathering roars as the Trinity band gets too leather.

_BAND ANETER

...and the rain came!

The football season is here again, and Trinity has welcomed the home half of it with raised umbrellas, see-saw raincoats, colds, and cheers. Those who have rejoiced in the elements to witness the games this past weekend today trudged the Long Walk meandering, sniffing, however optimistically looking toward the future.

Saturday, September 27th is not meant for football. Rainsoaked and appreciative, Richardly swiftly fills most of the stands. Trinity Field has seen the appearance of a tropical rain forest. The well-groomed playing area is a fresh green, and the track oval around the field is already well-flooded. The revamped cheerleaders perform their capers before the standing crowd. Cheerleaders are afforded better protection from the slamming towers by standing next to someone, closer in some cases than others.

Kissoff time finally arrives. The players jump from their benches, Dan Jones tosses at his characteristic rainfall, and the gathering roars as the Trinity band gets too leather.

Not much time passes before the merrilele turf is ripped and raked. Runners continually evade tubbok because of nearly muddy slippers and slippery uniforms. Trinity receives a Williams fund in Purple territory, and a few plays later Johnson bols through the right side of the line for the first score. The cheerleading is merrified because of the rain. ...An early lead was taken last year against the same team, yet lost. ...The extra-point try goes wide of the mark. Trinity leads 6-0.

The rest of the half is grueling as both teams' offenses are stalemated. Taking the fans' thoughts from the game and reminding them of their drenched plight for a minute or two, the cheerleaders lead a merriment of the crowd in a "P-N-U-E-M-O-N-A-I-E" cheer.

Half-time finds most upperclassmen wampering for the Fraternity Houses, seeking the protection of their cars, and fresh finding shelter under hot dog stands.

Play is resumed. The Corinthians continue to stall the Williams machine. This won't be like last year. An Ephemeric invasion is thwarted within the whales' twenty yard line, and those in the stands begin to sense that victory may be within grasp.

In the closing minutes, Trinity scores again. This time Kenny puts the ball across. Bedford breaks loose as victory is now inevitable. The tension is relieved. The extra-point attempt is stopped in a fake-vik-and-run-play. Coach Jones now fills the field with white-shirted reserves. The regulars leave the field, covered with mud from head to toe, but wearing broad grins and shaking the hands of their teammates. This could be a good year. It took long time last season before the first game was won. One can't tell though.

As the final gun goes off the fans stream onto the field. Starting end, Doug Tannell, throws his way to the clubhouse amidst his mate. He is stopped by Williams' big end, Fleming, and congratulated. Tannell seeks, but is too excited and nobbied to do more.

Yes, you can consider yourselves students of the game, and put in your selections in games of the week. One, a Dr. E. Larkinham, picked Army to lose to Santa Clara in a close one last Saturday.

Army won 41-8. The same columnist, whose erector-board numbers are nationally syndicated on Fridays, also made a Williams-Trinity prediction. His choice—Williams by 25 points.

Frosh Football Squad Thin

To use the words of Coach Clet McPhee, the freshman football squad "has a long way to go before developing into a solid team. One of the 29 Men coming out for frosh football, 12 have limited or no experience. To further complicate matters, one of the more experienced players, Dick Cannam, a senior, dropped in after five of varsity action behind him, aggravated an old shoulder injury. Our attention now turns to the sunny side of the gridiron. Certain men have showed up well in the practice of weeks. Inn Bennett has looked good in the quarterback slot. Two guards, Bill Sheldon, Gifford, and end Al Ewell, form the core of the line at this time. John Bishop and Dave Fry are two speedy halfbacks for whom McPhee has high hopes.

The Frosh team open their season on home against Springfield on the Tenth.
